Jury Trial Amendment Is Adopted by Senate

Defendants Arraigned On Monday

Adjournments Asked by Most

Defendants named in indictments which were returned by the April Grand Jury on May 27 were arraigned in County Court Monday afternoon before Judge Francis X. Tucker. Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torraca appeared for the prosecution.

Tucker, who is surrogate of Ulster County, was on the bench, substituting for County Judge Raymond J. Mino. Judge Mino is holding a term of court in Rockland County on the exchange basis that is now being used for judges.

Howard Dawson, Kingston, entered a plea of guilty to illegal possession of a narcotic drug and was given nine months in the county jail with credit for time already served. George Findley appeared for Dawson.

Thought He Was Right

Carlos Juan Llorens of New York entered a plea of guilty to and imposition of sentence was suspended because of the circumstances. Llorens had purchased the gun in Pennsylvania where he had a permit for possession and also a permit from the city of Philadelphia.

Unable to speak English well, he brought the gun to New York State believing he had a right to carry it here. His attorney said he had no intention if using the gun. Because of the technical nature of the crime, Judge Tucker suspended position of any sentence. The act allegedly took place on March 29.

Adjourned To June 29

Michael John Amato and Anthony Salvatore Fiordilino, who were indicted for attempted burglary, third degree, and attempted unlawful entry at the College Inn, New Paltz, entered pleas of innocent and their case was adjourned to June 29 at 2 p. m. for motions. Charles Saccoman appeared for defendants. Bail was continued.

Carl William Polick, 22, of Wawarsing who was charged with third degree burglary, petit larceny and unlawful entry on April 9, had his case adjourned to June 11 at 1 p. m. in order to secure counsel. A plea of not guilty was entered.

Kaminsky Case June 29

Frank Julius Kaminsky of Newburgh, charged with sale of pornographic material, had his case adjourned to June 29 at 2 p. m. It is alleged he sold film at a Town of Esopus super-market parking lot to an official who had been investigating the case and was promptly arrested after the sale had been made. Charles Saccoman was assigned as counsel.

Virginia Gertrude Hammock, charged with second degree assault on one Robert Stokes in the Town of Esopus on April 26, entered a plea of innocent and

8 Die as Montana's Floods Breach Dams

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—Floods described as the worst in memory swept out of Montana's northwestern mountains Monday, killing at least eight persons, sweeping away dams and bridges and leaving hundreds of residents isolated. Rain pelted the area for the fifth straight day.

Authorities said the death toll included five members of one Blackfeet Indian family.

Motorists Missing

A girl was reported drowned in Valier, on the Indian reservation, and two motorists were missing after their vehicles plunged into raging streams.

Col. Howard McKinney of the Montana National Guard said the floods were the greatest natural disaster the state has ever suffered.

Rescue workers were blocked in many places by washed-out bridges and long stretches of inundated highway. At least 20 bridges and four earthen dams were carried away by the pounding water.

Hit by Surprise

With a sling and hoist, Air Force medics lifted seven persons from perches ranging from tree limbs to roof tops. An Air Force spokesman said one man was taken from a roof just as it started to go under water.

Four Dams Burst

Dams burst near Choteau, Browning, Dupuyer and East Glacier sending walls of water up to 30 feet high over the sparsely populated area.

Col. McKinney set up a rescue operations center in Helena, the state capital, after acting Gov. Dave Manning declared the floods a state emergency. Gov. Tim Babcock was in Cleveland at the National Governors Conference.

In hard-hit Choteau, all 2,000 residents left their homes to seek shelter overnight in a church and country club on higher ground.

Nearly 1,000 persons were housin in emergency accommodations in Great Falls.

Typhoid vaccine was dispatched to a number of cities where community drinking water was polluted by floodwaters. The dams that broke at Choteau and East Glacier held city water supplies.

Jim Farrar of Shelby watched 15 horses hurled into a ravine by the torrent. Moments later it caught a herd of cattle and churned them under.

West of Browning, on the Blackfeet Reservation, a dam on Two Medicine Creek burst and water cascaded over Indian dwellings. Five members of a family named Grant were missing.

Family Swept Away

A policeman in Browning said witnesses saw the family swept away in a surge of water as they tried to clamber onto a pickup truck. The family included an elderly woman. The truck and bodies were not recovered.

The main floods were on the Sun River, rising in mountains west of Great Falls, and on the Marias River, with tributaries in Glacier National Park.

U.S. Is Cleared By Jurists of Canal Charges

GENEVA (AP) — The International Commission of Jurists today cleared the United States of Panamanian charges that American troops and police violated human rights in the bloody Panama Canal Zone riots last January.

Some Excessive Force

The commission found, however, that excessive force may have been used to put down the rioting and to stop sniping from the Panamanian side of the border.

The commission also criticized Panamanian authorities for failing to curb the rioters and snipers and for doing nothing against inflammmatory broadcasts at the height of the crisis.

Twenty-two persons, including three American soldiers, were killed. About 325 others were injured during the incidents Jan. 9-12. Panamanian crowds, enraged in a dispute about the flying of the Panamanian flag in the Caanl Zone, burned down several buildings and wrecked cars, shops and other American property.

The commission, a private organization of lawyers, judges and law professors throughout the non-Communist world, was asked by the National Bar Association of Panama to investigate whether the gunfire of U.S. police and soldiers against the rioters was a violation of the universal declaration of human rights.

Ellenville to Vote On School Budget, 2 Hearings Set

The controversial proposed 1964-65 budget of Ellenville Central School District, revised sharply by apparent public demand for cuts in salary increments, will go before the voters tonight after two previous rejections by district voters.

Public hearings on two other area proposed school budgets are scheduled for tonight and Wednesday.

Opposition Strong

Ellenville voters rejected a proposed $1.9 million budget last May 5 by a margin of 241-212. More than twice as many voters turned out to reject the proposed budget in a second vote on May 26 by a margin of 548 to 412.

In a meeting June 1, the Board of Education unanimously agreed to comply with the apparent public demand for a lower

Expect Approval Of Contract by Michigan Union

HILLSDALE, Mich. (AP) — Workers at the strife-torn Essex Wire Corp. were to hold a back-to-work vote today in the wake of a warning from Gov. George W. Romney that settlement of the 102-day-old, violence-ridden strike is of vital interest to the public.

Officials of Essex and of the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL - CIO, expressed optimism that the 180 strikers would approve the modified agreement worked out Monday at a six-hour meeting with federal and state mediators in Detroit.

Romney Makes Plea

Gov. Romney made a personal appeal to the disputants to "remember that the public interest is of greater importance than that of either party."

Frank Gallucci, vice president and legal representative of Essex, and Robert Klingensmith, administrative aide to IUE President James Carey, expressed confidence the modified agreement would be accepted at the mid-afternoon voting session today.

Gov. Romney, Carey and top officials of Essex hammered out broad outlines of a proposed new contract at an all-night session in the governor's office in Lansing last Saturday. Members of the striking IUE Local 810 at Hillsdale decided Sunday not to take a ratification vote, pending clarification of issues, and sent the pact back to the local's bargaining committee.

Gallucci said, "Part of the problem was that the union local membership was asked to absorb in a three—or four—hour meeting all the details that we had worked out with the union in more than seven months of bargaining."

Confident Ike Won't Upset Him

Says Ex-President Appears Neutral

The silver-haired senator said in an interview Monday night that he is convinced the former president—about the only man who could do so—would not interfere in Goldwater's headlong rush toward the 655 delegate votes needed for the nomination.

Goldwater, given an ovation on his arrival at a conference dinner, stayed to hear Eisenhower speak. He talked briefly with Eisenhower and other party leaders while table-hopping, then flew back to Washington for action on the civil rights bill amendments.

Sees Him as Neutral

"I think President Eisenhower is neutral in this situation as he has been in the past," Goldwater said. "I do not think he has changed his position and I do not expect him to take any action that would be aimed at blocking me."

Wait, See, He Says

Goldwater said that in the absence of any expressed opposition from Eisenhower he is confident he will get the nomination at the mid-July San Francisco convention. He added that he thinks he has a good chance of defeating President Johnson in November.

"Wait until the people begin to assess Johnson's stand on this civil rights question and come to realize that his spending policies are out of line,'" the senator said. "Then we'll see whether we Republicans can beat him."

In a brief appearance as a conference guest, Goldwater avoided any conferences with Republican governors who have been complaining that his conservative views would make it difficult for him to carry their states as the GOP nominee.

Specifically, he did not make himself available for discussions with Govs. George Romney of Michigan, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. All three have said that Goldwater's positions on foreign and domestic policies would damage the Republican ticket in their important electoral vote states.

No Deep Politics

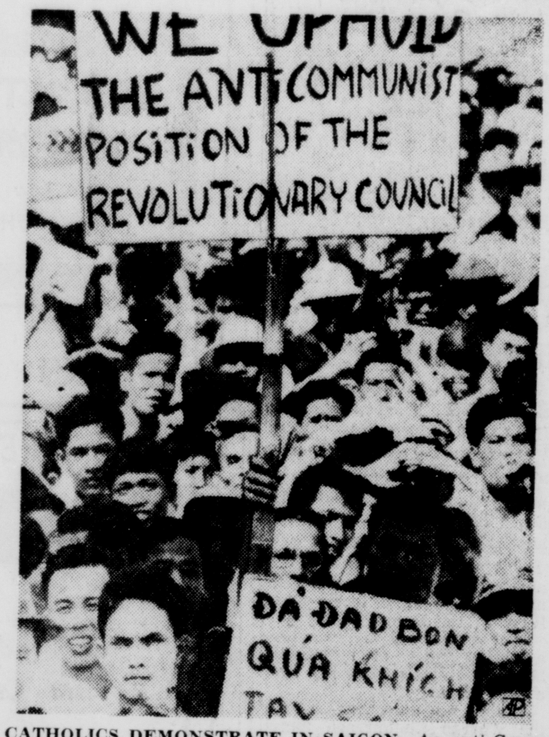

Goldwater indicated that his conference with Eisenhower did not get deeply into politics. He said the former president did not bring up political matters and he himself didn't volunteer any observations in that field.

"We talked mostly about golf and how to get rid of the bursitis that has been bothering him," the senator said.

Eisenhower, who urged the governors to get behind a movement for the states to originate a constitutional amendment requiring balancing of the federal budget every two years, conferred with 15 of the 16 Republican governors on the political situation. Romney missed the meeting but flew in later.

Gov. John Anderson Jr. of Kansas, conference chairman, said he and his colleagues "agreed that the Republican par-

Wallace Sees Early Repeal of CR Bill

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama says that if the civil rights bill is enacted, "it will be repealed in two to four years."

"I'm not advocating disobedience of any law," Wallace said in an interview. "But people, North and South, are going to resent and resist this. It will take a police state to enforce it.

Calls It Severe Attack

"It's a severe attack on private property and free enterprise, and when people realize this the law will be repealed in two to four years."

Wallace said he is convinced that feeling over the racial issue was an important factor in Sen. Barry Goldwater's victory over Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York in the California Republican presidential primary June 2.

As for Rockefeller's state, Wallace said: "New York already has all those civil rights laws on the books and New York has more problems today than any other state in the union."

Won't Organize Movement

Answering a question, he said he has no plans to organize a nationwide movement to work for repealing the civil rights bill if or when it becomes law. "I won't put myself up for that," Wallace said, "but I'll do my part as best I know how."

Judging from Wallace's out-of-state mail, it appears that he has won much support for his position on civil rights.

Since he entered Democratic presidential primaries in three states, an aide said, nearly 250,000 letters have come to him. Wallace got 27 per cent of the vote in Wisconsin, 34 per cent in Indiana, and 42.7 per cent in Maryland.

Many originated in large Northern cities where racial problems have arisen in the past year. Many others, however, bore the postmarks of small communities.

"Had I known I was going to do so well in those primaries,"

Expect Diehl Is To Get Public Works Position

Woodrow M. Diehl, of 91 Hone Street, an engineering aide in the city engineer's department, is expected to be named provisionally at a Wednesday night Board of Public Works meeting to succeed A. Foster Winfield, of 28 Roosevelt Avenue, as administrative assistant in the public works department.

Winfield recently announced his retirement after some 30 years of service in the department. A volunteer fireman of long experience, he holds the title of honorary deputy fire chief.

Studied at Cathedral

Diehl, a Kingston native, is a graduate of St. Mary's grade school and Kingston High School, and completed a year in liberal arts Cathedral College, New York. He has been employed in the city engineer's department since Feb. 28, 1963. He is due to start his duties in the public works department June 22, if the BPW approves the provisional appointment tomorrow night.

Cloture Is Due, Says Mansfield

Today's Vote Was 51-48 on CR Item

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate adopted today an amendment to the civil rights bill guaranteeing jury trials in all criminal contempts arising from the measure, except in voting rights cases.

The vote was 51-48.

The Senate action was a defeat for administration forces, but one which Senate leaders had somewhat discounted in advance. It may help them get cloture Wednesday, to end the Southern filibuster against the bill, by nailing down more Republican votes for the debate-limiting procedure.

Has Some Optimism

In advance of the test, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he is "cautiously optimistic" that the Senate will vote for cloture.

Mansfield made this report to President Johnson at the weekly White House breakfast of Democratic congressional leaders.

"We believe that reasonable men are now ready to vote," Mansfield said.

The jury trial amendment was offered by Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., and was supported by Southerners, who have been fighting the bill for 74 days.

The Voting Score

Thirty-one Democrats and 20 Republicans voted for the amendment. Voting against it were 35 Democrats and 13 Republicans.

It was the Senate's first vote in relation to the bill since May 6.

Later in the day it was to debate and act on an amendment by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, dealing with school desegregation, and one by Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., dealing with discrimination in employment.

Basis of Proposal

Morton's proposal would guarantee a jury trial in all criminal contempt cases growing out of violations of injunctions obtained under all titles of the bill excepting voting rights.

The guarantee would apply particularly to the titles barring discrimination in public accommodations, employment, public facilities and schools.

On voting rights, the Kentuckian would not disturb the 1957 Civil Rights Act. This gives a defendant in a criminal contempt case a jury trial only if the judge decides on a penalty exceeding 45 days in jail or a $3,000 fine.

The House bill now before the Senate does not give any right to a jury trial in criminal contempts except that, for public accommodations, the limitations of the 1957 law in voting cases would apply.

Morton's amendment is a modification of one he offered May 6 which was beaten 46 to 45 after a series of parliamentary maneuvers. His previous proposal would have assured the right of jury trial in all cases growing out of the bill including voting rights.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the bill's floor manager, conceded Morton's amendment might be adopted.

Kubitschek Ouster May Set Off New Turmoil in Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — New political turmoil threatened Brazil today because of the purge of Juscelino Kubitschek, banned from politics for 10 years to keep him from getting the presidency again.

President Humberto Castello Branco signed a decree ousting Kubitschek from his Senate seat and removing the political rights of the powerful political leader who had been the leading contender for the presidency in October 1965.

The suave former society surgeon joined more than 200 persons whose political rights have been suspended since President Joao Goulart and his leftist regime were overthrown April 1. Former Presidents Goulart and Janio Quadros, who resigned in August 1961, also have lost political rights.

"My enemies fear me because they are afraid of the manifestation of the people," said Kubitschek, "and thus with this brutal act they (the government) remove me from the road of elections—which are the only valid manifestation in a truly democratic regime."

The ouster could prompt Kubitschek's Social Democratic party, largest in Brazil, to withdraw support from Castello Branco's government. A party spokesman said party leaders would meet to decide on a course of action.

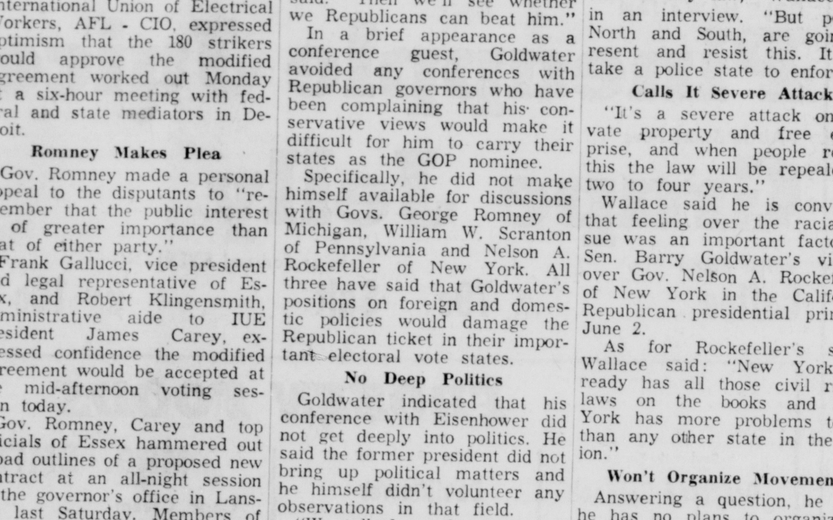

Several thousand supporters massed outside Kubitschek's apartment house in Rio Monday night, singing the national anthem and cheering the former president. They carried him through the streets on their shoulders.

A clash threatened when followers of Kubitschek's old foe Carlos Lacerda, governor of Guanabara State and a rival presidential candidate, arrived and began jeering. They dispersed when the Kubitschek crowd continued to grow.

Kubitschek came to prominence as governor of Minas Gerais State during the final term of Getulio Vargas, who committed suicide in August 1954.

Ticket Heads Stress Support of Pageant

Herman G. Rafalowsky, co-chairman with Ronald G. Browns of ticket arrangements for the Miss New York State Pageant urges local people to accept the patron tickets that have been mailed out for the 6th consecutive pageant year.

Several hundred patron tickets have recently been mailed out to business men and citizens of the area, and Rafalowsky says that the financial success of the Pageant depends upon the sale and acceptance of these tickets. Numerous expenses are involved in promoting this affair, he stressed.

The Miss New York State Pageant this year will be held at Kingston High School auditorium on July 9, 10, and 11. The coveted pageant franchise has again been awarded to Kingston because of the tremendous effort that local committee workers have put into this affair during the past years, despite constant appeals by other cities.

There is no doubt that the Kingston area receives favorable wide-spread publicity because of the pageant. Further, it brings to the area hundreds of newcomers, and is of direct financial benefit to the area restaurants, hotels, and other business establishments.

The patron tickets entitle the purchaser to select a choice reserve seat for each night of the three days of the pageant program, if redeemed on or before June 20th. On June 22, the public sale of tickets will be started. Patron tickets may be redeemed after June 20, but the purchaser will then only be able to select available seats. All seats in the auditorium are reserved.

Spending Cut Is Falacy in Poor Sectors: Javits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said Monday it is false economy for the Defense Department to cut spending in areas of substantial unemployment.

Javits commented in reporting on the value of defense contracts to areas of substantial unemployment in New York.

He said the value of such contracts declined by $5.6 million during the first nine months of the current fiscal year—July 1, 1963, through March 31, 1964—compared with the same period for the previous fiscal year.

The largest drop, his report showed, was $20.7 million in the Plattsburgh area.

Of the state's two major areas of substantial unemployment—6 or more per cent of the total labor force unemployed — Buffalo's defense work dropped $5.8 million during the period while Utica-Rome increased its share by $24 million.

Of the state's 20 minor unemployment areas, Javits said, 8 showed substantial declines, while 112 showed relatively minor increases.

Javits said, "Cutbacks in contract awards to labor surplus areas represent false economy."

He called again for an investigation of this by the joint economic subcommittee on defense procurement.

In addition to Plattsburgh and Buffalo, Javits said, these other areas showed substantial decline in their share of defense work between the first nine months of the last fiscal year—July,1962-March, 1963 —and the first nine months of the current fiscal year:

Amsterdam, down $1,121,000; Auburn, down $470,000; Elmira, down $1,005,000; Gloversville, down $68,000; Newburgh-Middletown-Beacon, down $2,152,000; Ogdensburg-Massena - Malone, down $56,000, and Wellsville, down $331,000.

These other areas, Javits added, showed minor increases:

Batavia, $69,000; Catskill, $214,000; Cobleskill,$ 34,000; Geneva - Canandaigua, $728,000; Glens Falls-Hudson Falls, $96,000; Jamestown-Dunkirk, $183,000; Medina - Albion, $103,000; Newark, $246,000; Oneonta, $231,000; Perry, $1,000; Watertown, $160,000, and Watkins Glen, $12,000.

Ruby Denies Any Connection with Man He Shot

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A cleanshaven but "wild-eyed" Jack Ruby told Chief Justice Earl Warren Sunday he had no connection with Lee Harvey Oswald, whom he shot two days after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

This was reported by a reliable source after Warren spent more than three hours with Ruby in the Dallas County jail.

It was believed the first time a chief justice of the United States ever took testimony from a prisoner in jail.

Warren and other members of the Warren Commission toured the Texas School Book Depository Building, from where the assassin is alleged to have fired rifle bullets at Kennedy, as well as Oswald's rooming house and Ruby's apartment.

They also visited the Texas Theater, where Oswald was captured, and the intersection nearby where police officer J. D. Tippitt was slain.

Oswald was charged with the murders of both Kennedy and Tippit. Ruby is under the death sentence for slaying Oswald.

Details of the jail conference were not made pulbic. However, it is known that Warren, J. Lee Rankin, commission counsel, and Rep. Gerald Ford, R-Mich., a commission member, asked Ruby if he knew Oswald and was there a conspiracy involved when he shot him.

Ruby reportedly replied in the negative. He also was asked about his trip to Cuba in the late 1950s, but his answers are not known.

Taxpayers Urge Careful Study For Budget Vote

Walter H. Schulman, president of the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association, says that the association believes that the qualified voters, whether or not they are real property taxpayers, should carefully weigh the following considerations when they vote on the re-submitted 1964-65 Onteora School District budget on June 16.

"The school board submits as 'choices' the same budget for approval by another vote, or operation with an austerity budget, as provided by the State Education Law without approval of the voters. According to the May, 1964, issue of the Onteora Bulletin: An austerity budget is the state's way of insisting that the education of the children of the state must continue with or without voter approval. The Bulletin points out that 'taxpayers money' cannot be used to support 'certain services and school activities' without voter approval.

"In the American tradition it has never been the intention to provide a private school education in the public school system. The fact that some taxpayers will cheerfully pay increased school taxes in the Onteora School District to obtain the equivalent of a private school education for their children, does not alleviate the economic problems of those who, with or without school-age children, are called upon to pay increased taxes on residential real estate from which they derive no rental income.

"The thought has been expressed in reported discussions of the proposed school budget that the difference between a 'good' education and an "average" education is involved. Presumably, the kind of education that the state insists must continue under an austerity budget in any event, is at least an 'average' and adequate education according to the educational standards established by the state. Obviously, school district autonomy is largely limited to what the real property taxpayers in the school district are willing to pay for in addition to what the state considers adequate public education at real property taxpayers expense.

"Whether or not the taxpayer is a parent or grandparent of school-age children, his or her ability to pay increasing school taxes on residential real estate is a conspicuous consideration in deciding how to vote on the re-submitted school budget — certainly in the absence of any clearly guaranteed relief from excessive real property taxation in the foreseeable future."

Many Programs To Be Featured At Colony Arts

For its sixth season, the Colony Arts Center on Rock City Road in Woodstock is offering a variety of programs including the Writers' Workshop, three art shows and two summer antiques shows, in addition to special classes and group discussions in the communication feld.

The Colony Arts Center will open its season with the fifth annual antiques show on July 3-4-5 with exhibitors and dealers from Pennsylvania, Connecticut, West Virginia and eight counties along the Hudson and Mohawk valleys of New York State. This year's show will have special appeal to collectors and homemakers with definite wants in mind as well as appealing to those who attend antiques shows for their entertainment qualities and interest.

Six Years Old

The Writers' Workshop, which has been a successful feature of the Colony Arts Center since its inception six years ago, will work entirely with beginning authors and those who have not yet achieved publication. The workshop will get under way July 14 and continue through August 20 with five weekly programs during that period. Fiction and non-fiction will each be the subject of two programs. The fifth workshop will be concerned with play-writing.

There will be three changes of art shows during the season, the first opening on July 10. The First Show will consist of Americana related to the Catskill Mountains and Hudson Valley. The exhibit will include paintings, lithographs, prints and other pictorial memorabilia of the area during the 19th century.

Annual Turnau Social Event Set Saturday

The Turnau Opera Association, in cooperation with The Friends of the Turnau Opera Association, will enterain its members and their guests at a pre-season reception at the Byrdcliffe Theater in Woodstock from 6 to 8 p. m. on Saturday, June 13.

Refreshments will be served and the Turnau players will sing favorite arias from this season's operas. A report of the work and plans of The Friends will be given to keep members and those interested in becoming members informed. Season tickets will be sold to those at the reception at a 10 per cent discount which is the company's way of saying "thank you" to its patrons.

Mozart's "The Abduction From the Seraglio" will inaugurate Turnau's tenth season of opera in English on July tenth. Other operas in this season's repertoire which have not been seen at Byrdcliffe in several years are: Rossini's "The Turk in Italy," Menotti's "The Medium," and Monteverdi's "Il Combattimento." Traditional favorites: Rossini's "The Barber of Seville," and Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro," as well as new productions of Puccini's "La Boheme," and Verdi's "Rigoletto" will be presented. Last year's stunning success, Britten's "The Rape of Lucretia," will be repeated.

Two slices of bread should make about a cup of soft crumbs.

These Publishers Have Trouble in Signing Name

CHICAGO (AP) — There's a new book on the market today at the University of Chicago, but the 26 authors will have a problem signing the first editions.

The authors, first graders, are still learning how to print their names.

The 26 precocious members of Mrs. Judy Jones' first-grade class at the university's laboratory school decided in November that along with learning to read books, they'd like to write and publish one.

After seven months of almost daily work, 150 copies of the gaily colored, magazine-size book, entitled "Interesting Stories," rolled off the press two weeks ago.

Second Printing Near

"All schools and classrooms are concerned with writing and reading stories," said Mrs. Jones, 27. "We just took ours a little farther."

The students collaborated in writing and illustrating five stories for the book, ranging from "Julie and Jane's Adventures in School" to "How We Got Our Freedom."

Another story tells of the adventures of Sammy, who lived on the moon "in a big crater that they had made tunnels through."

The stories were dictated to Mrs. Jones, who said the idea behind the book came from Mrs. Farrand Ennis, whose daughter is in the class.

"The purpose of the project was to expose the children to the experience of learning how books are produced," said Mrs. Ennis, who works for a neighborhood newspaper, the Hyde Park Herald.

Just Make Believe

Mrs. Ennis told Don McCabe, design editor of the newspaper, of the project and he volunteered to help ready the book for publication.

But if life seems complicated for McCabe, author Sarah Ennis, 6, takes it in stride.

"It's just make believe," she told The Associated Press. "The whole thing's just make believe."

Author Jeff Johnston, 7, said what he liked best was "when I was asked to put autographs in the books."

Say Yank Pilot Was Captured by Pathet Lao Unit

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Communist Pathet Lao was reported today to have captured a U.S. Navy jet pilot shot down on a photo-reconnaissance mission over the jungles of central Laos.

Reliable sources said the Pathet Lao headquarters in Khang Khay informed its officials in Vientiane of the capture of Lt. Charles F. Klusmann, 30, of San Diego, Calif., who had parachuted from his Crusader jet fighter on Saturday.

A U.S. helicopter rescued Cmdr. Doyle W. Lynn of La Mesa, Calif., Monday and flew him back to the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk in the South China Sea. Lynn's Crusader was hit Sunday while he was escorting a reconnaissance mission.

The Pathet Lao has held another American flier, a civilian, for nine months.

Eugene Debruin of Kaukauna, Wis., a flier for the Air America charter company, was captured last September when his transport plane was shot down in southern Laos.

Neutralist Laotian forces were believed slowly pullling out of a hill position northwest of the Plaine des Jarres region under Communist artillery and mortar fire.

A high neutralist military source said his troops were still holding sections of the high ground around Phou Koutt, but that he did not expect them to hang on much longer.

Drivers Advised To Submit Stubs With Applications

Automobile operators who must renew their driver's license this year were reminded to submit the operator's license renewal stub with their aplication.

This was a reminder isued today by Lawrence D. Craft, Ulster County Clerk, who pointed out that approximately one out of every three to date have had to be returned to the applicants because of this omision, thus delaying the proces of validating the applications as licenses.

This stub, Craft said, contains blocks on the back in which convictions are entered. 'Whether or not you have had any convictions this must acompany the application together with the $3 fee," he aded.

The county clerk also said his office wil be able to process and return to the sender any applications mailed to him before June 22. After that date, renewal applicants should make a personal visit to the office if they wish to get their new license before the old one expires June 30.

Proposes Longer Dutchess County Airport Runway

A bond issue of approximately $1,000,000 for a 1,200 foot addition to the longer runway at the Dutchess County Airport, New Hackensack, has been proposed by Supervisor Horace L. Kulp, Town of Clinton.

In supporting his stand for a $2 million expenditure at the airport half to be paid by the federal government-Supervisor Kulp said, "Industry now is the backbone of our country and industry needs a modern airport. We have no choice except to provide it."

Members of the Dutchess Airport Commission and airline officials have warned the county that it faces a cutback in airline service and no prospect of expanded service unless the runway is extended to accomodate jet aircraft.

Supervisor Kulp's proposal would increase the longer runway to 5,200 feet. The supervisor contends that the addition would equip the airport to handle all planes likely to use the 'port.

It was noted that IBM Corp. has added a new twin jet Sabre line to its fleet at the New Hackensack airport, but it cannot take off with a full load of passengers and fuel, with the present runway.

Commitments by two thirds of the members of the county Board of Supervisors in favor of the bond issue would be needed, prior to making an application for funds from the federal government. The two-thirds vote, or 22 members, is necessary to authorize a bond issue.

Most people don't realize how low Chrysler's new prices really are. Do you?
Quite frankly, some models are.
But what many people don't realize is that some Chrysler models are actually priced lower than a small car equipped the way you'd want it.
Take the Chrysler Newport sedan. Manufacturer's suggested retail price is only $2901, not including the variables like state and local taxes, destination charges and optional equipment. That's $2901—which includes such good things as a 361-cubic-inch V-8. The kind of engine you'd pay extra for on a smaller car.
Interesting, isn't it?
Then why stick with the smaller jobs? They can't muster the room, the ride, the luxury or the performance you really want—no matter how many extra-cost options you put on them.

HOOLIGANISM ANTIDOTE

Remember juvenile delinquency? The rage to discuss it has abated, but it continues to be a major problem for police and social agencies.

One reason for the decline in public talk and printed comment on juvenile delinquency is that other problems have intervened. Apparently these problems, revolving about the civil rights struggle and the widely ramified thrust toward equal opportunity, have to some extent obscured crime by youthful offenders.

One aspect of juvenile delinquency has come to the fore in a special way of late, however. This is the kind of mass hooliganism that has plagued a number of communities both here and abroad. That phrase, "both here and abroad," points to an interesting thing about these outbursts; they are popping up in many parts of the civilized world.

In this county we have had such things as the ruin of a country house interior in the course of a wild coming-out party, destructive rioting over several floors of a city hotel, outbreaks of violence at college holiday beach parties. The beaches seem to be favorite spots for such uprisings, as witness the recent troubles in England and Denmark. In some instances the combatants, rival groups of teen-age boys and girls for the most part, have made some resort area a veritable battleground.

The cause of these outbursts is obscure, though the psychiatrists offer various theories. The cure is not easily hit upon, either. But one thing appears certain: as a first step, everything possible must be done to enforce the law and make it clear that violators will not get off scot free or with a pat on the wrist because "boys will be boys." A few tough sentences, preferably involving a stint of hard work, might do much to dampen teen-age ardor for such riotous behavior.

Personal income continues to climb. Now if we can get prices to hold still, we can look for something else to complain about.

'FORE' INTO THE NIGHT

The first lighted regulation-length public golf course went into operation in Rhode Island a few weeks ago. (A private club in Philadelphia last year was the first in the world to try nighttime playing.)

Reportedly, hundreds of other courses around the country are contemplating the move, for installing floodlights would add about 30 playing hours each week and help relieve the weekend crush.

Women, unless they play the game themselves, may view this development with something less than enthusiasm. Now hubby will have one more reason for wanting a night out with the boys.

But it's a lot healthier, possibly cheaper, too, than sitting motionless around a poker table, imbibing and inhaling. And it could mean that hubby—just might—be available more often Saturday afternoons to lend a hand with the household chores.

Progress always has its price—for somebody.

JOBS: A RED PROBLEM, TOO

Communism's claim to have eliminated the old capitalistic problem of unemployment has always been one of its greatest selling points.

Never mind how it is accomplished, there is simply no such thing as unemployment in a Comunist society.

Government statistics from Poland, as analyzed and reported by Radio Free Europe, reveal that 200,000 persons were laid off from their jobs last winter alone, bringing the total of unemployment in that officially Communist nation to 500,000.

Significantly, many of them are young people. It is estimated that 1.5 million Polish youths will enter the labor market by 1970 and that the number seeking work will increasingly outnumber the new jobs available.

Apparently the Communist wave of the future is running up against the same shoals that were supposed to have defeated Western capitalism long ago.

All that spring yard work must be great for trimming the waistline—except that it also increases the appetite.

KHRUSHCHEV'S FOURTH ATTEMPT TO VISIT SCANDINAVIA

Three times in recent years Nikita Khrushchev has planned a royal Bolshevik progress through Scandinavia—and three times he has been scared out of it. Now, after gingerly testing the atmosphere for a fourth time, he has decided that he can undertake a Scandinaven trek without risking too much insult

The program for the visit, however, does not exhibit too much trust that a warm welcome will be forthcoming. In Denmark, for the scheduled June 17-21 stay, all the 475 rooms of the Hotel Royal in Copenhagen have been engaged for the Khrushchev party for a world meeting of Danish consuls. This means that the common people won't be able to get very close to the self-described leader of the world proletariat. In Sweden Khrushchev will live from June 22 to June 27 at the royal Haga Palace on the outskirts of Stockholm. The place is already under heavy surveillance by the police. In Norway, from June 28 to July 2, Khrushchev will occupy the royal property of Bygdoy Kongsgaard outside of Oslo. A bomb, found in the open, has already been removed from Bygdoy Kongsgaard—obviously, it was placed there as a symbolic warning. Because of this and other manifestations of distaste for his presence, Khrushchev will move about in Scandinavia by helicopter and bullet-proof motor car.

Why all the elaborate precautions lest something might happen to annoy Khrushchev? The reasons go back to 1956, 1959 and 1963, when Scandinavians, the Swedes in particular, promised to greet Khrushchev by spitting at him or by turning their backs on him whenever he appeared in public. This time the plan of the dissidents who don't want to see the boss Communist on Scandinavian soil is a little more restrained, for it contemplates only a silent treatment. And ad hoc committee of non-welcome, called the June Committee, has been set up under the well-known archeologist Professor Birger Nerman. The first act of this committee has been to recall the visit of Czar Nicholas II to Sweden in 1909. Then unpopular because of pogroms of suppression of popular demonstrations, the Czar was met with stony silence everywhere. The June Committee asks that this be repeated for Khrushchev.

In 1959, when Khrushchev called off a proposed trip at the eleventh hour, 100,000 copies of anti-Soviet folder were ready for distribution in three Scandinavian languages. Professor Nerman's June Committee has been busy preparing another folder for present distribution. The folder articles bear such titles as "Khrushchev in Luxury and Gala—the Balts in Slavery and Hunger," by Professor Nerman; "Appeal to Mr. Khrushchev on Behalf of the Balts," by Manne Stahl; "Suppose Hitler Had Obtained His Victorious Peace in 1940," by Ture Nerman, who incidentally compares the two big totalitarian systems; "What We Should Not Forget," by Birger Hagard, who is chairman of the Swedish Conservative Youth Organization of 60,000 members and who keeps a catalogue of Soviet misdeeds in East Europe up to date; and a survey of Soviet deportations and violations of human rights in the Baltic states.

The battle to greet Khrushchev with a barrage of antipathetic gestures does not have the support of the Scandinavian governments. But, with the editor-in-chief of Morgenbladet, the largest Norwegian daily, on the June Committee's side, and with prominent members of all the Scandinavian democratic political parties putting their names on an anti-Khrushchev manifesto, nobody is suggesting that the right of free speech—or free silence—be infringed. The antis point out that Khrushchev's visit is designed to create propaganda for the Kekkonen plan for establishing a nuclear free zone in all states bordering on the Baltic Sea, and for the withdrawal of Denmark and Norway from Nato. They insist that a counter propaganda is quite in order. But their real desire is to scare Khrushchev out of his fourth effort to visit Scandinavia.

Any bets that they won't be successful?

Emphysema Is Chronic, But Not Contagious

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Is Emphysema contagious or is it an allergy? Is there any cure?

A—Emphysema is a very common and a very chronic lung ailment in persons over 50. It is caused by air being trapped in the lungs due to a valvelike obstruction. This obstruction occurs chiefly in heavy smokers, persons with chronic bronchitis and those who live in areas of extreme air pollution. It is not contagious and not an allergy. Its effects are sometimes similar to those of asthma.

Although there is no cure, the best treatment is early diagnosis. This will enable your doctor to prevent serious lung damage. If you have emphysema you should report to your doctor whenever you get a cold or other acute disease of the nose or lungs. It is helpful to quit smoking and to keep fit through moderate, but regular exercise. If your work requires you to breathe dusty or sooty air, you can prolong your life by wearing a respirator or changing your occupation.

Your doctor can help you by giving you antibiotics for some types of complicating infection. Other drugs, such as isoproterenol, will dilate the blocked air passages. Breathing exercises (humming, laughing and singing) are often useful.

Even victims with far advanced emphysema can be helped. Vanillic diethylamide a respiratory stimulant, allows easier breathing. Inhalation of oxygen may make the difference between being confined to bed and being up and about. Postural drainage of the lungs (hanging over the edge of a bed for 10 minutes with your head near the floor) is another favorite method of treatment.

Q—Is it possible to be desinsitized to the pollen that gives me hay fever in the summer?

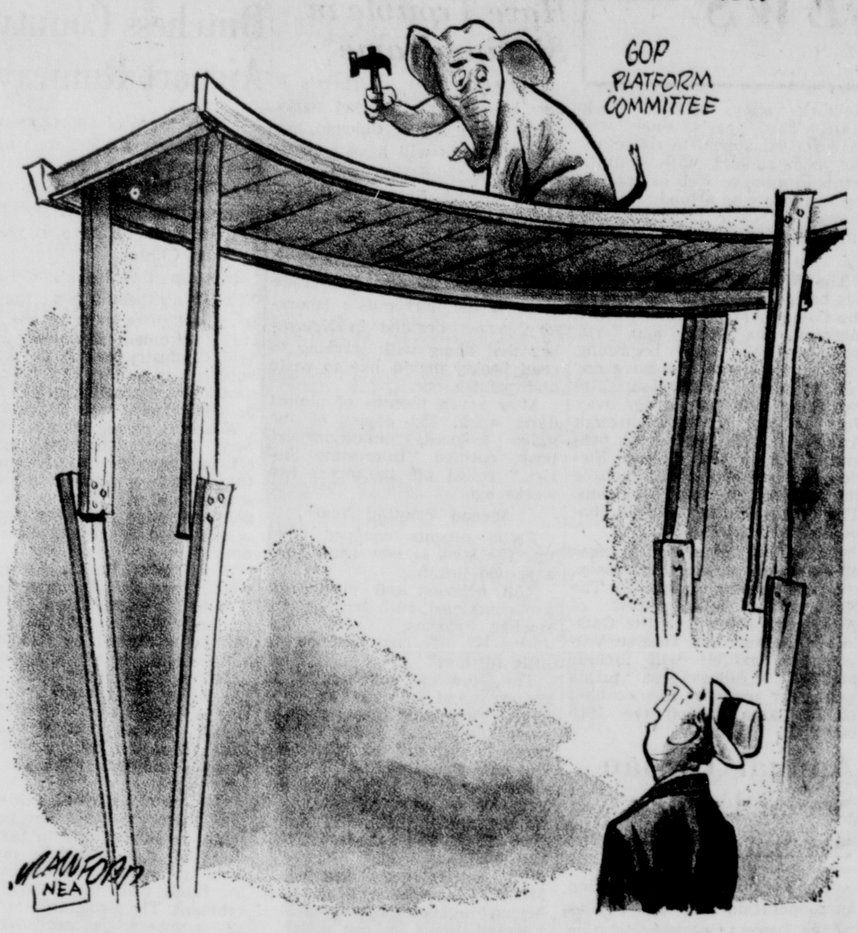

A—First you must identify the pollen that is causing your hay fever. Desensitization must be started at least six weeks in advance of the time you usually get your attacks. It must be repeated every year.

Q—I have taken Placidyl every night to get to sleep for several years. Is it habit-forming? What are the side effects and what would happen if I suddenly stopped taking it?

A—Ethchlorvynol (Placidyl) is not habit-forming. It is much safer than the commonly used barbiturates. Side effects may include dizziness, headache, nightmares, nausea, a bad aftertaste and drowsiness. If you suddenly stopped taking it you might have some trouble with insomnia because of your psychologic dependence on the drug, but in the long run it would be worth it.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Freeman. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

"So Where Do You Put the Rescue Net?"

Washington News

BY BRUCE BIOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — No candidate has ever been denied the Republican presidental nomination after achieving so commanding a delegate lead as Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater now holds.

Could he still be stopped by those moderate party forces who want some alternative as their 1964 standard bearer

On the basis of present conservative projections covering state delegate-choosing conventions yet to be held in 14 states and Puerto Rico, Goldwater must be accorded upwards of 600 first ballot votes — with 655 needed to nominate. His California victory contributed a whopping 86.

What, if anything, could check the normal flow of additional delegates toward the senator to put him over?

To talk of halting him now is to consider blocking a man who may soon be within 35 or 40 votes of nomination. It has never been done.

Nor has any candidate ever had as many as 600 votes and lost. The late Robert A. Taft collected an even 500 in 1952, when it took 604 to nominate. Dwight D. Eisenhower had 595 and went on to win.

DESPITE ALL THIS, a few seasoned political voices are heard saying Goldwater's defeat still might be accomplished.

At the outset, such a notion assumes unyielding resistance to his candidacy from most of the favorite sons, including governors William Scranton of Pennsylvania, George Romney of Michigan, James Rhodes of Ohio, former Minnesota Rep. Walter Judd. They could muster perhaps 200 or more delegate votes in a holdout position.

Goldwater's adversaries also would have to find a virtually unbroken line of holdouts among the perhaps 185 delegates who would come into the convention pledged or otherwise tied to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Richard M. Nixon.

This would leave the stop-Goldwater forces short of 400, and somewhere around 275 votes from forging a majority for some other candidate.

By coincidence, that figure roughly parallels the present estimated total of "uncommitted" delegates. If the moderates got them all, they would truly have the makings.

But many of the uncommitted have strong Goldwater leanings. His California victory surely will dispose substantial unmbers to move more positively toward his camp.

On top of that, heavy pressures will be levied against them, as well as upon all others.

IF THE MODERATES are to have any hope of winning the overwhelming bulk of the uncommitted, and even drawing off some of Goldwater's declared strength, they clearly must offer a powerful argument.

There really is only one they can try, the same one so effectively used 12 years ago against Taft — "He can't win."

The senator's opponents, if they speak from a rigidly unyielding bastion, might make a serious dent if they keep hammering on this theme among puzzled, wavering delegates who may already be half-persuaded that Goldwater's vote-getting this year has not been impressive.

Should new public opinion polls sharply underscore this contention, the inroads of the moderates might be greater.

Yet, again, it must be recalled that no such last-ditch fight has ever been mounted, let alone won, against a man with so much evident strength as Goldwater will bring to the convention.

223 Lawyers File Paper About Amendments, Court

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—A surprising statement has just been filed with the House Judiciary Committee by 223 lawyers, including 55 deans of law schools and several college professors, many of them of the so-called "liberal" school of thought. They have taken a stand which will be construed as meaning that, so far as possible, further amendments to the Constitution must be blocked and that the Supreme Court of the United States must be left to rewrite the Constitution at will.

The current controversy arises as a consequence of the Supreme Court's decisions which have produced widespread apprehension that the word "God" cannot be mentioned in public-school exercises and that voluntary prayers may be prohibited in educational institutions or in connection with official activities of the government.

The statement warns those who have been agitating for a constitutional amendment that they are, in effect, engaging in something bordering on impropriety. Dozens of amendments, for instance, have been proposed to overrule the decisions of the Supreme Court on the subject of prayer in exercises or ceremonies in schools, but the statement of the 223 citizens asks for a kind of cloture on further consideration of all such amendments by Congress. The statement says:

"American liberties have been secure in large measure because they have been guaranteed by a Bill of Rights which the American people until now deemed practically unamendable."

This will come as a shock to many people who have always thought the Constitution could be amended whenever public opinion desired it and that there is nothing so sacred about anything in the Constitution that the people couldn't change it at will. Objection rather has been voiced against the Supreme Court's assumption of a right virtually to introduce any meaning it pleases, thus giving to an oligarchy of nine judges appointed for life the power to amend the Constitution through judicial decisions.

The recent movement to submit to the people an amendment safeguarding the right to pray grew out of a deep-seated belief that the Supreme Court had taken away a fundemental right and had indeed violated that part of the Constitution which states that there should be no interference with "the free exercise" of religion. The statement of the protesting group, however, says:

"Whatever disagreements some may have with the Bible-prayer decisions, we believe strongly that they do not justify this experiment. Accordingly, we urged that Congress approve no measures to amend the First Amendment in order to overrule these decisions."

The lawyers who filed the statement have a right to their opinion and to argue against any proposed amendment to the Constitution, but it comes as a surprise to find such a learned group stating that the mere attempt to use the amending process prescribed in the Constitution is dangerous. The sponsors of this viewpoint add:

"If the first clause of the Bill of Rights, forbidding laws respecting an establishment of religion, should prove so easily susceptible to impairment by amendment, none of the succeeding clauses will be secure."

Such a sweeping declaration is hardly justified because, for one thing, there are more than 100 proposals for a Constitutional amendment, along with the resolution submitted by Rep. Frank J. Becker, N. Y., in behalf of many members of Congress, all of which are merely designed to safeguard the right to pray in official surroundings.

There are many ways by which this right can be assured without imposing any established church. Just as one group respects the right of another group to hold differing opinions, there is every justification for at least tolerating voluntary prayer by another body of citizens, whether outside or inside a government building, in a public ceremony.

But entirely apart from the merits of the issue itself as it relates to the right to pray, the controversy over methods of amending the Constitution may be intensified. In 1962, the National Council of State Governments adopted a resolution proposing an additional formula. Thus, if two thirds of the state legislatures submitted identical texts for a proposed amendment, three fourths of the states could then ratify it without any further action by Congress.

Whether the foregoing proposal is a desirable one or not, the fact remains that many Constitutional lawyers in the U. S. believe that if Congress is going to block the amending process, some way must be found to enable the people themselves to initiate amendments to the Federal Constitution through their own state legislatures.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

We are having our warm weather in Kingston and Ulster County now, even too warm, even the flowers seem to wilt from the hot sun. I received a note from Mrs. Aline Walz, of Esopus, who writes to me from St. Petersburg, Fla., that she visited the Citrus Tower on a hill outside Clermont. This tower is 126 feet in the air, and it blows so up there, that they removed their glasses for fear they would be blown away. They were there in April, and the fragrance of millions of orange blossoms, and the view was so wonderful that Mrs. Walz suggested I come down and see it for myself.

Mrs. Walz enclosed an item from the St. Petersburg Times, of Sunday, May 10, 1964 which is written by Edward Collier, which covers the Magic Circle of Tampa, Fla. He describes the downtown St. Petersburg post office, "a temple of tan stucco marble pillars, deep blue mosaic work, outdoor verandas with tables and individual post office boxes on the outside wall!" I thought everything is now built from "baby blocks" all alike, be it school, shopping center, or government buildings. Strange that some originality should be left. They also mention "pastel-hued benches." He also speaks of downtown's landmark, University of Tampa's main building, "whose 13 silver doomed Moorish minarets represent the 13 months of the Moslem year. The elaborate Byzantine-type structure and its Moorish arches, designed by famous architect, Stanford White, was opened in 1891 as the 550 room Tampa Bay Hotel." At least in Florida, the buildings are distinctive enough so they can be told apart.

Principal Robert Graves of the Port Ewen School invited me to their Prose and Poetry Fair, at which each pupil from grades one to six exhibited their talents. Just before the children removed their exhibit on Friday at noon, I had a chance to be escorted through the building by Mr. Graves and see the school in action and the exhibit. I did not get a chance to jot down all the fine works of art, the poetry, and handwriting which I saw. Mrs. Vincent Van Bramer, I understand, is the art teacher in charge to instruct in basket weaving, mosaic work, making of models, also sketching such as Robert Westbrook of Connelly did of a Central Hudson power pole, seen from the window. The handwriting, especially of the girls is large and round, and readable, and it seems it is called "cursive script." Everyone is allowed his own handwriting, not like in our day of Palmer Method, when they looked all alike, and I would say a signature was worthless.

The Port Ewen School looks large from the outside, but inside, it seemed endless, with wide halls, many class rooms, and I walked and walked, like in Grand Central Station, and the walls are spotless, not a pencil mark, and this was at the end of the school week.

Principal Graves has some magic over the youngsters, for they seem to like him and respect him at the same time. It is like a fancy private school, with lovely teachers and a spirit of friendliness. Mr. Graves also took me to the little robin's nest, surrounded by a snow fence, where a lady robin was bringing up two newly born baby robins, and two blue eggs ready to be hatched. She built the nest with great care, and within sight of the smallest child in a fancy shrubbery bush. The grounds also not only are well kept, but not a piece of paper or candy wrapper anywhere in sight. Mr. Graves and his staff certainly seem to have a charm over their youngsters of 1964.

High Woods Favors Forming Fire Company; Seeks Site

The High Woods area at a public meeting last week took an important step in a proposal to establish a volunteer fire company in that area and are now seeking a building site for a fire station.

A gathering of 40 High Woods area residents looked with favor on the project. The proposed new fire company would be a subsidiary of Centerville Fire Department within the Centerville Fire District. The meeting was held in the club house of High Woods Sportmen's Club.

The results of a recent questionnaire were discussed and all present were in favor of proceeding with the next step — securing a site for a fire station and determining costs of a building and if manpower is available to operate equipment.

George Benz, vice president of Centerville Fire Company, served as chairman of the meeting which was also attended by Centerville Fire Commissioners Percy Mower, Robert Smith, Francis Wolven and Centerville Chief Robert Thein.

Centerville Fire Company and Cedar Grove Fire Company are currently operating in Centerville Fire District.

Walker Attorneys Present Evidence In Libel Action

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Attorneys for former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker begin presenting evidence today in his $2-million libel suit against The Associated Press.

A jury of four women and eight men was selected Monday, clearing the way for presentation of evidence by the plaintiff. All 12 jurors must agree to any verdict returned to State District Court Judge Charles J. Murray in the civil suit.

The Associated Press, as defendant, will present its evidence after the plaintiff.

Walker, 54, contends Associated Press stories falsely accused him of leading a charge during the 1962 civil rights riot at the University of Mississippi, in Oxford, Miss. Walker's chief attorney, Clyde Watts, Oklahoma City, said in his opening statement that Walker did not lead any charge, and did not assume command of the riot crowd.

"We are not trying a segregation or integration case," said J. A. Gooch, Associated Press attorney, in his opening statement. "We are trying the case of an individual trying to defy the courts and laws of this land."

The Associated Press answer to Walker's suit says assessment of any damages would be "a restraint on the freedom of press" as guaranteed by the U.S. and Texas constitutions.

Gooch said the defense evidence would prove that Associated Press stories concerning Walker's actions at Oxford "were and are true in fact and substance."

Johnson Favored By 671 Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has been quietly piling up Democratic delegate votes while the political spotlight focused on the Republican presidential nomination race. He already has more than half the number needed for his expected nomination.

The President now has 671 first-ballot votes stemming from primaries, state convention actions or personally stated preference, an Associated Press survey showed today.

There has been little doubt that Johnson—although he has not yet announced his candidacy —will win the nomination on the first ballot, perhaps by acclamation.

The only avowed candidate, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, has 38 first-ballot votes—all from Alabama. He might draw scattered support from other Southern delegations which so far have listed themselves as uncommitted. These include South Carolina and Louisiana. The Mississippi delegation has not been chosen yet.

The Recreation Committee reported work had been done on the ball diamond and completion of this work is expected in the near future.

A discussion was also held on the proposition of blacktopping the skating pond located on the town hall premises.

Father Critical, Forced Son, 4, To Shoot Him

LOS ANGELES (AP)—In the climax to a series of bitter quarrels, Leonard Thierry's wife left him.

Police said that Thierry then awakened his three small children.

He showed Theresah, 7, a pistol and told her to shoot him. She refused.

He told Gary, 5, how to work the pistol and told him to shoot. He refused.

Then he put the pistol in the hands of Glen, 4. He, too, refused.

Thierry told him if he didn't, he'd "get the leather strap."

Glen pulled the trigger.

Thierry, a 32-year-old baker, was taken to General Hospital in critical condition Monday morning, a bullet in his brain.

"I had to do it," said Glen. "He told me he'd get the belt and spank me if I didn't."

Police said Thierry and his wife, Mary, 26, had had many arguments in their eight years of marriage. Officers located her in the neighborhood and turned the children over to her care.

Wagner Rules Out Race for Senate, May Be RFK Boost

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner says he "will not run under any circumstances" for U.S. senator next fall—even if President Johnson asked him to.

Wagner told newsmen Monday:

"I will not run under any circumstances. If the President were to ask me to run, I'm sure he'd understand my feelings on the matter. . .there are personal reasons. . .and they have a lot of candidates, anyway."

Wagner, generally considered the top ranking Democrat in the state, said he does not have any particular candidate in mind to run against Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester.

Wagner's declaration that he will not be a Senate candidate —made in stronger terms than his similar statements in the past—was interpreted in some quarters as boosting the stock of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy as the Democratic choice for senator from New York.

Kennedy, who votes in his native Massachusetts and makes his home in Virginia near Washington, could run for the Senate from New York if he established residence in the state by election day.

Wagner told the newsmen that he had discussed the Senate contest with Kennedy and with Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of Amsterdam, who has considerable backing but has not announced his candidacy for the nomination.

Wagner said Stratton had been at Gracie Mansion, the mayor's official residence, almost two weeks ago to discuss the Senate situation.

Wagner said he would meet this week with Democratic State Chairman William H. McKeon and leaders of the Liberal Party to discuss the Senate contest.

Ask More Hearings

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—The trustees of the bankrupt New Haven Railroad want further hearings before the Interstate Commerce Commission on the proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads.

In a letter to the ICC Monday, the trustees said the Pennsy and Central offered "unrealistic and unacceptable" suggestions to meet the problems a merger would bring to New England lines.

The trustees asked the ICC to give the New Haven and other New England railroads a chance to hear evidence and cross-examine witnesses on the suggestions advanced by the two powerful railroads.

Rejects GE Proposal

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) —The executive board of Local 301, International Union of Electrical Workers, has turned down a proposal by the General Electric Co. to eliminate piecework rates at its plant here.

Leo Jandreau, union business agent, says the company's plan to put the 3,000 piece workers on day work rates would mean wage lossses ranging from $1,500 to $4,000 a year for each worker.

The union and the company are trying to negotiate a new contract. The company says it aims to make the plant more competitive. The union's executive board acted Monday night on the piecework proposal.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Although the three major television networks have been proclaiming for some time that their fall schedules were "locked up," somebody at ABC has kept the key.

In a sudden change of plans Monday, ABC announced it would drop its Saturday evening "Hootenanny" folk - song program and replace it with "The Outer Limits," a science fiction drama series that has done pretty well this season.

The move undoubtedly is popular with the "Outer Limits" people, because it had been pitted next season opposite both "The Beverly Hillbillies" and "The Dick Van Dyke Show," two CBS programs which are among the most popular shows on the channels.

Into that tough Wednesday evening spot dominated by the CBS comedy shows, ABC has placed a new musical show — designed primarily to appeal to teen-agers — called "Shindig," followed by "Mickey," a situation comedy starring Mickey Rooney, pulled out of its Friday night lineup. Mickey's replacement will be a comedy series called "Valentine's Day," starring Tony Franciosa.

The shifts do little to change the general complexion of next season's Saturday night programming. "Outer Limits" at 7:30 p.m. (Eastern time) has a strong appeal to the young audience as does NBC's pair of new comedy shows at the same time: "Flipper," which has a domesticated dolphin for a star, followed by a cartoon series about croak-voiced Mr. Magoo.

As cars are taxed today, so in the past were Roman chariots, coolie-drawn palanquins of the East and English hackney coaches.

That will leave adults of all ages in the great audience with a choice between Jackie Gleason's variety hour, a good book or a night on the town.

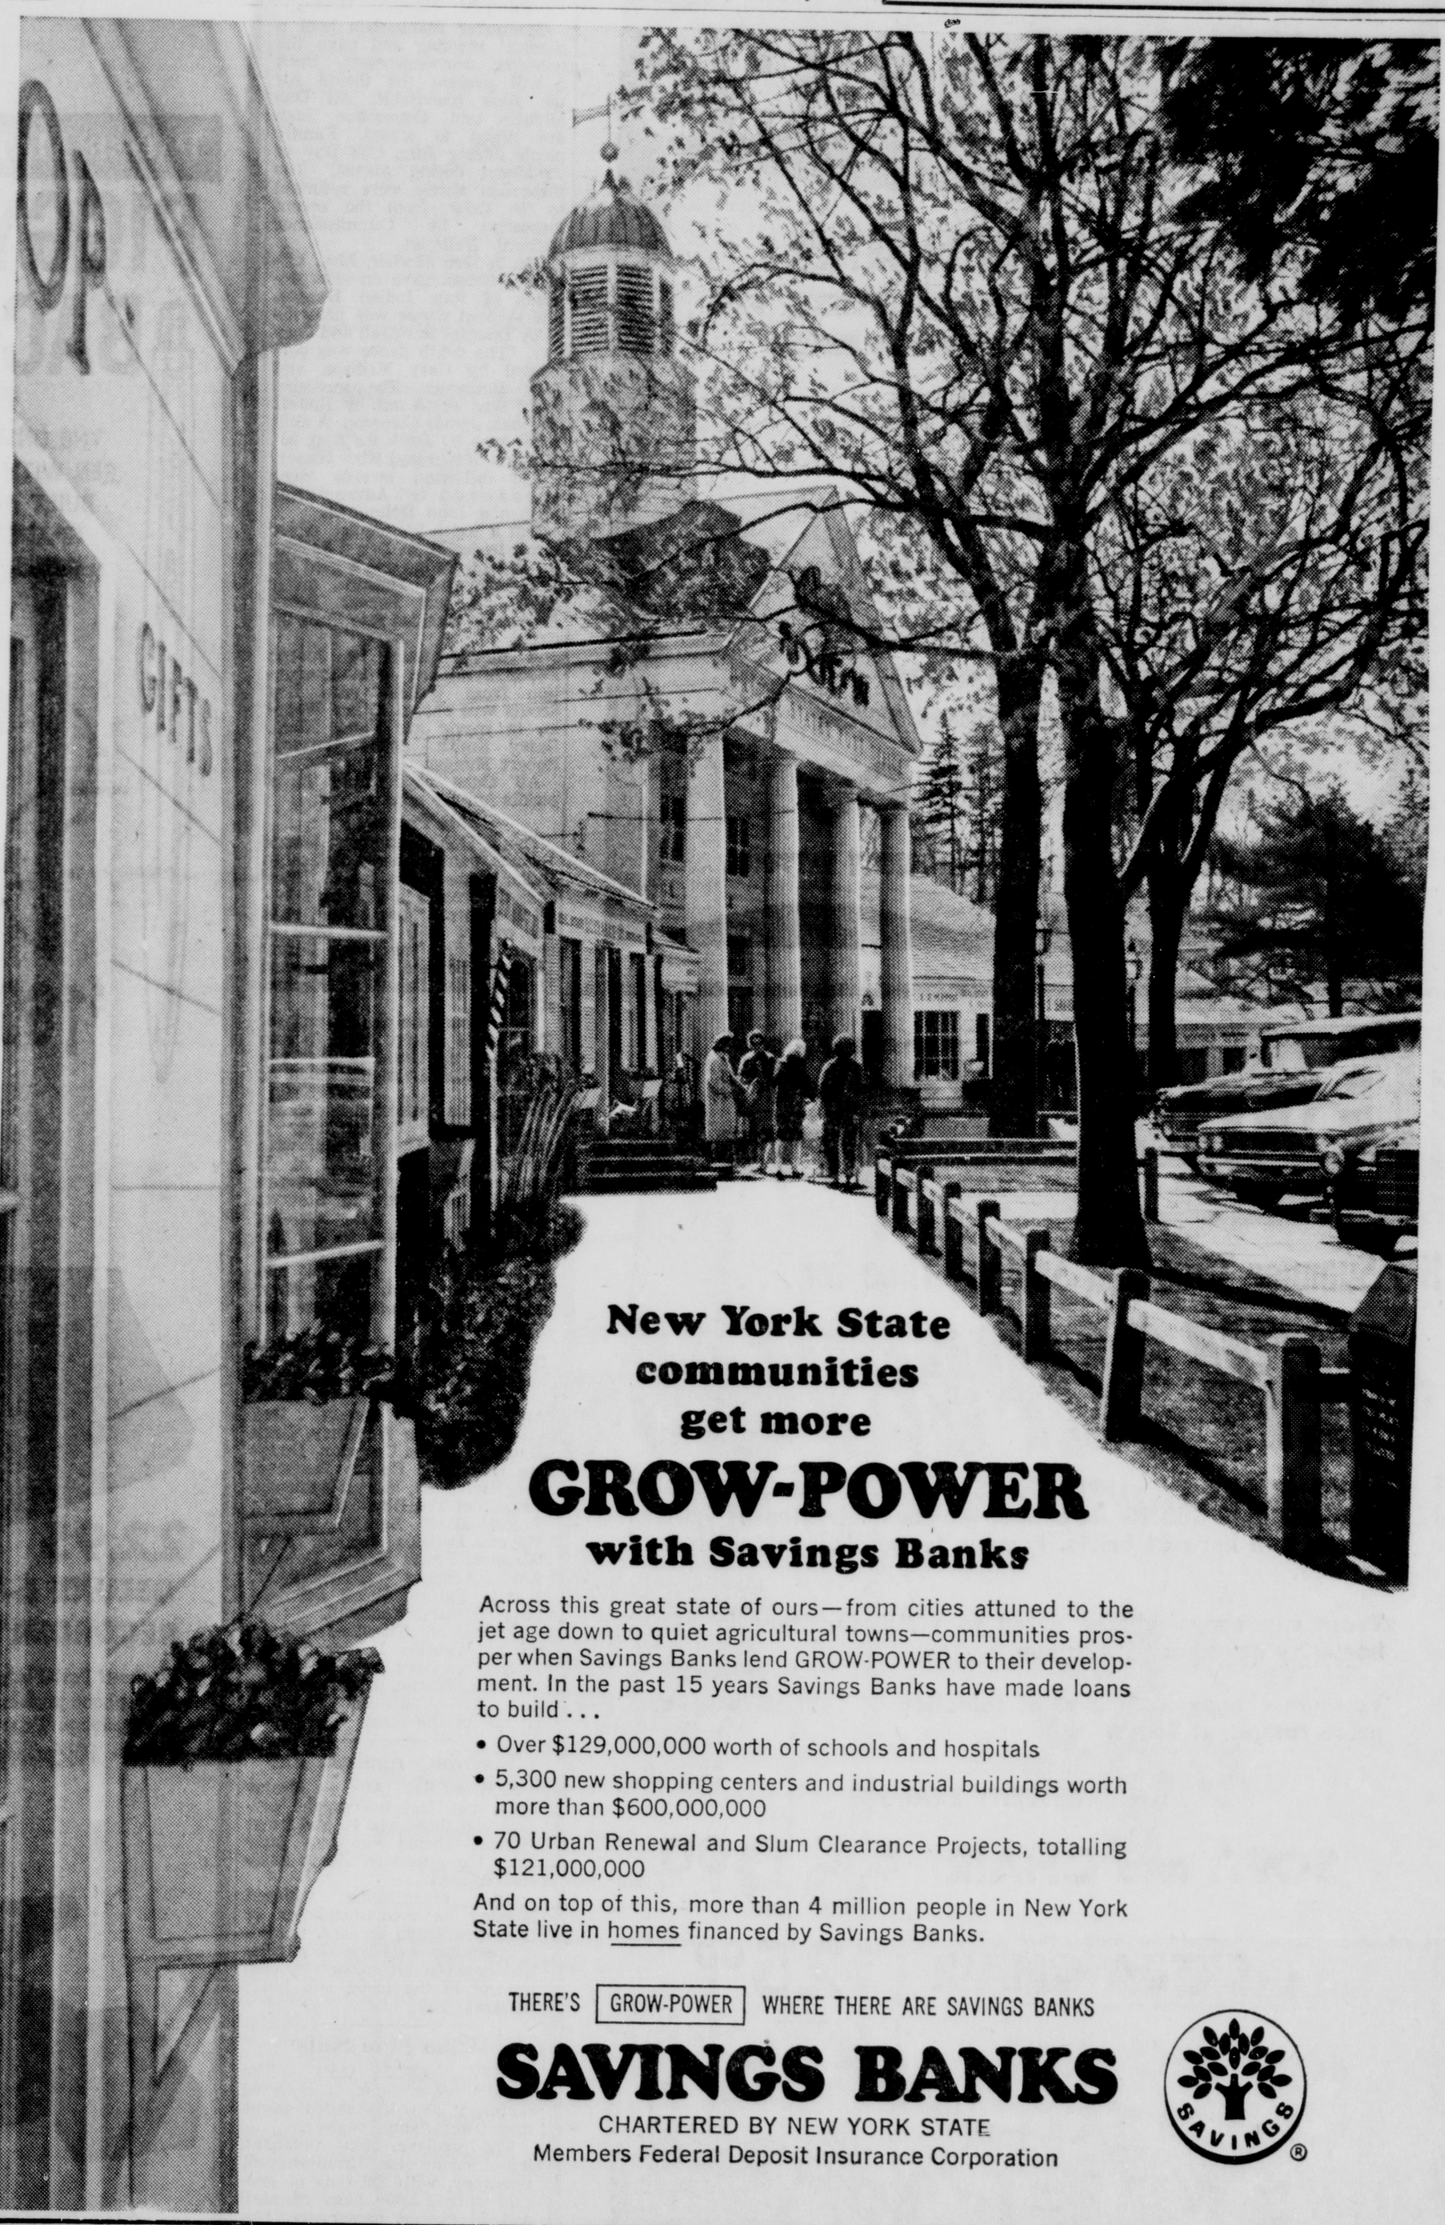

The really good news today is that at long last CBS' Ed Sullivan Show has finally concluded its bookings of British rock 'n' roll groups, although the situation makes one wonder how those teen - age female screamers in his studio audiences will now spend their Sunday evenings.

Warning Against Fat

NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody, not just overweight persons and those who've had heart disease, should eat less fatty food, the American Heart Association says.

The organization widened Monday its recommendation of three years ago because, it said, of mounting evidence of a relation between fat consumed, cholesterol in the blood and heart disease.

Atom Ship Sails

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's first atom - powered merchant ship has sailed on its first transatlantic voyage.

Hollywood News and Views

By BOB THOMAS . .

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The way Jimmy Stewart tells it, he was sitting at the feet of Brigitte Bardot as they had drinks in her Paris apartment.

The French beauty gave a toss of her blonde hair and smiled at him. "I simply love the kind of man who sits on the floor," she murmured.

And where was Mrs. Stewart at this time?

"Oh, she was sitting on the other side of Brigitte," the actor said. "It was a small room, and the floor was the only place I could find to sit. Me, a floor-sittter? I had never done it in my life before. It's too far for guys like me to get down there."

But Jimmy apppreciated the compliment from B.B., and he has nothing but praise for her as an actress. He recently returned from filming a five-minute sequence with her in Paris for "Erasmus With Freckles," her first American film. She plays Brigitte Bardot.

"Man, she was great," said Stewart, who is not given to easy enthusiasm. "She was on time, she knew her lines, even though she is unfamiliar with English, and she delivered them with skill. And sexy! She's really got it.

"She has that quality that all the great ones had, and I'm thinking back to the days of Jean Harlow. They start with a great physical appeal, but they learn their business, too. They all turn out to be good actresses."

Henry Koster, who is directing and producing "Erasmus With Freckles," confirmed the French charmer's acting skill.

"We had no trouble at allw ith her," he said. "We shot th 11 pages of dialogue in three days."

First Round Tells Story

British players have a pleasant custom of saying, "Thank you, partner," when dummy hits the table.

Good British players also make it a point to think a while before playing one of dummy's cards. They have found out—as have good American players — that the way to win is to think first and act afterwards.

South was neither British nor a good player so he didn't bother to thank his partner nor to do any thinking. Instead he reached over to dummy and pulled out the ace of diamonds with the fatuous remark, "Aces were made to take kings."

East produced the three of trumps and said, "Trumps were invented to take care of both of them."

The rest of the hand was played slowly and in complete silence. South ran off his seven trump tricks with funeral pace. Just what he expected to accomplish by this manner is not apparent. East hung on to spades, and eventually South had to concede a trick in that suit.

Had South bothered to think at trick one, he would have saved his ace of diamonds. He could well afford to lose that first trick, then he woud have that ace of diamonds available for a spade discard.

Dear Abby . . .

Mother's Work Never Done!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Every Mother's Day my married children "honor" me by bringing their families to me to feed. This Mother's Day I had 22 here. All the men played cards, and the girls sat in the living room laughing and gossiping while I was in the kitchen doing all the work. Pa helped me dry the dishes. I love my children and grandchildren, but I am getting too old to work like this. If I am still around next year, how can I let them know that I would rather not be be "honored" like this again without hurting their feelings?

GETTING OLD

GETTTING OLD: WHAT feelings? Tell all your children before Mother's Day that Dad is taking you out for dinner. And then see that he does, if you have to use the money you've stashed away in the sugar bowl to help him.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: You said in your column that if a boy says something dirty or out of line in front of a girl, and the girl's brother hears it, it is his place to stand up for his sister and tell the boy off. What if a girl doesn't have a brother? My girl friend and I talked over this problem because it has happened to us. She says if a boy says something dirty, the girl should ignore it. What do you think?

ANOTHER FRESHMAN

DEAR FRESHMAN: To ignore offensive language implies that it has your approval. A girl should tell a boy who gets out of line in this manner that he should watch his language. And in no uncertain terms!

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman physician with three children who don't like to do dishes. I told my problem to a remarkable patient of mine who not only raised her own family but raised several foster children, and did a wonderful job. She sent me a copy of a little poem that she keeps pasted above her kitchen sink:

"Thank God for dirty dishes,
They have a tale to tell;
While other folks go hungry,
We're eating very well.
With Home and Health and Happiness
We should't want to fuss,
For by this stack of evidence,
God's very good to us!"

Since I have put up this sign I have had no complaints.

Tug, Oil Barge Continue Voyage, Aground Earlier

The vessels freed themselves about 10:25 a. m. when the tide changed.

Both went aground on the Esopus Meadows south of Port Ewen during a heavy morning fog.

The Coast Guard reported the tug, owned by Kehoe of Brooklyn and the barge owned by Seaboard Shipping Corporation of 17 Battery Place, appeared to be aground on the flats about a half mile north of Esopus light and approximately a quarter mile off shore.

This location would place it about opposite the old Schleede brickyard and about mid-way between the old Sun Oil dock where Port Ewen is now installing a plant to take water from the river, and the Esopus light.

Supervisor Roger Mabie of Town of Ssopus, who resides on River Road, Port Ewen reproted the river had been covered with haze early today and that two ships anchored off shore had kept their fog signals running during the night. He reported the tug and barge had apparently been traveling down river, the barge being light, when they ran aground.

It is customary for loaded barges to be pushed up river and towed when being taken light down river. Both vessels were headed east-west during the early morning instead of north-south as the channel runs.

Confident Ike

ty and Republicans nationally are bigger than any individual."

Close to Nomination

This seemed to signal the general recognition that Goldwater is close to having the nomination in his pocket. Nevertheless, Rockefeller is reported to have told Eisenhower that with the senator on top of the ticket the result might be disastrous in New York, Ohio and Illinois. Scranton and Romney already have made it plain they have similar fears in Pennsylvania and Michigan.

Rockefeller, who absorbed a fateful licking from Goldwater in last week's California presidential primary, dropped by the senator's table during the dinner.

"Congratulations on that California victory," Rockefeller said. "You and I were the only ones who stuck it out."

Predicts LBJ Win

Democrats, crowded out of the headlines by the uproar created at this conference by the Republican minority, bid for some attention through a statement of Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey.

Hughes said, in obvious reference to Goldwater, that the leading candidate for the GOP presidential nomination "espouses philosophies which time and again have been rejected by the people of our state." Hughes predicted President Johnson would carry New Jersey in November.

Then Republican governors, worried about some of Goldwater's positions, labored over a statement of principles which they felt might influence the San Francisco convention to adopt a platform more liberal than the conservative views expressed by the senator.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, invited to have breakfast with the Republican governors, predicted that if Goldwater gets the nomination he will accept a platform which will unite the party behind him.

"I respect the evaluation of the situation by the experts, but Sen. Goldwater still does not have the majority of the delegates. In the next few days, the Goldwater tide could put the senator over or, on the other hand, a new trend could develop.

Eisenhower proposed in a speech to the conference Monday night that the states originate a constitutional amendment which would give the president the power to veto individual items in congressional money bills.

He said this ought to be linked with amendments which would require a president to submit to Congress federal budgets "which balance at least biennially" and which would provide that Congress could increase presidential monetary requests only by a two-thirds vote.

into the Missouri River. Upstream gates at Canyon Ferry Dam near Helena were closed to lower the pressure on the fast-rising Missouri.

The Sun, which joins the Missouri at Great Falls, was expected to reach a crest of 20 feet—more than eight feet above flood stage—late today at Great Falls. This would cause lowland flooding surpassing a 1953 flood that caused millions of dollars damage.

Wallace Sees . . .

Wallace said, "I would have gone into California."

He said he intends to go into more states seeking to win unpledged electoral votes.

"It is conceivable that you could get enough electoral votes to hold the balance of power as to who is and who is not going to be the next president," Wallace said.

Financial and Commercial

Gains and losses of most key stocks were kept within a 1-point range.

Some of the higher-priced, more volatile issues tacked on 2 points or more.

Airlines, chemicals, rubbers, motors and electronics showed a generally higher trend, but it was very mild. Steels, rails, tobaccos, farm implements and aerospace issues were mixed. Electrical equipments declined slightly.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 300.4 with industrials up .1, rails off .2 and utilities unchanged.

Texas Gulf Sulphur rebounded a point in early trading from its 9⅝-point loss of Monday, but it erased the recovery in later dealings and eased.

Up about 2 points were IBM, Polaroid and Xerox.

Gains of a point or so were made by Du Pont, Control Data and Time Inc.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Story Is Primary Results to Oust Carlino for Speno

NEW YORK (AP) — State Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino will be out as Nassau County Republican leader within two weeks, the New York Herald Tribune said today.

The GOP Executive Committee will pick a new leader—probably state Sen. Edward J. Speno — whether or not Carlino submits his resignation, a story from Garden City said.

Want New Man

The story said the situation is this:

"Jolted by some of the results in last week's primary election, party leaders want a new head man for the November campaign. It has generally been expected that Mr. Carlino would leave the leader's post after the election. But he will leave much sooner."

The newspaper said Carlino's forthcoming exit was learned Monday "from party leaders in a position to know."

No Truth, He Says

It quoted Carlino as saying: "I am not resigning and I am not thinking of resigning. There is not a word of truth in it."

The story also said:

Repulbican sources confirmed that the informal leadership of the 100-member county executive committee had decided in a series of meetings that Carlino will be replaced.

Carlino took over as GOP county leader in June, 1961.

Although the consensus now seems to be for Speno for county leader, presiding supervisor Palmer D. Farrington is said to have an outside chance.

Charles Saccoman appeared for defendant and moved that the case be under the Youthful Offender statute. Judge Tucker reserved decision. The acts allegedly took place on April 22 and 28, 1964.

John Murray, Kingston, who stands charged with second and third degree assault on Amy May Murray on May 4, last, entered a plea of not guilty and his case was set down for June 29 at 2 p. m. Marshall Lipton appeared for defendant.

Thomas Vincent Davide, 16, charged with third degree burglary and unlawful entry at the M. J. M. School, had his case adjourned to June 11 at 1 p. m. after his attorney Charles Saccoman moved to dispose of the matter under the Youthful Offender law. Bail was continued and decision reserved on the motion.

Three indictments charging Robert James Beasley and McDonald Elwood Taylor with burglary, grand larceny and unlawful entry, were moved over to the September term of court. They are now confined to Sing Sing prison, Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torraca told the court.

Panama Politico Out Of Danger From Shots

PANAMA (AP)—Roberto (Tito) Arias was given a chance to live today while police sought a disappointed party associate who pumped three bullets into the colorful, controversial politician.

Arias' wife, British ballerina Dame Margot Fonteyn, said in Bath, England, her brother-in-law, Harmodio Arias, telephoned her that her husband was "out of danger."

Dr. Antonio Gonzalez Revilla, who headed a team of neurosurgeons in a 2½-hour operation on Arias, said it would be 72 hours before he could say whether his 45-year-old patient would live or whether he would be paralyzed.

It was the second political shooting since Panama's national elections May 10.

Panama's U.N. ambassador, Aquilino Boyd, fired two shots May 21 at the editor of a newspaper which accused Boyd of election fraud. The editor, Escolastico Calvo, received a minor wound.

Arias was in surgery twice Monday night over a period of almost eight hours. First, doctors removed bullets from his right arm and his right side. He was given blood transfusions. Then the surgeons removed a bullet which lodged against the spinal column and caused paralysis.

Dame Margot said that unless her husband had a relapse, she hoped to go ahead with her first of three performances with Rudolf Nureyev at the Bath Festival tonight.

The couple were last together three weeks ago when Dame Margot stopped for a few days in Panama en route to Europe after an Australian tour.

Arias was riding in a car driven by Reynaldo Medina Monday when they met Jimenez' car stopped at an intersection for a red light.

Witnesses said Jimenez spotted Arias, leaped from his car, whipped out a pistol and fired.

"You're not going to cross me up," Medina said Jimenez shouted.

Arias and Jimenez, in his late 30s, ran as candidates for deputy and alternate deputy, respectively, in the National Assembly. Publication of the vote count Monday showed Jimenez elected, but as an alternate for another deputy and not Arias.

Speculation was that Jimenez believed he would have less chance to sit in the assembly than he would have had as Arias' alternate.

Legislators Get License Plates Not Too Ornate

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The State Motor Vehicle Department is issuing special, low-number license plates, less ornate than originally planned, to members of the Legislature and New York's congressmen and U.S. senators.

Instead of bearing the state's colors — blue and gold — the plates) have the same color combination as regular plates, which have orange letters on a black background.

A department spokesman said Monday the change was made because blue paint pigment is more expensive and perhaps less durable than the standard pigment.

And legislative aides indicated that some lawmakers considered the original color scheme too distinctive and had expressed concern that constituents might frown on such a "status symbol."

Motor Vehicle Commissioner William S. Hults Jr., who conceived the special-plate plan, sent notices last week advising eligible lawmakers that their new plates were ready. About 35 applications have been received so far, the department said.

The special plates bear along the top the legends "N.Y. Assembly" or "N.Y. Senate" or "U.S. Senate" or "U.S. Congress." The bottom line reads "NY World's Fair '64" — the same as regular plates.

An applicant for a special plate must surrender his current plate and a $2 fee — the customary charge for transfers.

The department said it cost about 13 cents each to make the plates. They are manufactured at Auburn State Prison.

Check Oswald's Travels

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials begin testifying before the Warren Commission today about the travels and activities of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of assassinating President John F. Kennedy.

The commission obtained written reports from the State Department some time ago but now wants to get first-hand accounts from those who dealt with Oswald or handled various questions within the department concerning his travels and Communist associations.

The commission hopes to complete its report by the end of this month.

Barriers Lowered

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Segregation barriers at the University of Alabama, where Gov. George C. Wallace staged his brief "schoolhouse door" stand last year, have been lowered further.

The school now has three Negro women registered for summer session classes. Vivian Malone of Mobile, one of the two Negroes admitted under federal court order in June 1963, has been joined by Ruth Benella Lewis of Birmingham and Velma Thompson, a Tuscaloosa high school teacher.

Rochester Town Board Upholds Planners on 32

The regular meeting of the Town Board of the Town of Rochester was held in the town clerk's office June 4 at which time the following business was transacted.

The contract for the construction of the addition to the First Municipal Building of the Town of Rochester was awarded to the H. C. Schwab Construction Co., Inc., lowest bidder. The addition will include the installation of toilet facilities.

The town board approved the recommendation of the Planning Board, whereby the town, at the present time, should not accept the upper portion of the Project 32 Road. They also recommended that, when Project 32 is developed into a recreational area, the matter should be restudied. The Planning Board recommened acceptance of the road in the Sheldon Development, providing that the road satisfied the requirements of the town superintendent of highways and the present town road specifications. The town board approved the aforementioned recommendation.

Supervisor Franklin S. Kelder read new specifications for minor town roads, which were drafted by the Planning Board and various town officials. It was agreed that this would be discussed further, before final acceptance. The fuel oil contract was awarded jointly to William Anderson Inc. and Dunn Fuel Oil, for a period of six months each. The two bids, submitted at an earlier meeting and held for discussion, were both quoted at 12 cents per gallon.

Two Hearings

Meanwhile, voters in the Beacon School District will have an opportunity to air their views on a tentative 1964-65 budget at a public hearing scheduled from 7 to 8 tonight. The tentative budget calls for an appropriation of $1,952,750., compared with the current budget of $1,774,337.

Don't Buy Stock If Company Under Cloud

Q) "I am 28 years old and am considering buying some stock in the near future. I am primarily interested in growth. I was thinking of American Express, because I work for the company but do not know whether this is regarded as a growth stock. Is there any other stock you would prefer?" P.K.

A) In my opinion, you work for a very fine company that has compiled an unusually long record of consistent growth. Unfortunately, however, a minor subsidiary became involved in the Bayonne vegetable oil scandal and the parent company feels morally — though not legally — bound to make good part of the large sum of money lost when the oils vanished.

Amex has already made a very large offer to settle all claims against its subsidiary, but this offer has met opposition. For the time being, the stock is under a cloud and I would avoid it.

I suggest American Telephone as your initial purchase.

Q) "We are in our 30's, both have jobs and enough cash for emergencies. We have $2,500 available, and here are our choices: Sears, Roebuck; Long Island Lighting or another good utility; a food stock; California or other state tax-exempt bonds. Which would you advise?" E.R.

A) You seem like a nice young couple, and although I strongly favor all your choices, I'll do my best to pinpoint one for you.

I think we can eliminate tax-exempts. From a marketability standpoint, I would not buy less than $5,000 in a municipal issue.

Sears, Roebuck is one of my best-liked issues, as is also Long Island Lighting. However, I have recently been doing some work on a very strong food stock, Consolidated Foods, and I think this might be a good choice in your position. Consolidated is showing marked growth. For 40 weeks ended April 4, 1964 earnings gained 28 per cent over the year earlier period.

3 Drivers Fined, Sentencing Put Over on Other

A driver charged with speeding as a second offender was fined $50 in city court today, and sentence of another, who pleaded guilty to four charges, was put over to Thursday.

Michael J. Gallagher Jr., 18, of East Chester Street Extension, paid the $50 fine.

Four charges dealing with lack of license, no registration, unsafe tires and driving an uninspected vehicle were lodged against Charlotte Jansen, 23, of RD 1, Box 169-A, Kingston, Monday. She pleaded guilty this morning and Special City Judge Bernard A. Feeney Jr., postponed sentence until Thursday. She was released in her own recognizance.

Allen Peck, 18, of 202 Third Avenue, charged with speeding, was fined $20, and Helen Miller, 34, of Ulster Park, charged with a stop-sign violation, was fined $5 Monday.

Reach Alaska Safely

UNALASKA, Alaska (AP)—A doughty Montana ranch family has arrived safely at its sprawling new holdings on the side of an inactive volcano on this island far out on the Aleutian chain.

"It took us 11 days and five hours," Rufus Choate, late of Miles City, Mont., said Monday. "The weather was very good all the way. The sea was exceptionally calm."

Choate, who is 52, his wife, his daughter, Susan, 20, his sons, Jim, 19, and Ted, 10, and his combination first mate-ranchhand, Jack Graham of Clatskanie, Ore., weighed anchor May 22 for the long voyage north through the Inside Passage to Ketchikan, Alaska, west across the Gulf of Alaska to Kodiak and then down the Aleutians to Unalaska.

Phoenicia Man Arrested Again, Reckless Driver

Bruce Edward Curtis, 22, of Phoenicia, who recently finished serving 50 days in jail on charges lodged after a police chase from Saugerties to Kingston in April, pleaded guilty in city court today to one imposed locally, and was sentenced to 10 days in jail with credit for time served while he awaited appearance here.

Curtis was booked Saturday by local police on charges of reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident, and driving the wrong way on a one-way street. He appeared before Special City Judge Bernard A. Feeney Jr., this morning, with Attorney Ward W. Ingalsbe Jr., and a plea of guilty was entered to the reckless driving charge.

The other charges were dismissed, but it was indicated that his driving the wrong way on a one-way street was cited in the reckless driving charge. His completed sentence came of five traffic charges and court appearances in the Town of Saugerties.

Saugerties police said the arrest of Curtis last April 17 followed a chase at speeds of over 100 miles an hour by Saugerties Patrolman Harry Vickery. Police said Curtis ran from the car he drove after it struck one here and he was caught by Officer Vickery as he attempted to scale a fence off upper Broadway.

War on Typhoid Is Started by 30,000 Books on Disease

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) —Municipal authorities Monday began distributing 30,000 copies of a 12-page booklet on how to stamp out typhoid, as the city's outbreak of the disease reached a new peak.

The number of cases reported in the city rose Sunday to 402, of which 342 have been confirmed as typhoid. The number of confirmed cases is now higher than in the worst previous modern outbreak in Britain. In the 1937 outbreak in London's Croydon suburb there were 340 confirmed cases, of whom 43 died. One death has been reported in the current outbreak.

Aberdeen's medical officer of health, Dr. I. A. G. MacQueen said Sunday the pattern of the outbreak in the city now suggests that it is coming under control.

It is to help perfect the city's food hygiene that the booklet is being distributed. Dr. MacQueen said latest reports indicated almost all the city's residents were cooperating toward mastering their food and personal hygiene procedures.

Stratton Against Nominating RFK For Senate Run

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., said to be interested in becoming a candidate for U.S. senator, has voiced indirectly his opposition to a suggestion that Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy be nominated to run for the Senate from New York.

"Real victory for our party and for the people of New York can come only from within our state and within our party framework," Stratton told a Democratic audience Monday night.

Although he did not mention Kennedy by name, Stratton obviously referred to a proposal that New York Democrats nominate the attorney general to oppose Republican Kenneth B. Keating next fall.

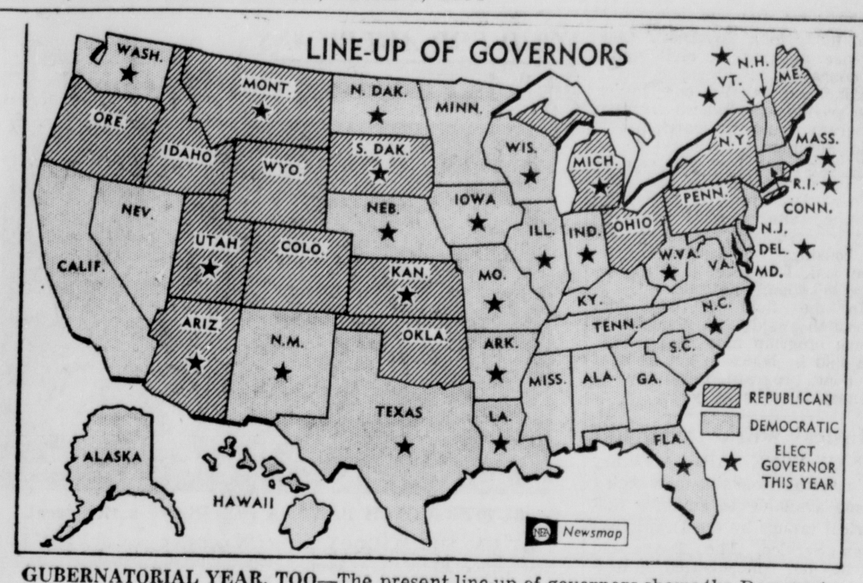

He commented in an appearance before the Democratic State Platform Committee — here for the first of three Upstate hearings on matters pertaining to the 1964 national platform.

Stratton previously had said he did not believe Kennedy was interested in the nomination. Kennedy says he has not decided whether he will seek the senatorial candidacy from New York.

Another witness, Nicholas Kisburg of Teamsters Union Joint Council 16, said the challenge in the United States was to enlarge the "pitifully few pockets of alluence," rather than to eliminate pockets of poverty.

"Too many people in New York State do not have a full belly," Kisburg said.

The committee scheduled the second Upstate hearing today in Buffalo and will be in Rochester Wednesday.

Student Pleads Guilty to Theft

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Bruce Berlin, 21, and "A" student who was graduated Sunday from Syracuse University, has pleaded guilty in federal court to a charge of mail theft.

Berlin, described by a university spokesman as an "A" student, received a bachelor of arts degree Sunday at the university's 110th commencement. The spokesman said the school considered him innocent of the theft charge, unless he were proved guilty.

Dante M. Scaccia, U.S. Attorney, said Berlin was arrested last December by postal inspectors who had been watching him. Scaccia said the letters were addressed to local businessmen and contained money. He declined to say how much.

Scranton Favors Crash Program on Education in CR

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton contended today the nation's civil rights controversy is rapidly approaching a "violence situation."

The governor proposed at the National Governors' Conference here that a "crash program in education be developed to offset the problem."

"It seems to me the frustration of the Negro has grown so rapidly that we are fast approaching a violence situation," Scranton declared.

He outlined for newsmen a proposal he said he would present today to a Governors' Conference meeting on civil rights in education.

Education is the one major civil rights area where a crash program could be carried out, said Scranton.

"I don't see how you can do it in employment," he said. "There just aren't enough jobs.

"The same applies in housing." A sudden rearrangement of housing "would lead to friction and, I believe, a retrogressive reaction," he said.

In the field of education, Scranton said he thought a crash program may be possible. He said he hopes to get at least a pilot program underway in Pennsylvania next year.

They want the American president to take over their little island 300 miles northeast of Australian New Guinea. They expect him to bring vast riches.

To swell their purchase fund, they are refusing to pay the head tax of $4.48 a year. The movement reportedly has 2,500 members.

The Australian administration has sent District Commissioner Mick Healey and more than 40 armed police to New Hanover from neighboring New Ireland Island. New Hanover has a population of 8,000 Papuans and a dozen uneasy whites.

Showdown Looms For Leadership Battle in Erie

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — A leadership struggle in the Erie County Republican Committee appears headed for a showdown with announced opposition to Committee Chairman Robert W. Grimm's bid for re-election.

Thomas W. Ryan, a one-time consultant to state Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, who has been involved in the struggle with Grimm, announced Monday he would face Grimm in committee elections Wednesday.

Ryan, who resigned recently as president of the Niagara Frontier Transit System, has the support of the Mahoney wing of the County GOP group.

If elected, Ryan said, he would "serve to the very best of my ability, free and clear of entanglements with any group or faction."

Grimm said, "My opponent is not only sponsored by the Mahoney camp, but, as a matter of fact, he was at one time on Sen. Mahoney's payrool in Albany."

Ryan said he served as a consultant to Mahoney for two months in 1952.

Takes Barry for Granted

Johnson Acts Like He Can't Wait for Campaign to Start

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson acts like a man who can't wait for the 1964 presidential campaign to start. It actually has started, although it is not supposed to until after this summer's political conventions.

Johnson already has begun firing at complaints Republicans are making and seem sure to continue until Election Day, one way or another. More than that: he sounds as if he takes for granted that Sen. Barry Goldwater will be his opponent.

A speech last week was a direct answer to Goldwater's misgivings about American defenses. Monday he hit at another Goldwater complaint: that government is getting too big and endangering freedom.

There's a touch of the Republican campaign of 12 years ago when Dwight D. Eisenhower ran for the White House. Eisenhower himself got into the act Monday with one of his favorite themes of 1952: cut government spending.

Aims at Budgets

At the Governors' Conference in Cleveland Monday, Eisenhower, who has been super-cautious about making any suggestions in the Republican presidential contest, urged a constitutional amendment requiring balanced budgets every two years.

Like Goldwater, he deplored bigness in government. But when he talks about cutting government spending he is in a prickly field where he had to eat his own words when he was president.

In 1952 he promised to reduce expenses to $60 billion yearly from what he said was then $80 billion, although actually it was $74 billion. But he hedged it a bit. He said he'd make the reduction "assuming the cold war gets no worse."

He also promised to balance the budget. He never got the budget down to $60 billion. In his last fiscal year it went up to $81.5 billion, highest in peacetime history, with a deficit of almost $4 billion.

Three Times in Eight Years

He managed to balance the budget only three times in eight years. At the end of his second term the national debt was the highest in history. Both the debt and the budget went up further under President John F. Kennedy.

In the course of his talk to the governors, Eisenhower took a crack at Johnson's antipoverty program. Johnson could not have known, when he prepared hs own speech, what Eisenhower was going to say Monday.

But what he said, while undoubtedly aimed at Goldwater, answered Eisenhower, too, on the question of government bigness. Johnson said the nation need have no fear it was getting too big for the freedom-loving individual.

Goldwater has been playing his warning about bigness over and over like a record.

Swindled, He Writes

As long ago as 1960, in his book, "Conscience of a Conservative," Goldwater was saying:

"How did our national government grow from a servant with sharply limited powers into a master with virtually unlimited powers? In part we were swindled.

"Alll too often we have put men in office who have suggested spending a little more on this a little more on that, who have proposed a new welfare program, who have thought of another variety of security.

"We have taken the bait, preferring to put off to another day the recapture of freedom and the restoration of our constitutional system."

Barry Tones Down

Johnson said government neither subverts, undermines nor lessens freedom "through the Social Security System, or by bringing electricity to the farm. . .by controlling floods, by ending bank failures. . .by providing school lunches for our children."

Goldwater has toned down his statements about the Social Security System. He suggested putting it on a voluntary basis, although how it could then survive he never explained.

After he lost the New Hampshire primary in March his campaign manager there said he had pulled a major boner in advocating a voluntary Social Security System.

Since then Goldwater has been saying he simply wants to improve Social Security, not end it, by keeping the dollar sound.

Carlino Charges Defense Cutbacks Generate Fear

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) —Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino accused President Johnson's administration today of using a "guillotine approach" in defense cutbacks.

The result, he said, has been to generate "a climate of fear . . .in various sectors of our economy, particularly in areas such as Buffalo and my own Long Island community where the overwhelming majority of industry is defense-based."

The Nassau County Republican leader today criticized the Democratic national administration in remarks prepared for a luncheon of the Greater Buffalo Advertising Club.

He also announced that the Legislature's GOP leadership would appoint an Economic Advisory Council to provide "expert opinion, criticism and advice" on ways of stimulating economic growth in New York State.

Carlino said the Johnson administration had taken a series of "thunderbolt actions closing down or drastically curtailing military contracts and installation" in New York and other states.

"Criticism of this guillotine approach is not partisan," he said. "Democratic as well as Republican congressmen from all sections of the country have been critical of this failure to recognize the tremendous impact of sudden shifts in federal expenditures."

Another Bid Made To Abandon Tracks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New York Central Railroad wants the Interstate Commerce Commission to reconsider its rejection of the railroad's proposal to abandon 127 miles of track in Oneida, Herkimer, Hamilton, St. Lawrence and Essex counties, N.Y.

The Central said Monday that, since an examiner recommended against the proposed abandonment a year ago, revenues have continued to decline, despite a 10 per cent fare increase.

The carrier also noted that the Post Office Department has discontinued a mail route served by the track involved, resulting in a revenue loss estimated at $100,000 a year.

The 127 mile section is a part of the Adirondack branch between Prospect Junction and Gabriels, a connecting line from that branch to the Ogdensburg branch, and another connection from Lake Clear Junction to Lake Placid.

If you are roasting that turkey without stuffing (for a buffet party) it's a good idea to serve hot buttered cornbread with the bird and whatever trimmings you're setting fourth.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Is the stock market playing its supposed function of barometer? Is it forecasting a slowdown in the economy in the next few months by bidding down prices now? Or is it just adjusting some past excesses and getting prices of specific stocks in better line with actualities and company prospects?

At the moment market analysts lean to the adjustment theory. They don't think the market is troubled by fears of a general business slowdown or worse.

Some industries anticipate their traditional summer slack period but this time perhaps less sharp than usual. Most are still confident, in public utterances at least, that the fall pickup will be better than usual.

Stock traders in their current show of caution, if that's what it is, come after a period of exuberance earlier this year has been matched by most businessmen and consumers.

The upward pace of the economy has been encouraging, but not as fast as many had expected. The upswing has entered its 40th month with signs neither of tiring nor of getting over confident.

It will have to climb considerably faster this fall if the year as a whole is to reach the heights that some predicted for it last January.

Industrial production, employment and personal income all have been rising, with particularly notable spurts in April and May.

In production the stars have been autos and steel, with construction also turning in a good performance.

Next month, car plants will be changing over to new models. Steel mills will feel the usual effect of summer vacations closing the plants of some of their best customers.

Employment made an impressive advance in May. And the number of jobless fell. The percentage of jobless to the total labor force dropped to lowest figure in more than four years.

That is, it did for about all classes except teen-agers. June will see a great outpouring of students into the labor market, some looking for summer work, some for permanent employment. The teen-age unemployment problem is likely to get worse before it gets better.

Many economists think that the effects of the federal income tax cut are yet to be felt. A few think it will give less of a boost to the economy than it was supposed to.

The stock market seems almost alone in flying a warning flag, if that is what it's doing. More likely, perhaps, it is merely taking profits on past price increases, adjusting its thinking about certain companies, consolidating to be ready for whatever the autumn has in store.

TOKEN OF APPRECIATION

Q: One of my neighbors has been very kind and has gone out of her way on several occasions to do favors for me. I have just learned that she is having a birthday next week and I would like to buy her a birthday present to show my appreciation for her many kindnesses. My husband has advised me against this, not because he doesn't want me to give her a present but because he feels that I will be placing her under obligation to give me a present on my birthday. What do you advise?

A: I am inclined to agree with your husband and think it would be much better to give her a present at some other time raher than on her birthday, explaining that it is a small token of your appreciation for all the kind things she has done for you.

Leaving Fiancee Alone at Table

Q: I took my fiancee to dinner in a restaurant last evening and while we were waiting to be served, I spotted an old friend of mine sitting at another table. As I didn't see him for a long time, I went over and spoke to him. When I returned to our table my fiancee was very annoyed with me for having left her sitting alone and claims that I was very discourteous to her. Was I wrong?

A: It was not very courteous to your fiancee to leave her sitting alone at table and you should have waited until you were leaving to stop and speak to him.

NANCY HEPPNER

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

So you want to be a real companion to your husband? Most wives think they do. But not all wives are willing to make the effort.

If you ARE willing, none of these suggestions will seem like too much trouble to you:

Give your husband's favorite pastimes a real try. Don't refuse to go hunting because you're "scared to death of guns," or veto fishing because you think you'd be bored sitting in a boat all day.

Always have ideas of your own of something to do, so that when your husband asks "What would you like to do . . . ?" you don't give some such dispirited reply as "Nothing special, I guess."

Be a good sport. No one is a good companion who doesn't know how to make light of inconveniences, or how to fall in happily with new plans when the original ones don't work out.

Leave your worries at home. Your husband can never get away from it all, if you insist on bringing all your worries with you and discussing them endlessly.

Keep your advice to a minimum. Let your husband be in charge — even if you are inclined to manage things at home.

Be willing to do things on the spur of the moment. If your husband phones to ask you to dinner after you already have a roast in the oven, why mention it? You can use it for another meal.

Be enthusiastic. Don't go along half-heartedly with your husband's plans and expect him to be happy. Unless your enthusiasm matches his, any outing will turn out to be a dud.

Upstate Writers Cited For Medical Reporting

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—John Van Buren of the Rochester Democrat & Chronicle and Keith George of the Binghamton Sun-Bulletin today were named winners of the fifth annual Empire State Awards for excellence in medical reporting.

Both reporters were awarded $500 by the Annual Health Conference, Inc., which opened its 60th annual session here today.

Van Buren, who has been covering health, medicine and science for his paper for eight years, was nominated by the Monroe County Medical Society. The society said his stories had prompted improvements in the care of the elderly in nursing homes.

George was cited for his stories on open-heart surgery he underwent last April. He has been with the Sun-Bulletin since he was graduated from Syracuse University five years ago.

The Annual Health Conference presents the awards on behalf of the State Health Department and the Medical Society of the State of New York.

Meeting Today On Taking Young Farmers Abroad

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Plans are under way to send young New Yorkers trained in agriculture on a mission with the U.S. Peace Corps.

Robert C. Forsythe of the Metropolitan Milk Producers Bargaining Agency scheduled a meeting in Ithaca today with Peace Corps officials and representatives of the state 4-H Club organization and the extension service of the State College of Agriculture.

Forsythe said the purpose was to recruit 35 to 40 young people trained in agriculture who would volunteer to spend two years in the Peace Corps.

As proposed, the entire group would be sent to one country. Forsythe estimated it would take a year to get the project rolling. He said he had no particular country in mind for the project.

Bach, Berardi Paul Gruner Are Selected

Name Al Gruner 'Coach of Year'

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Kingston High school's DUSO champions dominate the 1964 All-Star team, as selected in Middletown yesterday by members of the DUSO Sportswriters and Broadcasters Assn.

Pitcher Brian Bach, catcher Paul Gruner and outfielder Nick Berardi are the three KHS players honored. Pitcher Gene Rios, third baseman Lou Perry, shortstop Mike Canning were awarded honorable mention berths.

Coach Al Gruner, who guided the locals to their first circuit title since the '48 season, was named "Coach of the Year." He beat Phil Chase of Port Jervis and Middletown's Ed Rodiek for the honors, the second time the KHS coach has captured the award in the past three seasons.

Paul Gruner, son of the coach, just missed being named "Player of the Year." He lost by a vote to Francis (Butch) Warnke, the hard hitting jack of all trades from Middletown.

Nolan Is Named

Joining Bach as pitcher on the first team is Joe Nolan of Port Jervis. The selections have Pete Petrillo, Newburgh, first base; John Bell, Port Jervis, second base; Frank Tether, Middletown, shortstop and Warnke at third.

Nolan, Warnke, Berardi and Parker are repeaters from last year. Warnke was also selected in 1962, giving him three straight seasons as an all-league performer.

Bach, one of the two sophomore pitching aces at Kingston, and Nolan, who hurled in all eight of Port's league games, were unanimous selections. Rios, the left handed side of the KHS mound corps, was a unanimous choice for his honorable mention berth.

Other sophomores named are Bell and Tether. Petrillo and George are juniors and the others are seniors.

An Untested Club

Gruner, who performed one of his greatest coaching jobs, richly deserves his laurels. He started the season with a young club and molded it into a solid contender.

Despite an opening setback to Port Jervis, the KHS coach kept his team close to the lead. After losing for a second time to the Raiders, the locals won the rest of their games and captured the title when Port blew to Newburgh and Poughkeepsie.

Gruner is a former semi-pro baseball player. He has a solid knowledge of the game and is recognized as one of the top scholastic diamond coaches in the area.

MONTICELLO New York, June 8 — Mountain Paul, a 41-1 outsider from the No. 8 hole, captured tonight's sixth race at Monticello, setting up a season's high twin double payoff of $17,156.40, collected by one lucky ticket-holder.

The winning combination was 2-8-6 as all others were eliminated after Army Hanover, 5-1, copped the seventh dash for $12.90. Adios Topper won the opening dash of the twin for a $10.10 return.

Wimpy's Upsets Armstrong's, 6-5

Wimpy's pulled off the biggest upset of the City Softball league by stopping unbeaten Armstrong - Commanche, 6--5.

In the only other game reported, G-G's Rest remained in the battle for top spot with an 8-2 win over The Retreat as Richie Hoffman twirled a one-hitter.

Wimpy's rose to the occasion in picking up its initial win of the season. The tailenders used a four run rally in the third inning to produce the decision.

Hoffman and Wells hit homers for the winners. Hobie Armstrong and Davis doubled for Armstrong - Commanche. Hobie also had a single and scored three of his team's runs.

Ed Palladino's MR Selections

BEST BET — Shadydale Payoff (4th)

UPSET CHANCE—Ted Woollen (2nd)

1. ANGELIQUE comes off impressive race at fair grounds. BOWL OF FLOWERS went good mile last week, being nipped in the stretch. GUNKAHAR doesn't show much but can beat the rest of this field.

2. LONG ENSIGN good old horse. Might take this one in the stretch. TED WOOLLEN hasn't won in two years but is rounding into shape. Might upset in this one. TARR'S TOUCHDOWN has pole and good driver.

3. BEDEVIL breezed in MR debut. Figures to be right there with Camper in the sulky. MISS SPEEDSTER won last three at Green Mountain. Will be the competition, despite post. HOBO FRANGRAY did well last week. Post aids this time.

4. SHADYDALE PAYOFF is the best bet of the night. Is in top shape and won last outing with something to spare. MYSTERY MELODY seeking third straight. CHOCKOYOTTE LEE has been in the money 11 times in 16 starts.

5. HANK figures despite the driver. TAG EM has been a disappointment. Might wake up here. LEROY HANOVER was hung in previous race and tired in the stretch. Can win with racing luck.

6. SONNY FROST consistent trotter. Has beaten much better. DARN REVUE will stay close and can win it in the trot to the wire. EVA'S SON was good last year.

7. FIRST NIGHTER seeking second straight at MR. Has top driver and favorable post. PORTER HANOVER will cut out fantastic pace and might hang on for second. MISS LEE SCOTT will benefit by the pace and can win it in the stretch.

8. BUNKER was bet heavy the last time. Might make amends here. BACHE ROSECROFT the chief challenger can take it all. JAM SESSION was aided by an accident in the last race. Is in deeper this time.

9. SENATOR PETE can come right back to take second straight. MAHONE TIME has been a disappointment. HILL TEST is always close.

Giannotti Slated to Attend Hargrave Military Academy

Richie Giannotti, the "Player of the Year" in the DCSL football league for the past two seasons, has enrolled at Hargrave Military Academy for the 1964-65 school session. He will take a post graduate college preparatory course at the school, located in Chatham, Virginia.

Giannotti recently concluded an outstanding high school career in both football and track. The 5-7 speedster played three seasons of varsity football and was one of the reasons why the Sawyers are clinging to a 31-game winning streak.

He holds the school record for the 100 and 220 yard dashes in track and took part in the state meet over the weekend in Ithaca.

Coach Bob Brown of Hargrave commented, "we are very fortunate in obtaining Giannotti's services for the '64 season. We certainly feel he will be a great asset to our backfield."

Hargrave is a member of the Virginias' Military School league and the Tigers' '64 football schedule includes four VMSL contests—Fork Union Military Academy, the defending champion; Staunton Military Academy; Augusta Military Academy and Greenbrier (W. Va.) Military School.

Three North Carolina opponents are also on the 1964 slate—home contests with Carolina Military Academy and the annual Parents' Week-End game—this year with the Guilford College Freshmen; and the away contest at Davidson College Freshmen. A home game with Frederick Military Academy rounds out the schedule.

Hutch to Rejoin Red Team Today

SEATTLE (AP)—Fred Hutchinson, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, was given a checkup of a cancerous growth in his chest Monday and headed for Los Angeles today to join his team.

Just before the examination, he said the outcome of the examination would decide whether he could rejoin the Reds or had to stay in Seattle a while.

He said he felt about the same as he did after receiving massive radiation treatment for six weeks early this year in Swedish Hospital's Tumor Institute in Seattle.

Dr. Orliss Wildermuth, head of the Tumor Institute, said he considered Fred's examination a routine checkup.

"What you don't know about car insurance can cost you money," says Nationwide

AMERICANS spend $6 billion a year on car insurance. Yet most people hardly know a thing about what they're buying.

Nationwide agents make a point of giving their customers all the facts, and we believe in doing the same thing in our advertising. Here are answers to some of the most often-asked questions about car insurance.

1. Will I get the same rates from all companies? No. You may be surprised to learn that there is a considerable difference between companies.

Some companies such as the Nationwide companies are much fussier than others about whom they insure. They accept only people with good driving records. As a result, they can charge less because they have fewer accident claims to pay.

If you're looking for car insurance, be sure to talk to a Nationwide man. There's a good chance he can offer a better deal on car insurance than his competition.

2. Are there different ways of figuring my rates? Yes. Few people realize there are two kinds of rating plans. They are "non-variable" and "variable."

"Non-variable" is the most popular kind. Your policy is based on flat rates which do not depend on your driving record.

"Variable" is the "merit-demerit" plan. The more accidents you have, the higher your rates. The fewer accidents, the lower your rates.

Here in New York, Nationwide Mutual sells the "flat rate" type of policy.

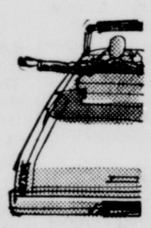

3. Why do men under 25 pay such high rates? Drivers in this age group have a much higher percentage of accidents than drivers in any other age group. And these young drivers have worse accidents, too.

NOTE: Nationwide knows that not all males under 25 are careless drivers. We were the first insurance company to offer lower rates to young men who complete a qualified driver training course.

4. What factors besides age affect rates? Several. The year of your car. Your occupation. The size of your town. How much you use your car. These things all count.

Keep your agent up-to-date on all points. For example, be sure to tell him if you move. Many people don't, and are paying a lot more than they should for car insurance.

5. Can a careful driver save money? Yes. A person with a good driving record can almost always qualify for insurance with a company like Nationwide. Nationwide can save a careful driver as much as $40 a year, or more.

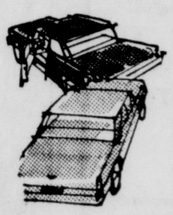

6. How do companies decide who's a careful driver? As yet no company has come up with a foolproof way of deciding. However, we are finding that careful drivers have certain things in common. For instance, they drive less than 20 miles to and from work. They've been in the same line of work for the past five years. And they're married.

Some of these things may not seem to have much to do with how well you drive, but we find they go together with an accident-free driving record.

7. Do women drivers pay less than men? Women over 25 pay the same as men. Women under 25 pay anywhere from 10 to 63 percent less than men in this age group. The reason? Young women have fewer accidents than young men. Our records prove it!

8. Why have my rates gone up even though I've never had an accident? Because insurance companies are paying out more money in claims than ever before. How come? There are more cars on the road than ever before (about 22 cars for every mile of road). There are more accidents per 100 cars. Cars cost more to repair. Juries are awarding bigger settlements.

As long as insurance companies have to pay out more, they have to take in more. Result: you pay higher rates.

9. What if I'm hit by a driver with no insurance? You can now buy insurance that will protect you if this happens. It's called Uninsured Motorists Coverage. You can add this protection to a Nationwide policy for just a few dollars.

10. Do some insurance companies offer faster claim service than others? Yes. But most companies today offer excellent claim service. They have to or they wouldn't stay in business.

Nationwide is the second largest mutual car insurer in the world. We think one reason we've gotten so big is that we pay over half of all our claims within 24 hours after proof of loss. Nearly two-thirds of all claims within 72 hours.

Amazing record for fast claim settlement

We believe our Nationwide drive-in claims station in Columbus holds the world record for fast payment.

Time between accident and payment—four minutes.

11. Do all insurance companies have drive-in claims stations? No. Only a few. Nationwide introduced the country's first drive-in claims station in 1954. We now have them in 48 cities. They are saving people time and trouble.

12. Can I lower my rates? There's a good chance you can. Here are some things you can do:

▶ Take a larger deductible amount on your collision coverage. This will lower your premium. Example: collision coverage with $100 deductible may cost you 25 to 30 percent less than the same coverage with $50 deductible.

▶ If you have a boy in high school who drives your car, enroll him in his school's driver training course. This may lower your liability rates 5 to 15 percent.

▶ If you own two cars, be sure they are both insured with the same company. You may get a discount. Nationwide generally offers a 10 percent discount for both cars.

▶ If you think you're a careful driver, and you have a good driving record, be sure to give Nationwide a try. You may find that we can save you some of your hard-earned money.

If you have any questions that are not answered in this advertisement, check the Yellow Pages for the number of a Nationwide agent.

Jaycees Golf Clinic At Wiltwyck, June 16

The first in a series of events in this year's Kingston Jaycees Junior Golf tournament is an instructional clinic, co-chairman Ed Baldyga and Bob Gholson announced today.

The clinic will be held Tuesday, June 16, at 6 p. m. at Wiltwyck Country Club. A second clinic is scheduled on June 19 at Wiltwyck. The instructions will be given by Scotty Robertson and Alex Gerlak, pros at Wiltwyck and Twaalfskill, respectively.

A driving contest will be held on June 26 at 6 p. m. Tee off times will be posted for the first round of the 36-hole elimination tournament which is scheduled on Sunday and Monday, June 28-29, at Wiltwyck.

Age Limitation

The only requirements are that a boy be a resident of Ulster county and not 18 years of age as of August 16, 1964. Applications are available at all the sporting goods stores in Kingston, as well as high schools and golf courses in Ulster county.

Deadline for entries is June 26 at the driving contest. Applications will also be available at the clinic.

The two low scorers in the Kingston eliminations will go to Auburn to vie for the New York state championship. An entry list of at least 50 boys is expected for this year's tournament. Thirty-five participated in 1963, with Dan Gaffney the winner.

Jaycees urge that all eligible boys get their entry blank in as soon as possible.

Koufax Allows Only Four Hits in 2-1 Win

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodger left-hander who makes a habit of being stingy with base hits, took a swipe at a second straight no-hitter Monday night and for four innings of a 2-1 Dodger victory over Cincinnati, he had staticians crambling for their record books.

Koufax retired the first 12 Reds he faced but No. 13, Deron Johnson, broke the spell with a home run. With the pressure off, Koufax gave up three more hits en route to his 100th career victory.

Sandy, whose third no-hitter came against Philadelphia last week, scored the tying run in the fifth when he forced Dick Tracewski who had walked, moved up on Maury Wills' single and scored on Willie Davis' hit.

VanderMeer Did It

Elsewhere in Monday's abbreviated major league schedule, Milwaukee whipped Houston 5-3 as Hank Aaron tagged a two-run homer, Cleveland's Leon Wagner took the major league RBI lead with a two-run homer and a run-producing single as the Indians topped Los Angeles 6-3, Jim King smashed three home runs but Washington bowed to Kansas City 5-4 and Detroit outslugged Minnesota 10-5.

The St. Louis at San Francisco National League afternoon game was rained out.

Koufax, bringing his record to 7-4 with his third consecutive victory, also was touched for a ninth-inning single by Johnson and two hits by Steve Boros. Boros beat out a bunt in the fifth and singled in the eighth.

Besides trying for a second straight no-hitter, Koufax also was trying to set a record by striking out 10 or more batters in a single game for the 55th time in his career. The record of 54 is shared by Bob Feller and Rube Waddell. Koufax, however, struck out only five.

Felipe Alou opened the Braves' first with a double. One out later, Aaron connected off Hal Brown, 1-6, and Milwaukee never trailed. Alou collected two doubles and Lee Maye also had two hits while Dave Roberts slammed two doubles and a single for the Colts.

Tony Cloninger, 4-5, got the victory but needed ninth-inning relief help when Houston pushed across two runs.

King's three-homer salvo and a pinch-hit homer by Don Zimmer all came with the bases empty. That left the Senators one run short.

Drabowsky Wins

The A's got a homer from Ed Charles in the first, then put it away with a four-run eighth-inning uprising. Rocky Colavito singled in two runs before George Alusik wrapped up the rally with a two-run homer. Moe Drabowsky got the victory, his first since April 25, and snapped a seven-game losing streak.

Wagner, who brought his RBI total to 46, and Bob Chance hit back-to-back homers in the eighth after singles by Joe Azcue and Dick Howser around a sacrifice had provided the tying run for the Indians. Chance's homer was his fourth in four games.

The Angels had taken a 3-2 lead in the seventh, chasing rookie Sonny Siebert, who had a four-hit shutout through six innings.

Don Demeter hit a homer for the Tigers in the first. Then, after the Twins tied it 2-2, Norm Cash hit a three-run shot in the third and put Detroit ahead to stay.

Smash Ring That Stole From PO

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal prosecutors say they have broken a burglary ring that stole $250,000 in money orders, stamps and cash from more than 30 post offices in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

They said the ringleader was Daniel Bozza, 42, of Jersey City, N.J., who was arraigned Monday in Brooklyn Federal Court on charges of forgery and passing stolen money orders.

He was held in $50,000 bail.

Also arraigned was Peter Tonnesen, 27, of Brooklyn, who was seized at his home. He was charged with forgery and passing stolen money orders and was held in $2,500 bail.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Martin R. Pollner said a total of $206,000 in blank money orders, each with a potential face value of $100, was stolen from the post office.

He said two other men had been arrested earlier in New Jersey.

Scranton Does Polka

The group sat quietly Monday night listening to four strolling gypsy violinists playing for some costumed dancing girls. Without warning, Scranton jumped up and whisked his wife, Mary, onto the floor for what witnesses said turned into a vigorous Hungarian polka.

Wrong Capacity Given

The air conditioner advertised in the Standard Furniture Co. advertisement in Monday's issue of The Freeman has a capacity of 5300 BTU—not 53,000 as incorrectly stated.

PLAN DIRECTORY DISTRIBUTION — A committee meeting to discuss the distribution of the new Ulster County Directory, met recently at the offices of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. First of its kind in the county, the resort/travel directory is expected to be ready for distribution this weekend. Attending the meeting were (l-r) George Svirsky, vice president of Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce; Oscar V. Newkirk, postmaster; Michael C. Starkman, editor and publisher; Frank A. Byer, Central Hudson's executive director for county publicity, and Sam Levine of Kingston News Service. J. O'Connor, publicity chief at the New York State Pavilion at the World's Fair will accept copies of the booklet from Abram Molyneaux, chairman of Ulster County Board of Supervisors' publicity committee and Starkman. (Ideal photo)

County Directory Expected to Be Off Press Soon

Plans for the distribution of the new Ulster County Directory and Guide have been made, Michael C. Starkman, publisher, said today.

The run of 15,000 copies, boosted from a committed 10,000, will be complete in a matter of days. Quantities will be sent to all advertisers, participating Chambers of Commerce, the New York World's Fair, and Kingston New Service.

The latter firm will place copies throughout the county via newstands on the usual commercial basis. In addition, Kingston News has indicated that distribution will be made outside the county including major metropolitan areas and possibly on the New York State Thruway.

In this maner maximum exposure to the travelling vacation public will be accomplished, plus availability to out-of-towners temporarily within the tcounty and to local people.

As a surprise gesture, Starkman announced an additional printing over and above the 15,000 planned, of a second "Bulletin of listings," a printing of just listings which appear in the directory and guide. This booklet of listings, containing no editorial material or photos, will be used with first class correspondence mailings to answer distant inquiries about where to stay, certain services, etc. "While the latter will be for mail use primarily" Starkman said, "the probability is that both booklets will be used both ways.

"I am happy to be able to make this plus printing available in limited quantities, at no cost. The printing matter, already set up, can be used to good advantage to supply the Chambers and the Ulster County Publicity Committee with material to answer inquiries from county advertising in New York City newspapers. In certain mailings the postage on the directory and guide would be prohibitive. I expect this gesture on my part to pay off in the future."

Participating in the distribution program will be Oscar V. Newkirk, Kingston postmaster; Frank A. Byer, executive director of Ulster County Publicity Committee; George Svirsky, representing Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce; Sam Levine, Kingston News Service and various Chambers of Commerce and township supervisors.

Meet on Election Pool

NEW YORK (AP) — Officials of the three major television networks have conferred on a proposal for pooling coverage of the November election returns.

A morning session was held Monday in the offices of the Columbia Broadcasting System and an afternoon session at the National Broadcasting Co. The American Broadcasting Co. also participated.

Later, network representatives conferred with The Associated Press about the possibility of the AP being included in the pool.

No decisions were reached pending further discussions on how the pool would operate, how returns would be gathered and distributed and what the cost would be.

The networks said the discussions were continuing.

Tough Choice for Rocky

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was picking his way through autograph seekers in a hotel lobby when a woman thrust two books at him for his signature.

"That's a pretty tough choice" the governor said Monday as he stared a moment at the books —"Six Crises" by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and "Profiles in Courage" by the late President John F. Kennedy.

Instead of signing the books, the governor scrawled "Rocky" on a department store bag and gave it to the woman. Rockefeller is here for the 56th annual National Governors Conference.

Buckley Redraws Lines

No Specific Targets

MANILA (AP) — A U.S. Air Force spokesman said today that B57 jet bombers and crews are training at Clark Air Base north of Manila for all contingencies but have been given no specific targets.

The spokesman was commenting on a New York Herald Tribune report that a combat force of B57s is training in the Philippines to bomb targets in Communist North Viet Nam.

The newspaper report said about 50 B57s are assigned to the U.S. Air Force's 3rd Bomb Wing, stationed temporarily at Clark.

Chamber to Hear School Problems

Dr. W. Wendell Hoover, superintendent of schools of the Kingston Consolidated School District, on invitation of the Education Committee, will discuss school problems with the board of directors of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting tonight at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

This invitation was extended to Dr. Hoover in line with the Chamber's policy to get first hand information about problems and issues of major public concern. President John F. Schuehler started this new procedure as another aid in developing a still stronger and more effective program of action by Chamber of Commerce committees.

In releasing this information today by Schuehler, he was joined by Donald Briggs, chairman of the Education Committee, in urging a full attendance. The meeting starts promptly at 7:30 p. m. and Dr. Hoover is scheduled to meet with the board or directors at 7:45.

Call to Follow Christ Risky: Graham Aide

HOUGHTON, N. Y. (AP)—The call to follow Christ is a "risky and dangerous involvement," says a special assistant to Evangelist Billy Graham.

Those who follow Christ will find life a "most dangerous assignment" because it is against present trends, W. Stanley Moneyham of Wheaton, Ill., told 206 graduates of Houghton College Monday.

"This goes against the grain of our contemporary philosophy which is one of fear of involvement in any manner, including the work of the church," said Monneyham, who received an honorary doctor of letters degree at the College's 64th commencement.

Says Yemen Uses Yanks

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—American military veterans of the war in South Viet Nam are being employed by the royalist faction in Yemen's civil war to prepare artillery attacks on the republican capital of Sana, the newspaper Al Nahar said today.

The paper said the Americans, whose number was not given, were ex - servicemen recruited by a royalist leader through unofficial sources in the United States.

Capital News In Brief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

RIFLES: The Army is keeping closer tabs on who buys its surplus rifles.

The office which promotes civilian marksmanship has centralized a listing of persons who purchase the rifles from the Army and who belong to recognized rifle clubs.

Authorities denied Monday the move came as a result of President John F. Kennedy's assassination by a sniper using a surplus Italian army rifle.

They said the actions stemmed from an increased volume of inquiries about persons and clubs authorized to draw weapons and ammunition from Army stocks for target practice and competition.

ROMANIA: The United States will talk over with its allies its tentative plans for selling two nuclear reactors to Communist Romania, a State Department spokesman said Monday.

State Department press officer Richard I. Phillips said there will be conversations in Paris with the committee of allies which coordinates trade with Communist countries with the general aim of blocking any goods of military importance.

DISTURBANCE: A group of Mississippi Negroes told a panel of educators, lawyers and writers Monday of suffering beatings, shootings and bombings in their state.

The meeting, sponsored by the Council of Federated Organizations which plans a massive Negro voter registration drive in Mississippi this summer, was interrupted briefly.

A white man who identified himself as George Patler, 26, a member of the American Nazi party, leaped on stage, shouting for the Negroes to "go home. You're a bunch of filthy swine." Police arrested him.

Bound for Committees

HARRISBURG (AP) — Two major administration programs, including the giant general appropriations bill, were bound for conference committees today after the House balked at Senate amendments.

The Senate added $2.7 million to the general fund bill, boosting the total to $1.072 billion, some $2 million more than Gov. William W. Scranton had originally requested in his budget for fiscal 1964-65.

The other stalemate came on administration efforts to reform Pennsylvania's land condemnation laws allowing the state to seize private property for public use.

Both measures were passed by the Senate on votes of 49-0.

Defendants Arraigned On Monday

Adjournments Asked by Most

Defendants named in indictments which were returned by the April Grand Jury on May 27 were arraigned in County Court Monday afternoon before Judge Francis X. Tucker. Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torraca appeared for the prosecution.

Tucker, who is surrogate of Ulster County, was on the bench, substituting for County Judge Raymond J. Mino. Judge Mino is holding a term of court in Rockland County on the exchange basis that is now being used for judges.

Howard Dawson, Kingston, entered a plea of guilty to illegal possession of a narcotic drug and was given nine months in the county jail with credit for time already served. George Findley appeared for Dawson.

Thought He Was Right

Carlos Juan Llorens of New York entered a plea of guilty to and imposition of sentence was suspended because of the circumstances. Llorens had purchased the gun in Pennsylvania where he had a permit for possession and also a permit from the city of Philadelphia.

Unable to speak English well, he brought the gun to New York State believing he had a right to carry it here. His attorney said he had no intention if using the gun. Because of the technical nature of the crime, Judge Tucker suspended position of any sentence. The act allegedly took place on March 29.

Adjourned To June 29

Michael John Amato and Anthony Salvatore Fiordilino, who were indicted for attempted burglary, third degree, and attempted unlawful entry at the College Inn, New Paltz, entered pleas of innocent and their case was adjourned to June 29 at 2 p. m. for motions. Charles Saccoman appeared for defendants. Bail was continued.

Carl William Polick, 22, of Wawarsing who was charged with third degree burglary, petit larceny and unlawful entry on April 9, had his case adjourned to June 11 at 1 p. m. in order to secure counsel. A plea of not guilty was entered.

Kaminsky Case June 29

Frank Julius Kaminsky of Newburgh, charged with sale of pornographic material, had his case adjourned to June 29 at 2 p. m. It is alleged he sold film at a Town of Esopus super-market parking lot to an official who had been investigating the case and was promptly arrested after the sale had been made. Charles Saccoman was assigned as counsel.

Virginia Gertrude Hammock, charged with second degree assault on one Robert Stokes in the Town of Esopus on April 26, entered a plea of innocent and

8 Die as Montana's Floods Breach Dams

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—Floods described as the worst in memory swept out of Montana's northwestern mountains Monday, killing at least eight persons, sweeping away dams and bridges and leaving hundreds of residents isolated. Rain pelted the area for the fifth straight day.

Authorities said the death toll included five members of one Blackfeet Indian family.

Motorists Missing

A girl was reported drowned in Valier, on the Indian reservation, and two motorists were missing after their vehicles plunged into raging streams.

Col. Howard McKinney of the Montana National Guard said the floods were the greatest natural disaster the state has ever suffered.

Rescue workers were blocked in many places by washed-out bridges and long stretches of inundated highway. At least 20 bridges and four earthen dams were carried away by the pounding water.

Hit by Surprise

With a sling and hoist, Air Force medics lifted seven persons from perches ranging from tree limbs to roof tops. An Air Force spokesman said one man was taken from a roof just as it started to go under water.

Four Dams Burst

Dams burst near Choteau, Browning, Dupuyer and East Glacier sending walls of water up to 30 feet high over the sparsely populated area.

Col. McKinney set up a rescue operations center in Helena, the state capital, after acting Gov. Dave Manning declared the floods a state emergency. Gov. Tim Babcock was in Cleveland at the National Governors Conference.

Nearly 1,000 persons were housin in emergency accommodations in Great Falls.

Typhoid vaccine was dispatched to a number of cities where community drinking water was polluted by floodwaters. The dams that broke at Choteau and East Glacier held city water supplies.

Jim Farrar of Shelby watched 15 horses hurled into a ravine by the torrent. Moments later it caught a herd of cattle and churned them under.

West of Browning, on the Blackfeet Reservation, a dam on Two Medicine Creek burst and water cascaded over Indian dwellings. Five members of a family named Grant were missing.

Family Swept Away

A policeman in Browning said witnesses saw the family swept away in a surge of water as they tried to clamber onto a pickup truck. The family included an elderly woman. The truck and bodies were not recovered.

The main floods were on the Sun River, rising in mountains west of Great Falls, and on the Marias River, with tributaries in Glacier National Park.

U.S. Is Cleared By Jurists of Canal Charges

GENEVA (AP) — The International Commission of Jurists today cleared the United States of Panamanian charges that American troops and police violated human rights in the bloody Panama Canal Zone riots last January.

Some Excessive Force

The commission found, however, that excessive force may have been used to put down the rioting and to stop sniping from the Panamanian side of the border.

The commission also criticized Panamanian authorities for failing to curb the rioters and snipers and for doing nothing against inflammmatory broadcasts at the height of the crisis.

Twenty-two persons, including three American soldiers, were killed. About 325 others were injured during the incidents Jan. 9-12. Panamanian crowds, enraged in a dispute about the flying of the Panamanian flag in the Caanl Zone, burned down several buildings and wrecked cars, shops and other American property.

The commission, a private organization of lawyers, judges and law professors throughout the non-Communist world, was asked by the National Bar Association of Panama to investigate whether the gunfire of U.S. police and soldiers against the rioters was a violation of the universal declaration of human rights.

Ellenville to Vote On School Budget, 2 Hearings Set

The controversial proposed 1964-65 budget of Ellenville Central School District, revised sharply by apparent public demand for cuts in salary increments, will go before the voters tonight after two previous rejections by district voters.

Public hearings on two other area proposed school budgets are scheduled for tonight and Wednesday.

Opposition Strong

Ellenville voters rejected a proposed $1.9 million budget last May 5 by a margin of 241-212. More than twice as many voters turned out to reject the proposed budget in a second vote on May 26 by a margin of 548 to 412.

In a meeting June 1, the Board of Education unanimously agreed to comply with the apparent public demand for a lower

Expect Approval Of Contract by Michigan Union

HILLSDALE, Mich. (AP) — Workers at the strife-torn Essex Wire Corp. were to hold a back-to-work vote today in the wake of a warning from Gov. George W. Romney that settlement of the 102-day-old, violence-ridden strike is of vital interest to the public.

Officials of Essex and of the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL - CIO, expressed optimism that the 180 strikers would approve the modified agreement worked out Monday at a six-hour meeting with federal and state mediators in Detroit.

Romney Makes Plea

Gov. Romney made a personal appeal to the disputants to "remember that the public interest is of greater importance than that of either party."

Frank Gallucci, vice president and legal representative of Essex, and Robert Klingensmith, administrative aide to IUE President James Carey, expressed confidence the modified agreement would be accepted at the mid-afternoon voting session today.

Gov. Romney, Carey and top officials of Essex hammered out broad outlines of a proposed new contract at an all-night session in the governor's office in Lansing last Saturday. Members of the striking IUE Local 810 at Hillsdale decided Sunday not to take a ratification vote, pending clarification of issues, and sent the pact back to the local's bargaining committee.

Gallucci said, "Part of the problem was that the union local membership was asked to absorb in a three—or four—hour meeting all the details that we had worked out with the union in more than seven months of bargaining."

Confident Ike Won't Upset Him

Says Ex-President Appears Neutral

The silver-haired senator said in an interview Monday night that he is convinced the former president—about the only man who could do so—would not interfere in Goldwater's headlong rush toward the 655 delegate votes needed for the nomination.

Goldwater, given an ovation on his arrival at a conference dinner, stayed to hear Eisenhower speak. He talked briefly with Eisenhower and other party leaders while table-hopping, then flew back to Washington for action on the civil rights bill amendments.

Sees Him as Neutral

"I think President Eisenhower is neutral in this situation as he has been in the past," Goldwater said. "I do not think he has changed his position and I do not expect him to take any action that would be aimed at blocking me."

Wait, See, He Says

Goldwater said that in the absence of any expressed opposition from Eisenhower he is confident he will get the nomination at the mid-July San Francisco convention. He added that he thinks he has a good chance of defeating President Johnson in November.

"Wait until the people begin to assess Johnson's stand on this civil rights question and come to realize that his spending policies are out of line,'" the senator said. "Then we'll see whether we Republicans can beat him."

In a brief appearance as a conference guest, Goldwater avoided any conferences with Republican governors who have been complaining that his conservative views would make it difficult for him to carry their states as the GOP nominee.

Specifically, he did not make himself available for discussions with Govs. George Romney of Michigan, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. All three have said that Goldwater's positions on foreign and domestic policies would damage the Republican ticket in their important electoral vote states.

No Deep Politics

Goldwater indicated that his conference with Eisenhower did not get deeply into politics. He said the former president did not bring up political matters and he himself didn't volunteer any observations in that field.

"We talked mostly about golf and how to get rid of the bursitis that has been bothering him," the senator said.

Eisenhower, who urged the governors to get behind a movement for the states to originate a constitutional amendment requiring balancing of the federal budget every two years, conferred with 15 of the 16 Republican governors on the political situation. Romney missed the meeting but flew in later.

Gov. John Anderson Jr. of Kansas, conference chairman, said he and his colleagues "agreed that the Republican par-

Wallace Sees Early Repeal of CR Bill

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama says that if the civil rights bill is enacted, "it will be repealed in two to four years."

"I'm not advocating disobedience of any law," Wallace said in an interview. "But people, North and South, are going to resent and resist this. It will take a police state to enforce it.

Calls It Severe Attack

"It's a severe attack on private property and free enterprise, and when people realize this the law will be repealed in two to four years."

Wallace said he is convinced that feeling over the racial issue was an important factor in Sen. Barry Goldwater's victory over Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York in the California Republican presidential primary June 2.

As for Rockefeller's state, Wallace said: "New York already has all those civil rights laws on the books and New York has more problems today than any other state in the union."

Won't Organize Movement

Answering a question, he said he has no plans to organize a nationwide movement to work for repealing the civil rights bill if or when it becomes law. "I won't put myself up for that," Wallace said, "but I'll do my part as best I know how."

Judging from Wallace's out-of-state mail, it appears that he has won much support for his position on civil rights.

Since he entered Democratic presidential primaries in three states, an aide said, nearly 250,000 letters have come to him. Wallace got 27 per cent of the vote in Wisconsin, 34 per cent in Indiana, and 42.7 per cent in Maryland.

Many originated in large Northern cities where racial problems have arisen in the past year. Many others, however, bore the postmarks of small communities.

"Had I known I was going to do so well in those primaries,"

Expect Diehl Is To Get Public Works Position

Woodrow M. Diehl, of 91 Hone Street, an engineering aide in the city engineer's department, is expected to be named provisionally at a Wednesday night Board of Public Works meeting to succeed A. Foster Winfield, of 28 Roosevelt Avenue, as administrative assistant in the public works department.

Winfield recently announced his retirement after some 30 years of service in the department. A volunteer fireman of long experience, he holds the title of honorary deputy fire chief.

Studied at Cathedral

Diehl, a Kingston native, is a graduate of St. Mary's grade school and Kingston High School, and completed a year in liberal arts Cathedral College, New York. He has been employed in the city engineer's department since Feb. 28, 1963. He is due to start his duties in the public works department June 22, if the BPW approves the provisional appointment tomorrow night.

Today's Vote Was 51-48 on CR Item

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate adopted today an amendment to the civil rights bill guaranteeing jury trials in all criminal contempts arising from the measure, except in voting rights cases.

The vote was 51-48.

The Senate action was a defeat for administration forces, but one which Senate leaders had somewhat discounted in advance. It may help them get cloture Wednesday, to end the Southern filibuster against the bill, by nailing down more Republican votes for the debate-limiting procedure.

Has Some Optimism

In advance of the test, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he is "cautiously optimistic" that the Senate will vote for cloture.

"We believe that reasonable men are now ready to vote," Mansfield said.

The jury trial amendment was offered by Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., and was supported by Southerners, who have been fighting the bill for 74 days.

The Voting Score

Thirty-one Democrats and 20 Republicans voted for the amendment. Voting against it were 35 Democrats and 13 Republicans.

It was the Senate's first vote in relation to the bill since May 6.

Later in the day it was to debate and act on an amendment by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, dealing with school desegregation, and one by Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., dealing with discrimination in employment.

Basis of Proposal

Morton's proposal would guarantee a jury trial in all criminal contempt cases growing out of violations of injunctions obtained under all titles of the bill excepting voting rights.

The guarantee would apply particularly to the titles barring discrimination in public accommodations, employment, public facilities and schools.

On voting rights, the Kentuckian would not disturb the 1957 Civil Rights Act. This gives a defendant in a criminal contempt case a jury trial only if the judge decides on a penalty exceeding 45 days in jail or a $3,000 fine.

The House bill now before the Senate does not give any right to a jury trial in criminal contempts except that, for public accommodations, the limitations of the 1957 law in voting cases would apply.

Morton's amendment is a modification of one he offered May 6 which was beaten 46 to 45 after a series of parliamentary maneuvers. His previous proposal would have assured the right of jury trial in all cases growing out of the bill including voting rights.

Kubitschek Ouster May Set Off New Turmoil in Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — New political turmoil threatened Brazil today because of the purge of Juscelino Kubitschek, banned from politics for 10 years to keep him from getting the presidency again.

President Humberto Castello Branco signed a decree ousting Kubitschek from his Senate seat and removing the political rights of the powerful political leader who had been the leading contender for the presidency in October 1965.

The suave former society surgeon joined more than 200 persons whose political rights have been suspended since President Joao Goulart and his leftist regime were overthrown April 1. Former Presidents Goulart and Janio Quadros, who resigned in August 1961, also have lost political rights.

"My enemies fear me because they are afraid of the manifestation of the people," said Kubitschek, "and thus with this brutal act they (the government) remove me from the road of elections—which are the only valid manifestation in a truly democratic regime."

The ouster could prompt Kubitschek's Social Democratic party, largest in Brazil, to withdraw support from Castello Branco's government. A party spokesman said party leaders would meet to decide on a course of action.

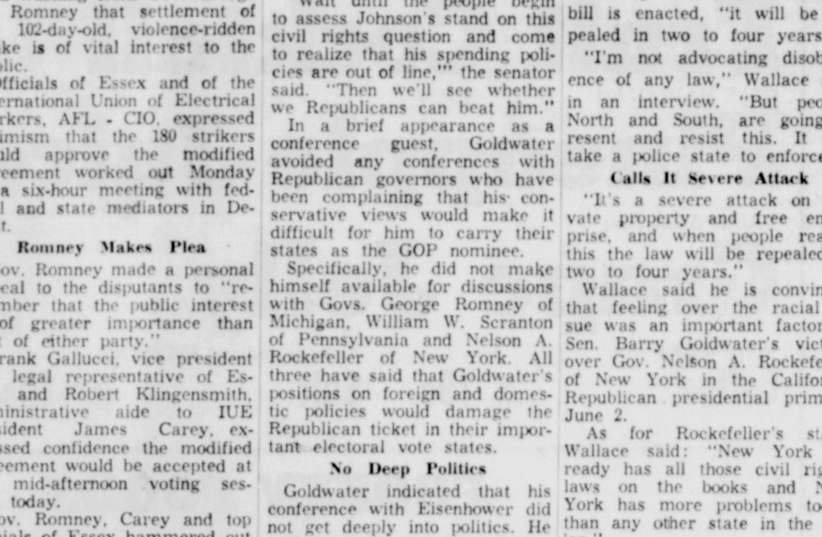

Several thousand supporters massed outside Kubitschek's apartment house in Rio Monday night, singing the national anthem and cheering the former president. They carried him through the streets on their shoulders.

A clash threatened when followers of Kubitschek's old foe Carlos Lacerda, governor of Guanabara State and a rival presidential candidate, arrived and began jeering. They dispersed when the Kubitschek crowd continued to grow.

Kubitschek came to prominence as governor of Minas Gerais State during the final term of Getulio Vargas, who committed suicide in August 1954.

Ticket Heads Stress Support of Pageant

Herman G. Rafalowsky, co-chairman with Ronald G. Drowns of ticket arrangements for the Miss New York State Pageant urges local people to accept the patron tickets that have been mailed out for the 6th consecutive pageant year.

Several hundred patron tickets have recently been mailed out to business men and citizens of the area, and Rafalowsky says that the financial success of the Pageant depends upon the sale and acceptance of these tickets. Numerous expenses are involved in promoting this affair, he stressed.

The Miss New York State Pageant this year will be held at Kingston High School auditorium on July 9, 10, and 11. The coveted pageant franchise has again been awarded to Kingston because of the tremendous effort that local committee workers have put into this affair during the past years, despite constant appeals by other cities.

There is no doubt that the Kingston area receives favorable wide-spread publicity because of the pageant. Further, it brings to the area hundreds of newcomers, and is of direct financial benefit to the area restaurants, hotels, and other business establishments.

The patron tickets entitle the purchaser to select a choice reserve seat for each night of the three days of the pageant program, if redeemed on or before June 20th. On June 22, the public sale of tickets will be started. Patron tickets may be redeemed after June 20, but the purchaser will then only be able to select available seats. All seats in the auditorium are reserved.

Spending Cut Is Falacy in Poor Sectors: Javits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said Monday it is false economy for the Defense Department to cut spending in areas of substantial unemployment.

Javits commented in reporting on the value of defense contracts to areas of substantial unemployment in New York.

He said the value of such contracts declined by $5.6 million during the first nine months of the current fiscal year—July 1, 1963, through March 31, 1964—compared with the same period for the previous fiscal year.

The largest drop, his report showed, was $20.7 million in the Plattsburgh area.

Of the state's two major areas of substantial unemployment—6 or more per cent of the total labor force unemployed — Buffalo's defense work dropped $5.8 million during the period while Utica-Rome increased its share by $24 million.

Of the state's 20 minor unemployment areas, Javits said, 8 showed substantial declines, while 112 showed relatively minor increases.

Javits said, "Cutbacks in contract awards to labor surplus areas represent false economy."

He called again for an investigation of this by the joint economic subcommittee on defense procurement.

In addition to Plattsburgh and Buffalo, Javits said, these other areas showed substantial decline in their share of defense work between the first nine months of the last fiscal year—July,1962-March, 1963 —and the first nine months of the current fiscal year:

Amsterdam, down $1,121,000; Auburn, down $470,000; Elmira, down $1,005,000; Gloversville, down $68,000; Newburgh-Middletown-Beacon, down $2,152,000; Ogdensburg-Massena - Malone, down $56,000, and Wellsville, down $331,000.

These other areas, Javits added, showed minor increases:

Batavia, $69,000; Catskill, $214,000; Cobleskill,$ 34,000; Geneva - Canandaigua, $728,000; Glens Falls-Hudson Falls, $96,000; Jamestown-Dunkirk, $183,000; Medina - Albion, $103,000; Newark, $246,000; Oneonta, $231,000; Perry, $1,000; Watertown, $160,000, and Watkins Glen, $12,000.

Ruby Denies Any Connection with Man He Shot

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A clean-shaven but "wild-eyed" Jack Ruby told Chief Justice Earl Warren Sunday he had no connection with Lee Harvey Oswald, whom he shot two days after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

This was reported by a reliable source after Warren spent more than three hours with Ruby in the Dallas County jail.

It was believed the first time a chief justice of the United States ever took testimony from a prisoner in jail.

Warren and other members of the Warren Commission toured the Texas School Book Depository Building, from where the assassin is alleged to have fired rifle bullets at Kennedy, as well as Oswald's rooming house and Ruby's apartment.

They also visited the Texas Theater, where Oswald was captured, and the intersection nearby where police officer J. D. Tippitt was slain.

Oswald was charged with the murders of both Kennedy and Tippit. Ruby is under the death sentence for slaying Oswald.

Details of the jail conference were not made pulbic. However, it is known that Warren, J. Lee Rankin, commission counsel, and Rep. Gerald Ford, R-Mich., a commission member, asked Ruby if he knew Oswald and was there a conspiracy involved when he shot him.

Ruby reportedly replied in the negative. He also was asked about his trip to Cuba in the late 1950s, but his answers are not known.

Taxpayers Urge Careful Study For Budget Vote

Walter H. Schulman, president of the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association, says that the association believes that the qualified voters, whether or not they are real property taxpayers, should carefully weigh the following considerations when they vote on the re-submitted 1964-65 Onteora School District budget on June 16.

"The school board submits as 'choices' the same budget for approval by another vote, or operation with an austerity budget, as provided by the State Education Law without approval of the voters. According to the May, 1964, issue of the Onteora Bulletin: An austerity budget is the state's way of insisting that the education of the children of the state must continue with or without voter approval. The Bulletin points out that 'taxpayers money' cannot be used to support 'certain services and school activities' without voter approval.

"In the American tradition it has never been the intention to provide a private school education in the public school system. The fact that some taxpayers will cheerfully pay increased school taxes in the Onteora School District to obtain the equivalent of a private school education for their children, does not alleviate the economic problems of those who, with or without school-age children, are called upon to pay increased taxes on residential real estate from which they derive no rental income.

"The thought has been expressed in reported discussions of the proposed school budget that the difference between a 'good' education and an "average" education is involved. Presumably, the kind of education that the state insists must continue under an austerity budget in any event, is at least an 'average' and adequate education according to the educational standards established by the state. Obviously, school district autonomy is largely limited to what the real property taxpayers in the school district are willing to pay for in addition to what the state considers adequate public education at real property taxpayers expense.

"Whether or not the taxpayer is a parent or grandparent of school-age children, his or her ability to pay increasing school taxes on residential real estate is a conspicuous consideration in deciding how to vote on the re-submitted school budget — certainly in the absence of any clearly guaranteed relief from excessive real property taxation in the foreseeable future."

Many Programs To Be Featured At Colony Arts

For its sixth season, the Colony Arts Center on Rock City Road in Woodstock is offering a variety of programs including the Writers' Workshop, three art shows and two summer antiques shows, in addition to special classes and group discussions in the communication feld.

The Colony Arts Center will open its season with the fifth annual antiques show on July 3-4-5 with exhibitors and dealers from Pennsylvania, Connecticut, West Virginia and eight counties along the Hudson and Mohawk valleys of New York State. This year's show will have special appeal to collectors and homemakers with definite wants in mind as well as appealing to those who attend antiques shows for their entertainment qualities and interest.

Six Years Old

The Writers' Workshop, which has been a successful feature of the Colony Arts Center since its inception six years ago, will work entirely with beginning authors and those who have not yet achieved publication. The workshop will get under way July 14 and continue through August 20 with five weekly programs during that period. Fiction and non-fiction will each be the subject of two programs. The fifth workshop will be concerned with play-writing.

There will be three changes of art shows during the season, the first opening on July 10. The First Show will consist of Americana related to the Catskill Mountains and Hudson Valley. The exhibit will include paintings, lithographs, prints and other pictorial memorabilia of the area during the 19th century.

Annual Turnau Social Event Set Saturday

The Turnau Opera Association, in cooperation with The Friends of the Turnau Opera Association, will enterain its members and their guests at a pre-season reception at the Byrdcliffe Theater in Woodstock from 6 to 8 p. m. on Saturday, June 13.

Refreshments will be served and the Turnau players will sing favorite arias from this season's operas. A report of the work and plans of The Friends will be given to keep members and those interested in becoming members informed. Season tickets will be sold to those at the reception at a 10 per cent discount which is the company's way of saying "thank you" to its patrons.

Mozart's "The Abduction From the Seraglio" will inaugurate Turnau's tenth season of opera in English on July tenth. Other operas in this season's repertoire which have not been seen at Byrdcliffe in several years are: Rossini's "The Turk in Italy," Menotti's "The Medium," and Monteverdi's "Il Combattimento." Traditional favorites: Rosni's "The Barber of Seville," and Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro," as well as new productions of Puccini's "La Boheme," and Verdi's "Rigoletto" will be presented. Last year's stunning success, Britten's "The Rape of Lucretia," will be repeated.

These Publishers Have Trouble in Signing Name

CHICAGO (AP) — There's a new book on the market today at the University of Chicago, but the 26 authors will have a problem signing the first editions.

The authors, first graders, are still learning how to print their names.

The 26 precocious members of Mrs. Judy Jones' first-grade class at the university's laboratory school decided in November that along with learning to read books, they'd like to write and publish one.

After seven months of almost daily work, 150 copies of the gaily colored, magazine-size book, entitled "Interesting Stories," rolled off the press two weeks ago.

Second Printing Near

"All schools and classrooms are concerned with writing and reading stories," said Mrs. Jones, 27. "We just took ours a little farther."

The students collaborated in writing and illustrating five stories for the book, ranging from "Julie and Jane's Adventures in School" to "How We Got Our Freedom."

Another story tells of the adventures of Sammy, who lived on the moon "in a big crater that they had made tunnels through."

The stories were dictated to Mrs. Jones, who said the idea behind the book came from Mrs. Farrand Ennis, whose daughter is in the class.

"The purpose of the project was to expose the children to the experience of learning how books are produced," said Mrs. Ennis, who works for a neighborhood newspaper, the Hyde Park Herald.

Just Make Believe

Mrs. Ennis told Don McCabe, design editor of the newspaper, of the project and he volunteered to help ready the book for publication.

But if life seems complicated for McCabe, author Sarah Ennis, 6, takes it in stride.

"It's just make believe," she told The Associated Press. "The whole thing's just make believe."

Author Jeff Johnston, 7, said what he liked best was "when I was asked to put autographs in the books."

Say Yank Pilot Was Captured by Pathet Lao Unit

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Communist Pathet Lao was reported today to have captured a U.S. Navy jet pilot shot down on a photo-reconnaissance mission over the jungles of central Laos.

Reliable sources said the Pathet Lao headquarters in Khang Khay informed its officials in Vientiane of the capture of Lt. Charles F. Klusmann, 30, of San Diego, Calif., who had parachuted from his Crusader jet fighter on Saturday.

A U.S. helicopter rescued Cmdr. Doyle W. Lynn of La Mesa, Calif., Monday and flew him back to the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk in the South China Sea. Lynn's Crusader was hit Sunday while he was escorting a reconnaissance mission.

The Pathet Lao has held another American flier, a civilian, for nine months.

Eugene Debruin of Kaukauna, Wis., a flier for the Air America charter company, was captured last September when his transport plane was shot down in southern Laos.

Neutralist Laotian forces were believed slowly pullling out of a hill position northwest of the Plaine des Jarres region under Communist artillery and mortar fire.

A high neutralist military source said his troops were still holding sections of the high ground around Phou Koutt, but that he did not expect them to hang on much longer.

Drivers Advised To Submit Stubs With Applications

Automobile operators who must renew their driver's license this year were reminded to submit the operator's license renewal stub with their aplication.

This was a reminder isued today by Lawrence D. Craft, Ulster County Clerk, who pointed out that approximately one out of every three to date have had to be returned to the applicants because of this omision, thus delaying the proces of validating the applications as licenses.

This stub, Craft said, contains blocks on the back in which convictions are entered. 'Whether or not you have had any convictions this must acompany the application together with the $3 fee," he aded.

The county clerk also said his office wil be able to process and return to the sender any applications mailed to him before June 22. After that date, renewal applicants should make a personal visit to the office if they wish to get their new license before the old one expires June 30.

Proposes Longer Dutchess County Airport Runway

A bond issue of approximately $1,000,000 for a 1,200 foot addition to the longer runway at the Dutchess County Airport, New Hackensack, has been proposed by Supervisor Horace L. Kulp, Town of Clinton.

In supporting his stand for a $2 million expenditure at the airport half to be paid by the federal government-Supervisor Kulp said, "Industry now is the backbone of our country and industry needs a modern airport. We have no choice except to provide it."

Members of the Dutchess Airport Commission and airline officials have warned the county that it faces a cutback in airline service and no prospect of expanded service unless the runway is extended to accomodate jet aircraft.

Supervisor Kulp's proposal would increase the longer runway to 5,200 feet. The supervisor contends that the addition would equip the airport to handle all planes likely to use the 'port.

It was noted that IBM Corp. has added a new twin jet Sabre line to its fleet at the New Hackensack airport, but it cannot take off with a full load of passengers and fuel, with the present runway.

Commitments by two thirds of the members of the county Board of Supervisors in favor of the bond issue would be needed, prior to making an application for funds from the federal government. The two-thirds vote, or 22 members, is necessary to authorize a bond issue.

Most people don't realize how low Chrysler's new prices really are. Do you?

Quite frankly, some models are.

But what many people don't realize is that some Chrysler models are actually priced lower than a small car equipped the way you'd want it.

Take the Chrysler Newport sedan. Manufacturer's suggested retail price is only $2901, not including the variables like state and local taxes, destination charges and optional equipment. That's $2901—which includes such good things as a 361-cubic-inch V-8. The kind of engine you'd pay extra for on a smaller car.

Interesting, isn't it?

Then why stick with the smaller jobs? They can't muster the room, the ride, the luxury or the performance you really want—no matter how many extra-cost options you put on them.

HOOLIGANISM ANTIDOTE

Remember juvenile delinquency? The rage to discuss it has abated, but it continues to be a major problem for police and social agencies.

One reason for the decline in public talk and printed comment on juvenile delinquency is that other problems have intervened. Apparently these problems, revolving about the civil rights struggle and the widely ramified thrust toward equal opportunity, have to some extent obscured crime by youthful offenders.

One aspect of juvenile delinquency has come to the fore in a special way of late, however. This is the kind of mass hooliganism that has plagued a number of communities both here and abroad. That phrase, "both here and abroad," points to an interesting thing about these outbursts; they are popping up in many parts of the civilized world.

In this county we have had such things as the ruin of a country house interior in the course of a wild coming-out party, destructive rioting over several floors of a city hotel, outbreaks of violence at college holiday beach parties. The beaches seem to be favorite spots for such uprisings, as witness the recent troubles in England and Denmark. In some instances the combatants, rival groups of teen-age boys and girls for the most part, have made some resort area a veritable battleground.

The cause of these outbursts is obscure, though the psychiatrists offer various theories. The cure is not easily hit upon, either. But one thing appears certain: as a first step, everything possible must be done to enforce the law and make it clear that violators will not get off scot free or with a pat on the wrist because "boys will be boys." A few tough sentences, preferably involving a stint of hard work, might do much to dampen teen-age ardor for such riotous behavior.

Personal income continues to climb. Now if we can get prices to hold still, we can look for something else to complain about.

'FORE' INTO THE NIGHT

The first lighted regulation-length public golf course went into operation in Rhode Island a few weeks ago. (A private club in Philadelphia last year was the first in the world to try nighttime playing.)

Reportedly, hundreds of other courses around the country are contemplating the move, for installing floodlights would add about 30 playing hours each week and help relieve the weekend crush.

Women, unless they play the game themselves, may view this development with something less than enthusiasm. Now hubby will have one more reason for wanting a night out with the boys.

But it's a lot healthier, possibly cheaper, too, than sitting motionless around a poker table, imbibing and inhaling. And it could mean that hubby—just might—be available more often Saturday afternoons to lend a hand with the household chores.

Progress always has its price—for somebody.

JOBS: A RED PROBLEM, TOO

Communism's claim to have eliminated the old capitalistic problem of unemployment has always been one of its greatest selling points.

Never mind how it is accomplished, there is simply no such thing as unemployment in a Comunist society.

Government statistics from Poland, as analyzed and reported by Radio Free Europe, reveal that 200,000 persons were laid off from their jobs last winter alone, bringing the total of unemployment in that officially Communist nation to 500,000.

Significantly, many of them are young people. It is estimated that 1.5 million Polish youths will enter the labor market by 1970 and that the number seeking work will increasingly outnumber the new jobs available.

Apparently the Communist wave of the future is running up against the same shoals that were supposed to have defeated Western capitalism long ago.

All that spring yard work must be great for trimming the waistline—except that it also increases the appetite.

KHRUSHCHEV'S FOURTH ATTEMPT TO VISIT SCANDINAVIA

Three times in recent years Nikita Khrushchev has planned a royal Bolshevik progress through Scandinavia—and three times he has been scared out of it. Now, after gingerly testing the atmosphere for a fourth time, he has decided that he can undertake a Scandinaven trek without risking too much insult

The program for the visit, however, does not exhibit too much trust that a warm welcome will be forthcoming. In Denmark, for the scheduled June 17-21 stay, all the 475 rooms of the Hotel Royal in Copenhagen have been engaged for the Khrushchev party for a world meeting of Danish consuls. This means that the common people won't be able to get very close to the self-described leader of the world proletariat. In Sweden Khrushchev will live from June 22 to June 27 at the royal Haga Palace on the outskirts of Stockholm. The place is already under heavy surveillance by the police. In Norway, from June 28 to July 2, Khrushchev will occupy the royal property of Bygdoy Kongsgaard outside of Oslo. A bomb, found in the open, has already been removed from Bygdoy Kongsgaard—obviously, it was placed there as a symbolic warning. Because of this and other manifestations of distaste for his presence, Khrushchev will move about in Scandinavia by helicopter and bullet-proof motor car.

Why all the elaborate precautions lest something might happen to annoy Khrushchev? The reasons go back to 1956, 1959 and 1963, when Scandinavians, the Swedes in particular, promised to greet Khrushchev by spitting at him or by turning their backs on him whenever he appeared in public. This time the plan of the dissidents who don't want to see the boss Communist on Scandinavian soil is a little more restrained, for it contemplates only a silent treatment. And ad hoc committee of non-welcome, called the June Committee, has been set up under the well-known archeologist Professor Birger Nerman. The first act of this committee has been to recall the visit of Czar Nicholas II to Sweden in 1909. Then unpopular because of pogroms of suppression of popular demonstrations, the Czar was met with stony silence everywhere. The June Committee asks that this be repeated for Khrushchev.

In 1959, when Khrushchev called off a proposed trip at the eleventh hour, 100,000 copies of anti-Soviet folder were ready for distribution in three Scandinavian languages. Professor Nerman's June Committee has been busy preparing another folder for present distribution. The folder articles bear such titles as "Khrushchev in Luxury and Gala—the Balts in Slavery and Hunger," by Professor Nerman; "Appeal to Mr. Khrushchev on Behalf of the Balts," by Manne Stahl; "Suppose Hitler Had Obtained His Victorious Peace in 1940," by Ture Nerman, who incidentally compares the two big totalitarian systems; "What We Should Not Forget," by Birger Hagard, who is chairman of the Swedish Conservative Youth Organization of 60,000 members and who keeps a catalogue of Soviet misdeeds in East Europe up to date; and a survey of Soviet deportations and violations of human rights in the Baltic states.

The battle to greet Khrushchev with a barrage of antipathetic gestures does not have the support of the Scandinavian governments. But, with the editor-in-chief of Morgenbladet, the largest Norwegian daily, on the June Committee's side, and with prominent members of all the Scandinavian democratic political parties putting their names on an anti-Khrushchev manifesto, nobody is suggesting that the right of free speech—or free silence—be infringed. The antis point out that Khrushchev's visit is designed to create propaganda for the Kekkonen plan for establishing a nuclear free zone in all states bordering on the Baltic Sea, and for the withdrawal of Denmark and Norway from Nato. They insist that a counter propaganda is quite in order. But their real desire is to scare Khrushchev out of his fourth effort to visit Scandinavia.

Any bets that they won't be successful?

Emphysema Is Chronic, But Not Contagious

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Is Emphysema contagious or is it an allergy? Is there any cure?

A—Emphysema is a very common and a very chronic lung ailment in persons over 50. It is caused by air being trapped in the lungs due to a valvelike obstruction. This obstruction occurs chiefly in heavy smokers, persons with chronic bronchitis and those who live in areas of extreme air pollution. It is not contagious and not an allergy. Its effects are sometimes similar to those of asthma.

Although there is no cure, the best treatment is early diagnosis. This will enable your doctor to prevent serious lung damage. If you have emphysema you should report to your doctor whenever you get a cold or other acute disease of the nose or lungs. It is helpful to quit smoking and to keep fit through moderate, but regular exercise. If your work requires you to breathe dusty or sooty air, you can prolong your life by wearing a respirator or changing your occupation.

Your doctor can help you by giving you antibiotics for some types of complicating infection. Other drugs, such as isoproterenol, will dilate the blocked air passages. Breathing exercises (humming, laughing and singing) are often useful.

Even victims with far advanced emphysema can be helped. Vanillic diethylamide a respiratory stimulant, allows easier breathing. Inhalation of oxygen may make the difference between being confined to bed and being up and about. Postural drainage of the lungs (hanging over the edge of a bed for 10 minutes with your head near the floor) is another favorite method of treatment.

Q—Is it possible to be desinsitized to the pollen that gives me hay fever in the summer?

A—First you must identify the pollen that is causing your hay fever. Desensitization must be started at least six weeks in advance of the time you usually get your attacks. It must be repeated every year.

Q—I have taken Placidyl every night to get to sleep for several years. Is it habit-forming? What are the side effects and what would happen if I suddenly stopped taking it?

A—Ethchlorvynol (Placidyl) is not habit-forming. It is much safer than the commonly used barbiturates. Side effects may include dizziness, headache, nightmares, nausea, a bad aftertaste and drowsiness. If you suddenly stopped taking it you might have some trouble with insomnia because of your psychologic dependence on the drug, but in the long run it would be worth it.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Freeman. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

"So Where Do You Put the Rescue Net?"

Washington News

BY BRUCE BIOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — No candidate has ever been denied the Republican presidental nomination after achieving so commanding a delegate lead as Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater now holds.

Could he still be stopped by those moderate party forces who want some alternative as their 1964 standard bearer

On the basis of present conservative projections covering state delegate-choosing conventions yet to be held in 14 states and Puerto Rico, Goldwater must be accorded upwards of 600 first ballot votes — with 655 needed to nominate. His California victory contributed a whopping 86.

What, if anything, could check the normal flow of additional delegates toward the senator to put him over?

To talk of halting him now is to consider blocking a man who may soon be within 35 or 40 votes of nomination. It has never been done.

Nor has any candidate ever had as many as 600 votes and lost. The late Robert A. Taft collected an even 500 in 1952, when it took 604 to nominate. Dwight D. Eisenhower had 595 and went on to win.

DESPITE ALL THIS, a few seasoned political voices are heard saying Goldwater's defeat still might be accomplished.

At the outset, such a notion assumes unyielding resistance to his candidacy from most of the favorite sons, including governors William Scranton of Pennsylvania, George Romney of Michigan, James Rhodes of Ohio, former Minnesota Rep. Walter Judd. They could muster perhaps 200 or more delegate votes in a holdout position.

Goldwater's adversaries also would have to find a virtually unbroken line of holdouts among the perhaps 185 delegates who would come into the convention pledged or otherwise tied to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Richard M. Nixon.

This would leave the stop-Goldwater forces short of 400, and somewhere around 275 votes from forging a majority for some other candidate.

By coincidence, that figure roughly parallels the present estimated total of "uncommitted" delegates. If the moderates got them all, they would truly have the makings.

But many of the uncommitted have strong Goldwater leanings. His California victory surely will dispose substantial unmbers to move more positively toward his camp.

On top of that, heavy pressures will be levied against them, as well as upon all others.

IF THE MODERATES are to have any hope of winning the overwhelming bulk of the uncommitted, and even drawing off some of Goldwater's declared strength, they clearly must offer a powerful argument.

There really is only one they can try, the same one so effectively used 12 years ago against Taft — "He can't win."

The senator's opponents, if they speak from a rigidly unyielding bastion, might make a serious dent if they keep hammering on this theme among puzzled, wavering delegates who may already be half-persuaded that Goldwater's vote-getting this year has not been impressive.

Should new public opinion polls sharply underscore this contention, the inroads of the moderates might be greater.

Yet, again, it must be recalled that no such last-ditch fight has ever been mounted, let alone won, against a man with so much evident strength as Goldwater will bring to the convention.

223 Lawyers File Paper About Amendments, Court

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—A surprising statement has just been filed with the House Judiciary Committee by 223 lawyers, including 55 deans of law schools and several college professors, many of them of the so-called "liberal" school of thought. They have taken a stand which will be construed as meaning that, so far as possible, further amendments to the Constitution must be blocked and that the Supreme Court of the United States must be left to rewrite the Constitution at will.

The current controversy arises as a consequence of the Supreme Court's decisions which have produced widespread apprehension that the word "God" cannot be mentioned in public-school exercises and that voluntary prayers may be prohibited in educational institutions or in connection with official activities of the government.

The statement warns those who have been agitating for a constitutional amendment that they are, in effect, engaging in something bordering on impropriety. Dozens of amendments, for instance, have been proposed to overrule the decisions of the Supreme Court on the subject of prayer in exercises or ceremonies in schools, but the statement of the 223 citizens asks for a kind of cloture on further consideration of all such amendments by Congress. The statement says:

"American liberties have been secure in large measure because they have been guaranteed by a Bill of Rights which the American people until now deemed practically unamendable."

This will come as a shock to many people who have always thought the Constitution could be amended whenever public opinion desired it and that there is nothing so sacred about anything in the Constitution that the people couldn't change it at will. Objection rather has been voiced against the Supreme Court's assumption of a right virtually to introduce any meaning it pleases, thus giving to an oligarchy of nine judges appointed for life the power to amend the Constitution through judicial decisions.

The recent movement to submit to the people an amendment safeguarding the right to pray grew out of a deep-seated belief that the Supreme Court had taken away a fundemental right and had indeed violated that part of the Constitution which states that there should be no interference with "the free exercise" of religion. The statement of the protesting group, however, says:

"Whatever disagreements some may have with the Bible-prayer decisions, we believe strongly that they do not justify this experiment. Accordingly, we urged that Congress approve no measures to amend the First Amendment in order to overrule these decisions."

The lawyers who filed the statement have a right to their opinion and to argue against any proposed amendment to the Constitution, but it comes as a surprise to find such a learned group stating that the mere attempt to use the amending process prescribed in the Constitution is dangerous. The sponsors of this viewpoint add:

"If the first clause of the Bill of Rights, forbidding laws respecting an establishment of religion, should prove so easily susceptible to impairment by amendment, none of the succeeding clauses will be secure."

Such a sweeping declaration is hardly justified because, for one thing, there are more than 100 proposals for a Constitutional amendment, along with the resolution submitted by Rep. Frank J. Becker, N. Y., in behalf of many members of Congress, all of which are merely designed to safeguard the right to pray in official surroundings.

There are many ways by which this right can be assured without imposing any established church. Just as one group respects the right of another group to hold differing opinions, there is every justification for at least tolerating voluntary prayer by another body of citizens, whether outside or inside a government building, in a public ceremony.

But entirely apart from the merits of the issue itself as it relates to the right to pray, the controversy over methods of amending the Constitution may be intensified. In 1962, the National Council of State Governments adopted a resolution proposing an additional formula. Thus, if two thirds of the state legislatures submitted identical texts for a proposed amendment, three fourths of the states could then ratify it without any further action by Congress.

Whether the foregoing proposal is a desirable one or not, the fact remains that many Constitutional lawyers in the U. S. believe that if Congress is going to block the amending process, some way must be found to enable the people themselves to initiate amendments to the Federal Constitution through their own state legislatures.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

We are having our warm weather in Kingston and Ulster County now, even too warm, even the flowers seem to wilt from the hot sun. I received a note from Mrs. Aline Walz, of Esopus, who writes to me from St. Petersburg, Fla., that she visited the Citrus Tower on a hill outside Clermont. This tower is 126 feet in the air, and it blows so up there, that they removed their glasses for fear they would be blown away. They were there in April, and the fragrance of millions of orange blossoms, and the view was so wonderful that Mrs. Walz suggested I come down and see it for myself.

Mrs. Walz enclosed an item from the St. Petersburg Times, of Sunday, May 10, 1964 which is written by Edward Collier, which covers the Magic Circle of Tampa, Fla. He describes the downtown St. Petersburg post office, "a temple of tan stucco marble pillars, deep blue mosaic work, outdoor verandas with tables and individual post office boxes on the outside wall!" I thought everything is now built from "baby blocks" all alike, be it school, shopping center, or government buildings. Strange that some originality should be left. They also mention "pastel-hued benches." He also speaks of downtown's landmark, University of Tampa's main building, "whose 13 silver doomed Moorish minarets represent the 13 months of the Moslem year. The elaborate Byzantine-type structure and its Moorish arches, designed by famous architect, Stanford White, was opened in 1891 as the 550 room Tampa Bay Hotel." At least in Florida, the buildings are distinctive enough so they can be told apart.

Principal Robert Graves of the Port Ewen School invited me to their Prose and Poetry Fair, at which each pupil from grades one to six exhibited their talents. Just before the children removed their exhibit on Friday at noon, I had a chance to be escorted through the building by Mr. Graves and see the school in action and the exhibit. I did not get a chance to jot down all the fine works of art, the poetry, and handwriting which I saw. Mrs. Vincent Van Bramer, I understand, is the art teacher in charge to instruct in basket weaving, mosaic work, making of models, also sketching such as Robert Westbrook of Connelly did of a Central Hudson power pole, seen from the window. The handwriting, especially of the girls is large and round, and readable, and it seems it is called "cursive script." Everyone is allowed his own handwriting, not like in our day of Palmer Method, when they looked all alike, and I would say a signature was worthless.

The Port Ewen School looks large from the outside, but inside, it seemed endless, with wide halls, many class rooms, and I walked and walked, like in Grand Central Station, and the walls are spotless, not a pencil mark, and this was at the end of the school week.

Principal Graves has some magic over the youngsters, for they seem to like him and respect him at the same time. It is like a fancy private school, with lovely teachers and a spirit of friendliness. Mr. Graves also took me to the little robin's nest, surrounded by a snow fence, where a lady robin was bringing up two newly born baby robins, and two blue eggs ready to be hatched. She built the nest with great care, and within sight of the smallest child in a fancy shrubbery bush. The grounds also not only are well kept, but not a piece of paper or candy wrapper anywhere in sight. Mr. Graves and his staff certainly seem to have a charm over their youngsters of 1964.

High Woods Favors Forming Fire Company; Seeks Site

The High Woods area at a public meeting last week took an important step in a proposal to establish a volunteer fire company in that area and are now seeking a building site for a fire station.

A gathering of 40 High Woods area residents looked with favor on the project. The proposed new fire company would be a subsidiary of Centerville Fire Department within the Centerville Fire District. The meeting was held in the club house of High Woods Sportmen's Club.

The results of a recent questionnaire were discussed and all present were in favor of proceeding with the next step — securing a site for a fire station and determining costs of a building and if manpower is available to operate equipment.

George Benz, vice president of Centerville Fire Company, served as chairman of the meeting which was also attended by Centerville Fire Commissioners Percy Mower, Robert Smith, Francis Wolven and Centerville Chief Robert Thein.

Centerville Fire Company and Cedar Grove Fire Company are currently operating in Centerville Fire District.

Walker Attorneys Present Evidence In Libel Action

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Attorneys for former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker begin presenting evidence today in his $2-million libel suit against The Associated Press.

A jury of four women and eight men was selected Monday, clearing the way for presentation of evidence by the plaintiff. All 12 jurors must agree to any verdict returned to State District Court Judge Charles J. Murray in the civil suit.

The Associated Press, as defendant, will present its evidence after the plaintiff.

Walker, 54, contends Associated Press stories falsely accused him of leading a charge during the 1962 civil rights riot at the University of Mississippi, in Oxford, Miss. Walker's chief attorney, Clyde Watts, Oklahoma City, said in his opening statement that Walker did not lead any charge, and did not assume command of the riot crowd.

"We are not trying a segregation or integration case," said J. A. Gooch, Associated Press attorney, in his opening statement. "We are trying the case of an individual trying to defy the courts and laws of this land."

The Associated Press answer to Walker's suit says assessment of any damages would be "a restraint on the freedom of press" as guaranteed by the U.S. and Texas constitutions.

Gooch said the defense evidence would prove that Associated Press stories concerning Walker's actions at Oxford "were and are true in fact and substance."

Johnson Favored By 671 Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has been quietly piling up Democratic delegate votes while the political spotlight focused on the Republican presidential nomination race. He already has more than half the number needed for his expected nomination.

The President now has 671 first-ballot votes stemming from primaries, state convention actions or personally stated preference, an Associated Press survey showed today.

There has been little doubt that Johnson—although he has not yet announced his candidacy—will win the nomination on the first ballot, perhaps by acclamation.

The only avowed candidate, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, has 38 first-ballot votes—all from Alabama. He might draw scattered support from other Southern delegations which so far have listed themselves as uncommitted. These include South Carolina and Louisiana. The Mississippi delegation has not been chosen yet.

Father Critical, Forced Son, 4, To Shoot Him

LOS ANGELES (AP)—In the climax to a series of bitter quarrels, Leonard Thierry's wife left him.

Police said that Thierry then awakened his three small children.

He showed Theresah, 7, a pistol and told her to shoot him. She refused.

He told Gary, 5, how to work the pistol and told him to shoot. He refused.

Then he put the pistol in the hands of Glen, 4. He, too, refused.

Thierry told him if he didn't, he'd "get the leather strap."

Glen pulled the trigger.

Thierry, a 32-year-old baker, was taken to General Hospital in critical condition Monday morning, a bullet in his brain.

"I had to do it," said Glen. "He told me he'd get the belt and spank me if I didn't."

Police said Thierry and his wife, Mary, 26, had had many arguments in their eight years of marriage. Officers located her in the neighborhood and turned the children over to her care.

Wagner Rules Out Race for Senate, May Be RFK Boost

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner says he "will not run under any circumstances" for U.S. senator next fall—even if President Johnson asked him to.

Wagner told newsmen Monday:

"I will not run under any circumstances. If the President were to ask me to run, I'm sure he'd understand my feelings on the matter. . .there are personal reasons. . .and they have a lot of candidates, anyway."

Wagner, generally considered the top ranking Democrat in the state, said he does not have any particular candidate in mind to run against Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester.

Wagner's declaration that he will not be a Senate candidate —made in stronger terms than his similar statements in the past—was interpreted in some quarters as boosting the stock of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy as the Democratic choice for senator from New York.

Kennedy, who votes in his native Massachusetts and makes his home in Virginia near Washington, could run for the Senate from New York if he established residence in the state by election day.

Wagner told the newsmen that he had discussed the Senate contest with Kennedy and with Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of Amsterdam, who has considerable backing but has not announced his candidacy for the nomination.

Wagner said Stratton had been at Gracie Mansion, the mayor's official residence, almost two weeks ago to discuss the Senate situation.

Wagner said he would meet this week with Democratic State Chairman William H. McKeon and leaders of the Liberal Party to discuss the Senate contest.

Ask More Hearings

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—The trustees of the bankrupt New Haven Railroad want further hearings before the Interstate Commerce Commission on the proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads.

In a letter to the ICC Monday, the trustees said the Pennsy and Central offered "unrealistic and unacceptable" suggestions to meet the problems a merger would bring to New England lines.

The trustees asked the ICC to give the New Haven and other New England railroads a chance to hear evidence and cross-examine witnesses on the suggestions advanced by the two powerful railroads.

Rejects GE Proposal

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) —The executive board of Local 301, International Union of Electrical Workers, has turned down a proposal by the General Electric Co. to eliminate piecework rates at its plant here.

Leo Jandreau, union business agent, says the company's plan to put the 3,000 piece workers on day work rates would mean wage lossses ranging from $1,500 to $4,000 a year for each worker.

The union and the company are trying to negotiate a new contract. The company says it aims to make the plant more competitive. The union's executive board acted Monday night on the piecework proposal.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Although the three major television networks have been proclaiming for some time that their fall schedules were "locked up," somebody at ABC has kept the key.

In a sudden change of plans Monday, ABC announced it would drop its Saturday evening "Hootenanny" folk - song program and replace it with "The Outer Limits," a science fiction drama series that has done pretty well this season.

The move undoubtedly is popular with the "Outer Limits" people, because it had been pitted next season opposite both "The Beverly Hillbillies" and "The Dick Van Dyke Show," two CBS programs which are among the most popular shows on the channels.

Into that tough Wednesday evening spot dominated by the CBS comedy shows, ABC has placed a new musical show — designed primarily to appeal to teen-agers — called "Shindig," followed by "Mickey," a situation comedy starring Mickey Rooney, pulled out of its Friday night lineup. Mickey's replacement will be a comedy series called "Valentine's Day," starring Tony Franciosa.

The shifts do little to change the general complexion of next season's Saturday night programming. "Outer Limits" at 7:30 p.m. (Eastern time) has a strong appeal to the young audience as does NBC's pair of new comedy shows at the same time: "Flipper," which has a domesticated dolphin for a star, followed by a cartoon series about croak-voiced Mr. Magoo.

As cars are taxed today, so in the past were Roman chariots, coolie-drawn palanquins of the East and English hackney coaches.

That will leave adults of all ages in the great audience with a choice between Jackie Gleason's variety hour, a good book or a night on the town.

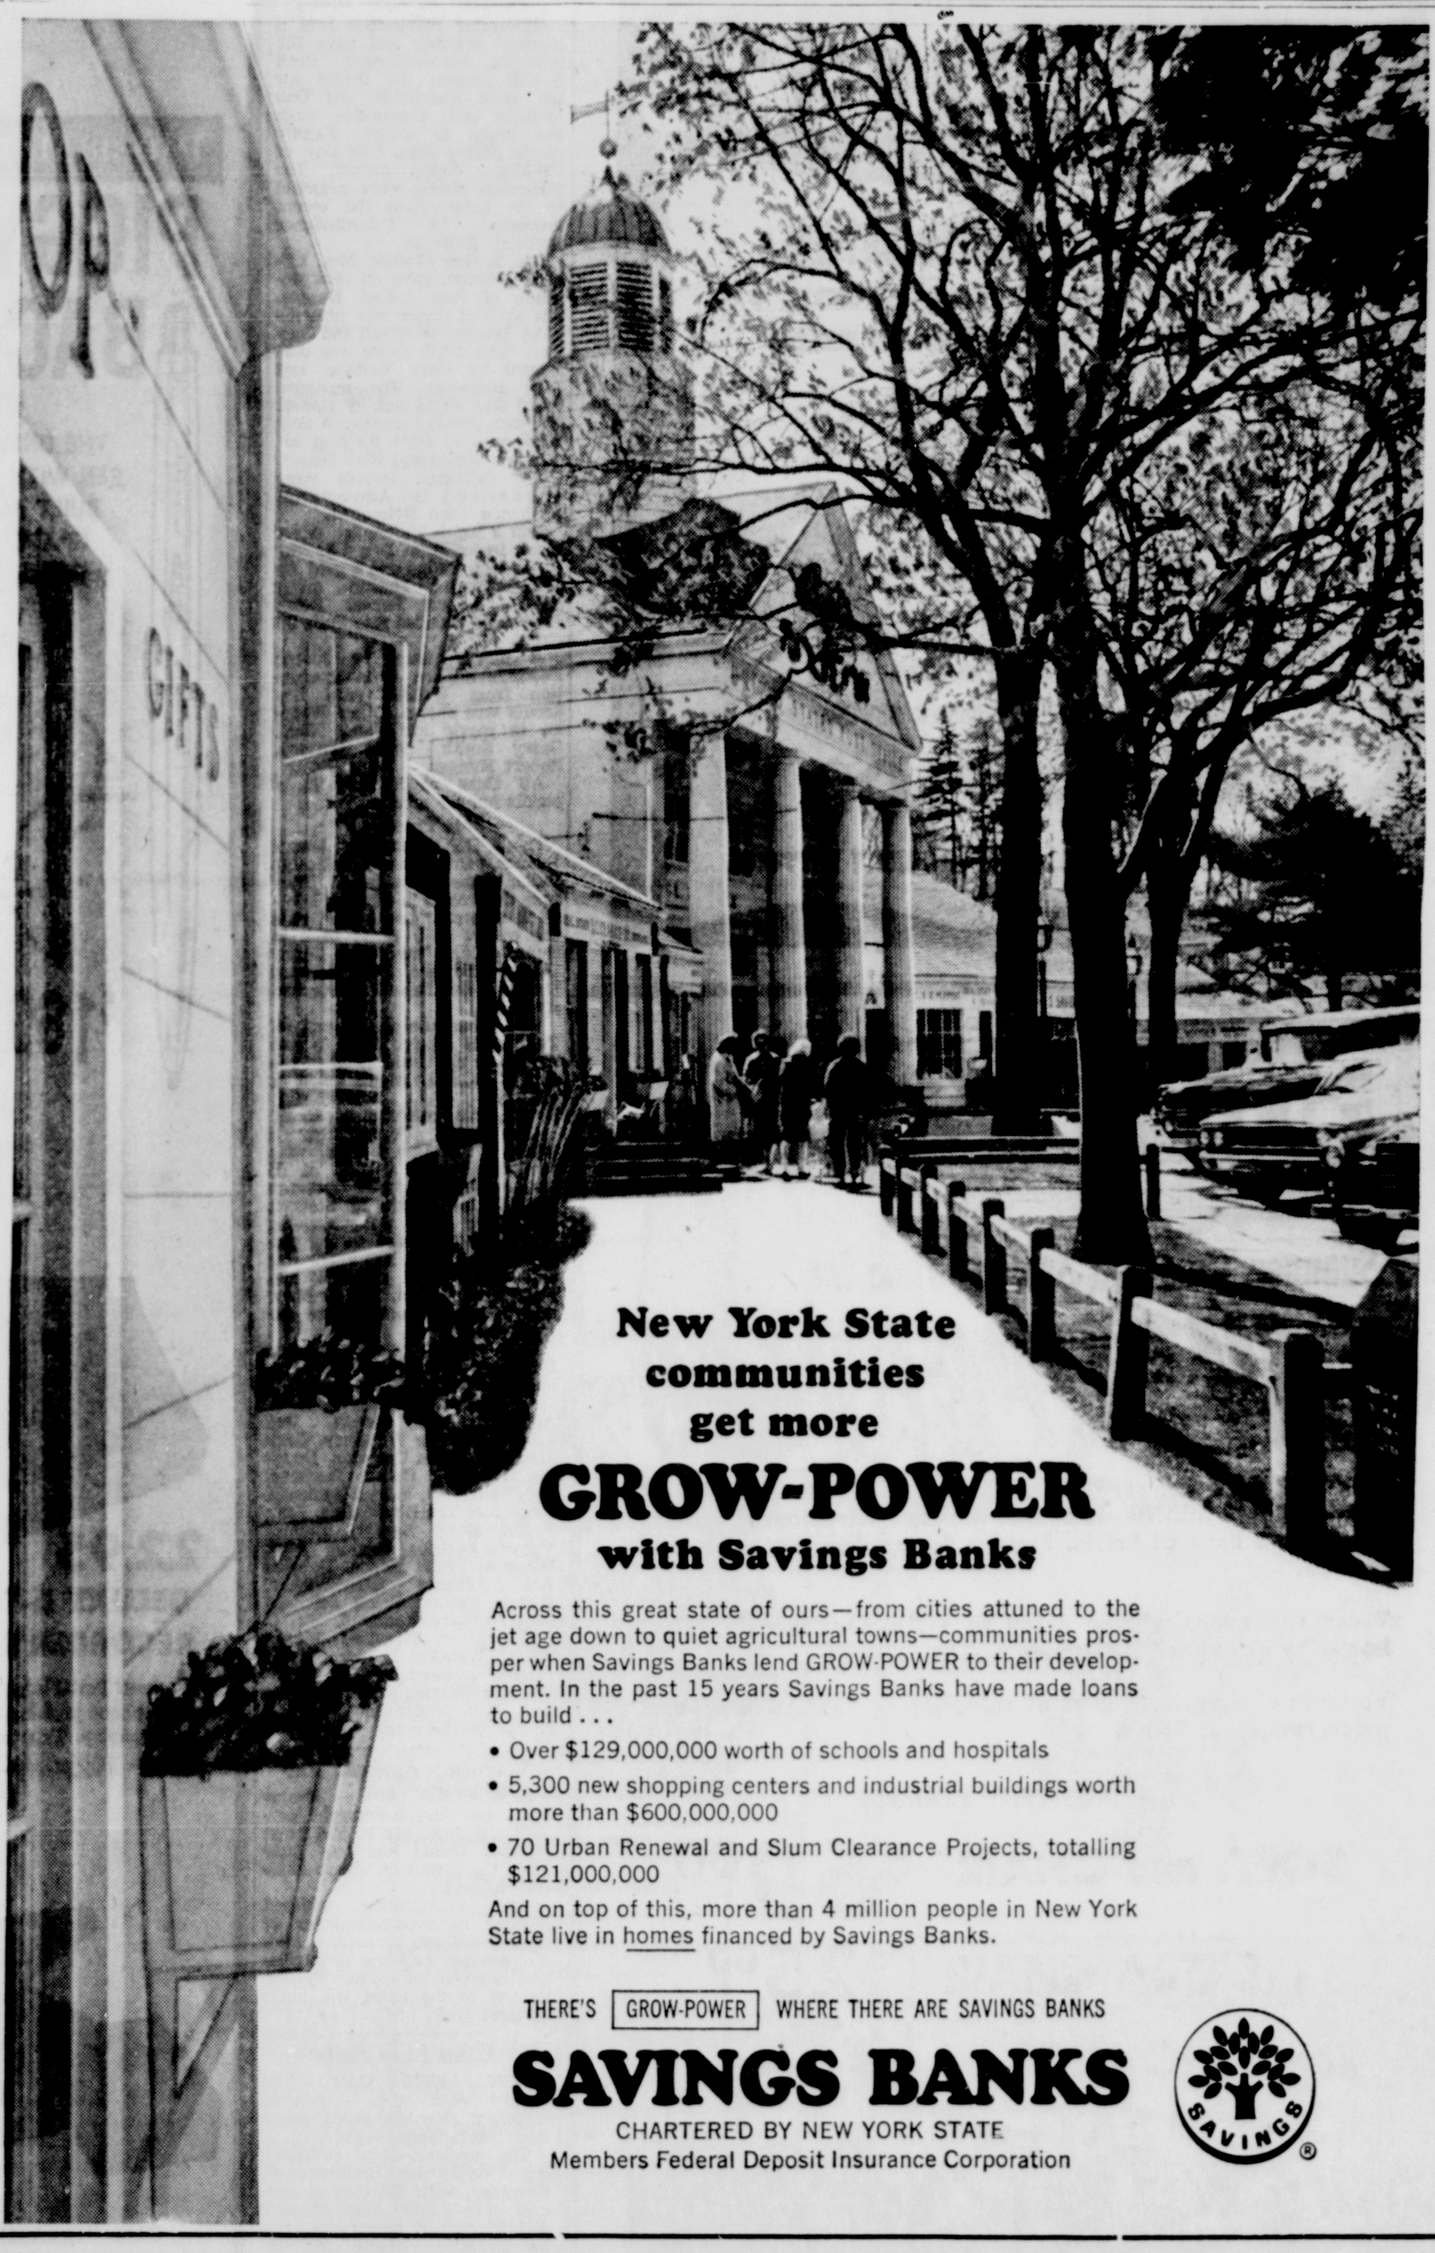

The really good news today is that at long last CBS' Ed Sullivan Show has finally concluded its bookings of British rock 'n' roll groups, although the situation makes one wonder how those teen - age female screamers in his studio audiences will now spend their Sunday evenings.

Warning Against Fat

NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody, not just overweight persons and those who've had heart disease, should eat less fatty food, the American Heart Association says.

The organization widened Monday its recommendation of three years ago because, it said, of mounting evidence of a relation between fat consumed, cholesterol in the blood and heart disease.

Atom Ship Sails

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's first atom - powered merchant ship has sailed on its first transatlantic voyage.

The nuclear ship Savannah left Monday for Bremerhaven, Germany, with 289 tons of general cargo, 6,000 bags of mail and 13 paying passengers. She has accommodations for 60. Non-paying travelers and nuclear ship trainees filled the remaining berths.

The crossing is expected to take 10 days.

Hollywood News and Views

By BOB THOMAS . .
AP Movie-Television Writer

The French beauty gave a toss of her blonde hair and smiled at him. "I simply love the kind of man who sits on the floor," she murmured.

And where was Mrs. Stewart at this time?

"Oh, she was sitting on the other side of Brigitte," the actor said. "It was a small room, and the floor was the only place I could find to sit. Me, a floor-sittter? I had never done it in my life before. It's too far for guys like me to get down there."

But Jimmy apppreciated the compliment from B.B., and he has nothing but praise for her as an actress. He recently returned from filming a five-minute sequence with her in Paris for "Erasmus With Freckles," her first American film. She plays Brigitte Bardot.

"Man, she was great," said Stewart, who is not given to easy enthusiasm. "She was on time, she knew her lines, even though she is unfamiliar with English, and she delivered them with skill. And sexy! She's really got it.

"She has that quality that all the great ones had, and I'm thinking back to the days of Jean Harlow. They start with a great physical appeal, but they learn their business, too. They all turn out to be good actresses."

Henry Koster, who is directing and producing "Erasmus With Freckles," confirmed the French charmer's acting skill.

"We had no trouble at allw ith her," he said. "We shot th 11 pages of dialogue in three days."

First Round Tells Story

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

British players have a pleasant custom of saying, "Thank you, partner," when dummy hits the table.

Good British players also make it a point to think a while before playing one of dummy's cards. They have found out—as have good American players — that the way to win is to think first and act afterwards.

South was neither British nor a good player so he didn't bother to thank his partner nor to do any thinking. Instead he reached over to dummy and pulled out the ace of diamonds with the fatuous remark, "Aces were made to take kings."

East produced the three of trumps and said, "Trumps were invented to take care of both of them."

The rest of the hand was played slowly and in complete silence. South ran off his seven trump tricks with funeral pace. Just what he expected to accomplish by this manner is not apparent. East hung on to spades, and eventually South had to concede a trick in that suit.

Had South bothered to think at trick one, he would have saved his ace of diamonds. He could well afford to lose that first trick, then he woud have that ace of diamonds available for a spade discard.

Dear Abby . . .

Mother's Work Never Done!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Every Mother's Day my married children "honor" me by bringing their families to me to feed. This Mother's Day I had 22 here. All the men played cards, and the girls sat in the living room laughing and gossiping while I was in the kitchen doing all the work. Pa helped me dry the dishes. I love my children and grandchildren, but I am getting too old to work like this. If I am still around next year, how can I let them know that I would rather not be be "honored" ljke this again without hurting their feelings?

GETTING OLD

GETTTING OLD: WHAT feelings? Tell all your children before Mother's Day that Dad is taking you out for dinner. And then see that he does, if you have to use the money you've stashed away in the sugar bowl to help him.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: You said in your column that if a boy says something dirty or out of line in front of a girl, and the girl's brother hears it, it is his place to stand up for his sister and tell the boy off. What if a girl doesn't have a brother? My girl friend and I talked over this problem because it has happened to us. She says if a boy says something dirty, the girl should ignore it. What do you think?

ANOTHER FRESHMAN

DEAR FRESHMAN: To ignore offensive language implies that it has your approval. A girl should tell a boy who gets out of line in this manner that he should watch his language. And in no uncertain terms!

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman physician with three children who don't like to do dishes. I told my problem to a remarkable patient of mine who not only raised her own family but raised several foster children, and did a wonderful job. She sent me a copy of a little poem that she keeps pasted above her kitchen sink:

"Thank God for dirty dishes,
They have a tale to tell;
While other folks go hungry,
We're eating very well.
With Home and Health and Happiness
We should't want to fuss,
For by this stack of evidence,
God's very good to us!"

Since I have put up this sign I have had no complaints.

Tug, Oil Barge Continue Voyage, Aground Earlier

The vessels freed themselves about 10:25 a. m. when the tide changed.

Both went aground on the Esopus Meadows south of Port Ewen during a heavy morning fog.

The Coast Guard reported the tug, owned by Kehoe of Brooklyn and the barge owned by Seaboard Shipping Corporation of 17 Battery Place, appeared to be aground on the flats about a half mile north of Esopus light and approximately a quarter mile off shore.

This location would place it about opposite the old Schleede brickyard and about mid-way between the old Sun Oil dock where Port Ewen is now installing a plant to take water from the river, and the Esopus light.

Supervisor Roger Mabie of Town of Ssopus, who resides on River Road, Port Ewen reproted the river had been covered with haze early today and that two ships anchored off shore had kept their fog signals running during the night. He reported the tug and barge had apparently been traveling down river, the barge being light, when they ran aground.

It is customary for loaded barges to be pushed up river and towed when being taken light down river. Both vessels were headed east-west during the early morning instead of north-south as the channel runs.

Confident Ike

Close to Nomination

This seemed to signal the general recognition that Goldwater is close to having the nomination in his pocket. Nevertheless, Rockefeller is reported to have told Eisenhower that with the senator on top of the ticket the result might be disastrous in New York, Ohio and Illinois. Scranton and Romney already have made it plain they have similar fears in Pennsylvania and Michigan.

"Congratulations on that California victory," Rockefeller said. "You and I were the only ones who stuck it out."

Predicts LBJ Win

Democrats, crowded out of the headlines by the uproar created at this conference by the Republican minority, bid for some attention through a statement of Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey.

Hughes said, in obvious reference to Goldwater, that the leading candidate for the GOP presidential nomination "espouses philosophies which time and again have been rejected by the people of our state." Hughes predicted President Johnson would carry New Jersey in November.

Then Republican governors, worried about some of Goldwater's positions, labored over a statement of principles which they felt might influence the San Francisco convention to adopt a platform more liberal than the conservative views expressed by the senator.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, invited to have breakfast with the Republican governors, predicted that if Goldwater gets the nomination he will accept a platform which will unite the party behind him.

"I respect the evaluation of the situation by the experts, but Sen. Goldwater still does not have the majority of the delegates. In the next few days, the Goldwater tide could put the senator over or, on the other hand, a new trend could develop.

Eisenhower proposed in a speech to the conference Monday night that the states originate a constitutional amendment which would give the president the power to veto individual items in congressional money bills.

He said this ought to be linked with amendments which would require a president to submit to Congress federal budgets "which balance at least biennially" and which would provide that Congress could increase presidential monetary requests only by a two-thirds vote.

into the Missouri River. Upstream gates at Canyon Ferry Dam near Helena were closed to lower the pressure on the fast-rising Missouri.

The Sun, which joins the Missouri at Great Falls, was expected to reach a crest of 20 feet—more than eight feet above flood stage—late today at Great Falls. This would cause lowland flooding surpassing a 1953 flood that caused millions of dollars damage.

Wallace Sees . . .

Wallace said, "I would have gone into California."

He said he intends to go into more states seeking to win unpledged electoral votes.

"It is conceivable that you could get enough electoral votes to hold the balance of power as to who is and who is not going to be the next president," Wallace said.

Financial and Commercial

Some of the higher-priced, more volatile issues tacked on 2 points or more.

Airlines, chemicals, rubbers, motors and electronics showed a generally higher trend, but it was very mild. Steels, rails, tobaccos, farm implements and aerospace issues were mixed. Electrical equipments declined slightly.

Up about 2 points were IBM, Polaroid and Xerox.

Gains of a point or so were made by Du Pont, Control Data and Time Inc.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK (AP) — State Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino will be out as Nassau County Republican leader within two weeks, the New York Herald Tribune said today.

The GOP Executive Committee will pick a new leader—probably state Sen. Edward J. Speno — whether or not Carlino submits his resignation, a story from Garden City said.

Want New Man

The story said the situation is this:

"Jolted by some of the results in last week's primary election, party leaders want a new head man for the November campaign. It has generally been expected that Mr. Carlino would leave the leader's post after the election. But he will leave much sooner."

The newspaper said Carlino's forthcoming exit was learned Monday "from party leaders in a position to know."

No Truth, He Says

It quoted Carlino as saying: "I am not resigning and I am not thinking of resigning. There is not a word of truth in it."

The story also said:

Repulbican sources confirmed that the informal leadership of the 100-member county executive committee had decided in a series of meetings that Carlino will be replaced.

Carlino took over as GOP county leader in June, 1961.

John Murray, Kingston, who stands charged with second and third degree assault on Amy May Murray on May 4, last, entered a plea of not guilty and his case was set down for June 29 at 2 p. m. Marshall Lipton appeared for defendant.

Thomas Vincent Davide, 16, charged with third degree burglary and unlawful entry at the M. J. M. School, had his case adjourned to June 11 at 1 p. m. after his attorney Charles Saccoman moved to dispose of the matter under the Youthful Offender law. Bail was continued and decision reserved on the motion.

Three indictments charging Robert James Beasley and McDonald Elwood Taylor with burglary, grand larceny and unlawful entry, were moved over to the September term of court. They are now confined to Sing Sing prison, Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torraca told the court.

Panama Politico Out Of Danger From Shots

PANAMA (AP)—Roberto (Tito) Arias was given a chance to live today while police sought a disappointed party associate who pumped three bullets into the colorful, controversial politician.

Arias' wife, British ballerina Dame Margot Fonteyn, said in Bath, England, her brother-in-law, Harmodio Arias, telephoned her that her husband was "out of danger."

Dr. Antonio Gonzalez Revilla, who headed a team of neurosurgeons in a 2½-hour operation on Arias, said it would be 72 hours before he could say whether his 45-year-old patient would live or whether he would be paralyzed.

It was the second political shooting since Panama's national elections May 10.

Panama's U.N. ambassador, Aquilino Boyd, fired two shots May 21 at the editor of a newspaper which accused Boyd of election fraud. The editor, Escolastico Calvo, received a minor wound.

Arias was in surgery twice Monday night over a period of almost eight hours. First, doctors removed bullets from his right arm and his right side. He was given blood transfusions. Then the surgeons removed a bullet which lodged against the spinal column and caused paralysis.

Dame Margot said that unless her husband had a relapse, she hoped to go ahead with her first of three performances with Rudolf Nureyev at the Bath Festival tonight.

The couple were last together three weeks ago when Dame Margot stopped for a few days in Panama en route to Europe after an Australian tour.

Witnesses said Jimenez spotted Arias, leaped from his car, whipped out a pistol and fired.

"You're not going to cross me up," Medina said Jimenez shouted.

Arias and Jimenez, in his late 30s, ran as candidates for deputy and alternate deputy, respectively, in the National Assembly. Publication of the vote count Monday showed Jimenez elected, but as an alternate for another deputy and not Arias.

Speculation was that Jimenez believed he would have less chance to sit in the assembly than he would have had as Arias' alternate.

Legislators Get License Plates Not Too Ornate

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The State Motor Vehicle Department is issuing special, low-number license plates, less ornate than originally planned, to members of the Legislature and New York's congressmen and U.S. senators.

Instead of bearing the state's colors — blue and gold — the plates) have the same color combination as regular plates, which have orange letters on a black background.

And legislative aides indicated that some lawmakers considered the original color scheme too distinctive and had expressed concern that constituents might frown on such a "status symbol."

Motor Vehicle Commissioner William S. Hults Jr., who conceived the special-plate plan, sent notices last week advising eligible lawmakers that their new plates were ready. About 35 applications have been received so far, the department said.

The special plates bear along the top the legends "N.Y. Assembly" or "N.Y. Senate" or "U.S. Senate" or "U.S. Congress." The bottom line reads "NY World's Fair '64" — the same as regular plates.

An applicant for a special plate must surrender his current plate and a $2 fee — the customary charge for transfers.

The department said it cost about 13 cents each to make the plates. They are manufactured at Auburn State Prison.

Check Oswald's Travels

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials begin testifying before the Warren Commission today about the travels and activities of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of assassinating President John F. Kennedy.

The commission obtained written reports from the State Department some time ago but now wants to get first-hand accounts from those who dealt with Oswald or handled various questions within the department concerning his travels and Communist associations.

The commission hopes to complete its report by the end of this month.

Barriers Lowered

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Segregation barriers at the University of Alabama, where Gov. George C. Wallace staged his brief "schoolhouse door" stand last year, have been lowered further.

The school now has three Negro women registered for summer session classes. Vivian Malone of Mobile, one of the two Negroes admitted under federal court order in June 1963, has been joined by Ruth Benella Lewis of Birmingham and Velma Thompson, a Tuscaloosa high school teacher.

Rochester Town Board Upholds Planners on 32

The regular meeting of the Town Board of the Town of Rochester was held in the town clerk's office June 4 at which time the following business was transacted.

The contract for the construction of the addition to the First Municipal Building of the Town of Rochester was awarded to the H. C. Schwab Construction Co., Inc., lowest bidder. The addition will include the installation of toilet facilities.

The town board approved the recommendation of the Planning Board, whereby the town, at the present time, should not accept the upper portion of the Project 32 Road. They also recommended that, when Project 32 is developed into a recreational area, the matter should be restudied. The Planning Board recommened acceptance of the road in the Sheldon Development, providing that the road satisfied the requirements of the town superintendent of highways and the present town road specifications. The town board approved the aforementioned recommendation.

Supervisor Franklin S. Kelder read new specifications for minor town roads, which were drafted by the Planning Board and various town officials. It was agreed that this would be discussed further, before final acceptance. The fuel oil contract was awarded jointly to William Anderson Inc. and Dunn Fuel Oil, for a period of six months each. The two bids, submitted at an earlier meeting and held for discussion, were both quoted at 12 cents per gallon.

Don't Buy Stock If Company Under Cloud

Q) "I am 28 years old and am considering buying some stock in the near future. I am primarily interested in growth. I was thinking of American Express, because I work for the company but do not know whether this is regarded as a growth stock. Is there any other stock you would prefer?" P.K.

A) In my opinion, you work for a very fine company that has compiled an unusually long record of consistent growth. Unfortunately, however, a minor subsidiary became involved in the Bayonne vegetable oil scandal and the parent company feels morally — though not legally — bound to make good part of the large sum of money lost when the oils vanished.

Amex has already made a very large offer to settle all claims against its subsidiary, but this offer has met opposition. For the time being, the stock is under a cloud and I would avoid it.

I suggest American Telephone as your initial purchase.

Q) "We are in our 30's, both have jobs and enough cash for emergencies. We have $2,500 available, and here are our choices: Sears, Roebuck; Long Island Lighting or another good utility; a food stock; California or other state tax-exempt bonds. Which would you advise?" E.R.

A) You seem like a nice young couple, and although I strongly favor all your choices, I'll do my best to pinpoint one for you.

I think we can eliminate tax-exempts. From a marketability standpoint, I would not buy less than $5,000 in a municipal issue.

Sears, Roebuck is one of my best-liked issues, as is also Long Island Lighting. However, I have recently been doing some work on a very strong food stock, Consolidated Foods, and I think this might be a good choice in your position. Consolidated is showing marked growth. For 40 weeks ended April 4, 1964 earnings gained 28 per cent over the year earlier period.

3 Drivers Fined, Sentencing Put Over on Other

A driver charged with speeding as a second offender was fined $50 in city court today, and sentence of another, who pleaded guilty to four charges, was put over to Thursday.

Four charges dealing with lack of license, no registration, unsafe tires and driving an uninspected vehicle were lodged against Charlotte Jansen, 23, of RD 1, Box 169-A, Kingston, Monday. She pleaded guilty this morning and Special City Judge Bernard A. Feeney Jr., postponed sentence until Thursday. She was released in her own recognizance.

Allen Peck, 18, of 202 Third Avenue, charged with speeding, was fined $20, and Helen Miller, 34, of Ulster Park, charged with a stop-sign violation, was fined $5 Monday.

Reach Alaska Safely

UNALASKA, Alaska (AP)—A doughty Montana ranch family has arrived safely at its sprawling new holdings on the side of an inactive volcano on this island far out on the Aleutian chain.

"It took us 11 days and five hours," Rufus Choate, late of Miles City, Mont., said Monday. "The weather was very good all the way. The sea was exceptionally calm."

Choate, who is 52, his wife, his daughter, Susan, 20, his sons, Jim, 19, and Ted, 10, and his combination first mate-ranchhand, Jack Graham of Clatskanie, Ore., weighed anchor May 22 for the long voyage north through the Inside Passage to Ketchikan, Alaska, west across the Gulf of Alaska to Kodiak and then down the Aleutians to Unalaska.

Phoenicia Man Arrested Again, Reckless Driver

Bruce Edward Curtis, 22, of Phoenicia, who recently finished serving 50 days in jail on charges lodged after a police chase from Saugerties to Kingston in April, pleaded guilty in city court today to one imposed locally, and was sentenced to 10 days in jail with credit for time served while he awaited appearance here.

Curtis was booked Saturday by local police on charges of reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident, and driving the wrong way on a one-way street. He appeared before Special City Judge Bernard A. Feeney Jr., this morning, with Attorney Ward W. Ingalsbe Jr., and a plea of guilty was entered to the reckless driving charge.

The other charges were dismissed, but it was indicated that his driving the wrong way on a one-way street was cited in the reckless driving charge. His completed sentence came of five traffic charges and court appearances in the Town of Saugerties.

Saugerties police said the arrest of Curtis last April 17 followed a chase at speeds of over 100 miles an hour by Saugerties Patrolman Harry Vickery. Police said Curtis ran from the car he drove after it struck one here and he was caught by Officer Vickery as he attempted to scale a fence off upper Broadway.

War on Typhoid Is Started by 30,000 Books on Disease

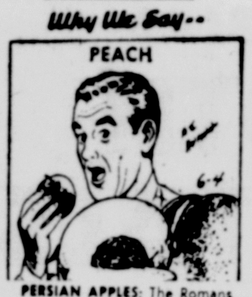

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) —Municipal authorities Monday began distributing 30,000 copies of a 12-page booklet on how to stamp out typhoid, as the city's outbreak of the disease reached a new peak.

The number of cases reported in the city rose Sunday to 402, of which 342 have been confirmed as typhoid. The number of confirmed cases is now higher than in the worst previous modern outbreak in Britain. In the 1937 outbreak in London's Croydon suburb there were 340 confirmed cases, of whom 43 died. One death has been reported in the current outbreak.

Aberdeen's medical officer of health, Dr. I. A. G. MacQueen said Sunday the pattern of the outbreak in the city now suggests that it is coming under control.

It is to help perfect the city's food hygiene that the booklet is being distributed. Dr. MacQueen said latest reports indicated almost all the city's residents were cooperating toward mastering their food and personal hygiene procedures.

Stratton Against Nominating RFK For Senate Run

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., said to be interested in becoming a candidate for U.S. senator, has voiced indirectly his opposition to a suggestion that Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy be nominated to run for the Senate from New York.

"Real victory for our party and for the people of New York can come only from within our state and within our party framework," Stratton told a Democratic audience Monday night.

Although he did not mention Kennedy by name, Stratton obviously referred to a proposal that New York Democrats nominate the attorney general to oppose Republican Kenneth B. Keating next fall.

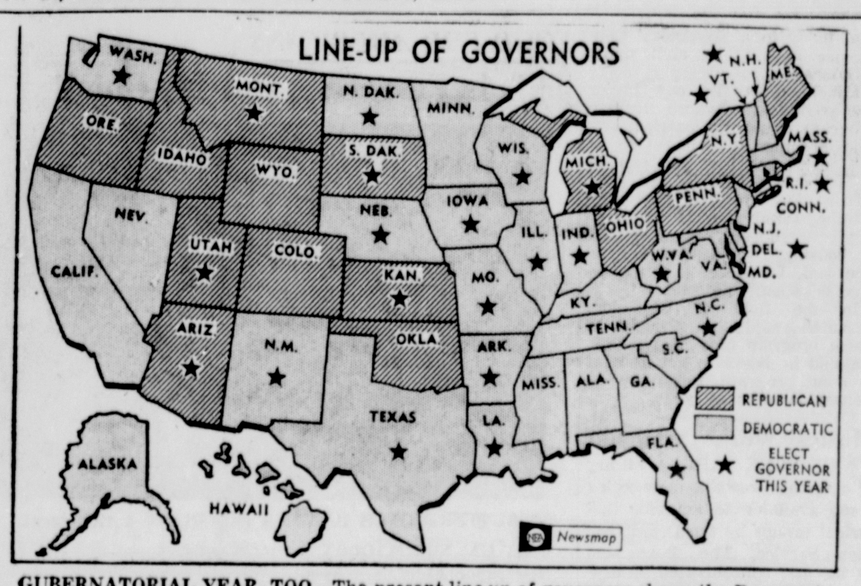

He commented in an appearance before the Democratic State Platform Committee — here for the first of three Upstate hearings on matters pertaining to the 1964 national platform.

Stratton previously had said he did not believe Kennedy was interested in the nomination. Kennedy says he has not decided whether he will seek the senatorial candidacy from New York.

Another witness, Nicholas Kisburg of Teamsters Union Joint Council 16, said the challenge in the United States was to enlarge the "pitifully few pockets of alluence," rather than to eliminate pockets of poverty.

"Too many people in New York State do not have a full belly," Kisburg said.

The committee scheduled the second Upstate hearing today in Buffalo and will be in Rochester Wednesday.

Student Pleads Guilty to Theft

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Bruce Berlin, 21, and "A" student who was graduated Sunday from Syracuse University, has pleaded guilty in federal court to a charge of mail theft.

Berlin, described by a university spokesman as an "A" student, received a bachelor of arts degree Sunday at the university's 110th commencement. The spokesman said the school considered him innocent of the theft charge, unless he were proved guilty.

Dante M. Scaccia, U.S. Attorney, said Berlin was arrested last December by postal inspectors who had been watching him. Scaccia said the letters were addressed to local businessmen and contained money. He declined to say how much.

The governor proposed at the National Governors' Conference here that a "crash program in education be developed to offset the problem."

"It seems to me the frustration of the Negro has grown so rapidly that we are fast approaching a violence situation," Scranton declared.

He outlined for newsmen a proposal he said he would present today to a Governors' Conference meeting on civil rights in education.

Education is the one major civil rights area where a crash program could be carried out, said Scranton.

"I don't see how you can do it in employment," he said. "There just aren't enough jobs.

"The same applies in housing." A sudden rearrangement of housing "would lead to friction and, I believe, a retrogressive reaction," he said.

In the field of education, Scranton said he thought a crash program may be possible. He said he hopes to get at least a pilot program underway in Pennsylvania next year.

Musical Works Available

Showdown Looms For Leadership Battle in Erie

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — A leadership struggle in the Erie County Republican Committee appears headed for a showdown with announced opposition to Committee Chairman Robert W. Grimm's bid for re-election.

Thomas W. Ryan, a one-time consultant to state Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, who has been involved in the struggle with Grimm, announced Monday he would face Grimm in committee elections Wednesday.

If elected, Ryan said, he would "serve to the very best of my ability, free and clear of entanglements with any group or faction."

Grimm said, "My opponent is not only sponsored by the Mahoney camp, but, as a matter of fact, he was at one time on Sen. Mahoney's payrool in Albany."

Ryan said he served as a consultant to Mahoney for two months in 1952.

Takes Barry for Granted

Johnson Acts Like He Can't Wait for Campaign to Start

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson acts like a man who can't wait for the 1964 presidential campaign to start. It actually has started, although it is not supposed to until after this summer's political conventions.

Johnson already has begun firing at complaints Republicans are making and seem sure to continue until Election Day, one way or another. More than that: he sounds as if he takes for granted that Sen. Barry Goldwater will be his opponent.

A speech last week was a direct answer to Goldwater's misgivings about American defenses. Monday he hit at another Goldwater complaint: that government is getting too big and endangering freedom.

There's a touch of the Republican campaign of 12 years ago when Dwight D. Eisenhower ran for the White House. Eisenhower himself got into the act Monday with one of his favorite themes of 1952: cut government spending.

Aims at Budgets

At the Governors' Conference in Cleveland Monday, Eisenhower, who has been super-cautious about making any suggestions in the Republican presidential contest, urged a constitutional amendment requiring balanced budgets every two years.

Like Goldwater, he deplored bigness in government. But when he talks about cutting government spending he is in a prickly field where he had to eat his own words when he was president.

In 1952 he promised to reduce expenses to $60 billion yearly from what he said was then $80 billion, although actually it was $74 billion. But he hedged it a bit. He said he'd make the reduction "assuming the cold war gets no worse."

He also promised to balance the budget. He never got the budget down to $60 billion. In his last fiscal year it went up to $81.5 billion, highest in peacetime history, with a deficit of almost $4 billion.

Three Times in Eight Years

He managed to balance the budget only three times in eight years. At the end of his second term the national debt was the highest in history. Both the debt and the budget went up further under President John F. Kennedy.

In the course of his talk to the governors, Eisenhower took a crack at Johnson's antipoverty program. Johnson could not have known, when he prepared hs own speech, what Eisenhower was going to say Monday.

But what he said, while undoubtedly aimed at Goldwater, answered Eisenhower, too, on the question of government bigness. Johnson said the nation need have no fear it was getting too big for the freedom-loving individual.

Goldwater has been playing his warning about bigness over and over like a record.

Swindled, He Writes

As long ago as 1960, in his book, "Conscience of a Conservative," Goldwater was saying:

"How did our national government grow from a servant with sharply limited powers into a master with virtually unlimited powers? In part we were swindled.

"Alll too often we have put men in office who have suggested spending a little more on this a little more on that, who have proposed a new welfare program, who have thought of another variety of security.

"We have taken the bait, preferring to put off to another day the recapture of freedom and the restoration of our constitutional system."

Barry Tones Down

Johnson said government neither subverts, undermines nor lessens freedom "through the Social Security System, or by bringing electricity to the farm. . .by controlling floods, by ending bank failures. . .by providing school lunches for our children."

Goldwater has toned down his statements about the Social Security System. He suggested putting it on a voluntary basis, although how it could then survive he never explained.

After he lost the New Hampshire primary in March his campaign manager there said he had pulled a major boner in advocating a voluntary Social Security System.

Since then Goldwater has been saying he simply wants to improve Social Security, not end it, by keeping the dollar sound.

Carlino Charges Defense Cutbacks Generate Fear

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) —Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino accused President Johnson's administration today of using a "guillotine approach" in defense cutbacks.

The result, he said, has been to generate "a climate of fear . . .in various sectors of our economy, particularly in areas such as Buffalo and my own Long Island community where the overwhelming majority of industry is defense-based."

The Nassau County Republican leader today criticized the Democratic national administration in remarks prepared for a luncheon of the Greater Buffalo Advertising Club.

He also announced that the Legislature's GOP leadership would appoint an Economic Advisory Council to provide "expert opinion, criticism and advice" on ways of stimulating economic growth in New York State.

Carlino said the Johnson administration had taken a series of "thunderbolt actions closing down or drastically curtailing military contracts and installation" in New York and other states.

"Criticism of this guillotine approach is not partisan," he said. "Democratic as well as Republican congressmen from all sections of the country have been critical of this failure to recognize the tremendous impact of sudden shifts in federal expenditures."

Another Bid Made To Abandon Tracks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New York Central Railroad wants the Interstate Commerce Commission to reconsider its rejection of the railroad's proposal to abandon 127 miles of track in Oneida, Herkimer, Hamilton, St. Lawrence and Essex counties, N.Y.

The Central said Monday that, since an examiner recommended against the proposed abandonment a year ago, revenues have continued to decline, despite a 10 per cent fare increase.

The carrier also noted that the Post Office Department has discontinued a mail route served by the track involved, resulting in a revenue loss estimated at $100,000 a year.

The 127 mile section is a part of the Adirondack branch between Prospect Junction and Gabriels, a connecting line from that branch to the Ogdensburg branch, and another connection from Lake Clear Junction to Lake Placid.

If you are roasting that turkey without stuffing (for a buffet party) it's a good idea to serve hot buttered cornbread with the bird and whatever trimmings you're setting fourth.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Is the stock market playing its supposed function of barometer? Is it forecasting a slowdown in the economy in the next few months by bidding down prices now? Or is it just adjusting some past excesses and getting prices of specific stocks in better line with actualities and company prospects?

At the moment market analysts lean to the adjustment theory. They don't think the market is troubled by fears of a general business slowdown or worse.

Some industries anticipate their traditional summer slack period but this time perhaps less sharp than usual. Most are still confident, in public utterances at least, that the fall pickup will be better than usual.

Stock traders in their current show of caution, if that's what it is, come after a period of exuberance earlier this year has been matched by most businessmen and consumers.

The upward pace of the economy has been encouraging, but not as fast as many had expected. The upswing has entered its 40th month with signs neither of tiring nor of getting over confident.

It will have to climb considerably faster this fall if the year as a whole is to reach the heights that some predicted for it last January.

Industrial production, employment and personal income all have been rising, with particularly notable spurts in April and May.

In production the stars have been autos and steel, with construction also turning in a good performance.

Next month, car plants will be changing over to new models. Steel mills will feel the usual effect of summer vacations closing the plants of some of their best customers.

Employment made an impressive advance in May. And the number of jobless fell. The percentage of jobless to the total labor force dropped to lowest figure in more than four years.

That is, it did for about all classes except teen-agers. June will see a great outpouring of students into the labor market, some looking for summer work, some for permanent employment. The teen-age unemployment problem is likely to get worse before it gets better.

Many economists think that the effects of the federal income tax cut are yet to be felt. A few think it will give less of a boost to the economy than it was supposed to.

The stock market seems almost alone in flying a warning flag, if that is what it's doing. More likely, perhaps, it is merely taking profits on past price increases, adjusting its thinking about certain companies, consolidating to be ready for whatever the autumn has in store.

TOKEN OF APPRECIATION

Q: One of my neighbors has been very kind and has gone out of her way on several occasions to do favors for me. I have just learned that she is having a birthday next week and I would like to buy her a birthday present to show my appreciation for her many kindnesses. My husband has advised me against this, not because he doesn't want me to give her a present but because he feels that I will be placing her under obligation to give me a present on my birthday. What do you advise?

A: I am inclined to agree with your husband and think it would be much better to give her a present at some other time raher than on her birthday, explaining that it is a small token of your appreciation for all the kind things she has done for you.

Leaving Fiancee Alone at Table

Q: I took my fiancee to dinner in a restaurant last evening and while we were waiting to be served, I spotted an old friend of mine sitting at another table. As I didn't see him for a long time, I went over and spoke to him. When I returned to our table my fiancee was very annoyed with me for having left her sitting alone and claims that I was very discourteous to her. Was I wrong?

A: It was not very courteous to your fiancee to leave her sitting alone at table and you should have waited until you were leaving to stop and speak to him.

NANCY HEPPNER

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

So you want to be a real companion to your husband? Most wives think they do. But not all wives are willing to make the effort.

If you ARE willing, none of these suggestions will seem like too much trouble to you:

Give your husband's favorite pastimes a real try. Don't refuse to go hunting because you're "scared to death of guns," or veto fishing because you think you'd be bored sitting in a boat all day.

Always have ideas of your own of something to do, so that when your husband asks "What would you like to do . . . ?" you don't give some such dispirited reply as "Nothing special, I guess."

Be a good sport. No one is a good companion who doesn't know how to make light of inconveniences, or how to fall in happily with new plans when the original ones don't work out.

Leave your worries at home. Your husband can never get away from it all, if you insist on bringing all your worries with you and discussing them endlessly.

Keep your advice to a minimum. Let your husband be in charge — even if you are inclined to manage things at home.

Be willing to do things on the spur of the moment. If your husband phones to ask you to dinner after you already have a roast in the oven, why mention it? You can use it for another meal.

Be enthusiastic. Don't go along half-heartedly with your husband's plans and expect him to be happy. Unless your enthusiasm matches his, any outing will turn out to be a dud.

Upstate Writers Cited For Medical Reporting

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—John Van Buren of the Rochester Democrat & Chronicle and Keith George of the Binghamton Sun-Bulletin today were named winners of the fifth annual Empire State Awards for excellence in medical reporting.

Both reporters were awarded $500 by the Annual Health Conference, Inc., which opened its 60th annual session here today.

Van Buren, who has been covering health, medicine and science for his paper for eight years, was nominated by the Monroe County Medical Society. The society said his stories had prompted improvements in the care of the elderly in nursing homes.

George was cited for his stories on open-heart surgery he underwent last April. He has been with the Sun-Bulletin since he was graduated from Syracuse University five years ago.

The Annual Health Conference presents the awards on behalf of the State Health Department and the Medical Society of the State of New York.

Meeting Today On Taking Young Farmers Abroad

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Plans are under way to send young New Yorkers trained in agriculture on a mission with the U.S. Peace Corps.

Robert C. Forsythe of the Metropolitan Milk Producers Bargaining Agency scheduled a meeting in Ithaca today with Peace Corps officials and representatives of the state 4-H Club organization and the extension service of the State College of Agriculture.

Forsythe said the purpose was to recruit 35 to 40 young people trained in agriculture who would volunteer to spend two years in the Peace Corps.

As proposed, the entire group would be sent to one country. Forsythe estimated it would take a year to get the project rolling. He said he had no particular country in mind for the project.

Bach, Berardi Paul Gruner Are Selected

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Kingston High school's DUSO champions dominate the 1964 All-Star team, as selected in Middletown yesterday by members of the DUSO Sportswriters and Broadcasters Assn.

Pitcher Brian Bach, catcher Paul Gruner and outfielder Nick Berardi are the three KHS players honored. Pitcher Gene Rios, third baseman Lou Perry, shortstop Mike Canning were awarded honorable mention berths.

Coach Al Gruner, who guided the locals to their first circuit title since the '48 season, was named "Coach of the Year." He beat Phil Chase of Port Jervis and Middletown's Ed Rodiek for the honors, the second time the KHS coach has captured the award in the past three seasons.

Paul Gruner, son of the coach, just missed being named "Player of the Year," He lost by a vote to Francis (Butch) Warnke, the hard hitting jack of all trades from Middletown.

Nolan Is Named

Joining Bach as pitcher on the first team is Joe Nolan of Port Jervis. The selections have Pete Petrillo, Newburgh, first base; John Bell, Port Jervis, second base; Frank Tether, Middletown, shortstop and Warnke at third.

Nolan, Warnke, Berardi and Parker are repeaters from last year. Warnke was also selected in 1962, giving him three straight seasons as an all-league performer.

Bach, one of the two sophomore pitching aces at Kingston, and Nolan, who hurled in all eight of Port's league games, were unanimous selections. Rios, the left handed side of the KHS mound corps, was a unanimous choice for his honorable mention berth.

Other sophomores named are Bell and Tether. Petrillo and George are juniors and the others are seniors.

An Untested Club

Gruner, who performed one of his greatest coaching jobs, richly deserves his laurels. He started the season with a young club and molded it into a solid contender.

Despite an opening setback to Port Jervis, the KHS coach kept his team close to the lead. After losing for a second time to the Raiders, the locals won the rest of their games and captured the title when Port blew to Newburgh and Poughkeepsie.

Gruner is a former semi-pro baseball player. He has a solid knowledge of the game and is recognized as one of the top scholastic diamond coaches in the area.

Ed Palladino's MR Selections

BEST BET — Shadydale Payoff (4th)

UPSET CHANCE—Ted Woollen (2nd)

1. ANGELIQUE comes off impressive race at fair grounds. BOWL OF FLOWERS went good mile last week, being nipped in the stretch. GUNKAHAR doesn't show much but can beat the rest of this field.

2. LONG ENSIGN good old horse. Might take this one in the stretch. TED WOOLLEN hasn't won in two years but is rounding into shape. Might upset in this one. TARR'S TOUCHDOWN has pole and good driver.

3. BEDEVIL breezed in MR debut. Figures to be right there with Camper in the sulky. MISS SPEEDSTER won last three at Green Mountain. Will be the competition, despite post. HOBO FRANGRAY did well last week. Post aids this time.

4. SHADYDALE PAYOFF is the best bet of the night. Is in top shape and won last outing with something to spare. MYSTERY MELODY seeking third straight. CHOCKOYOTTE LEE has been in the money 11 times in 16 starts.

5. HANK figures despite the driver. TAG EM has been a disappointment. Might wake up here. LEROY HANOVER was hung in previous race and tired in the stretch. Can win with racing luck.

6. SONNY FROST consistent trotter. Has beaten much better. DARN REVUE will stay close and can win it in the trot to the wire. EVA'S SON was good last year.

7. FIRST NIGHTER seeking second straight at MR. Has top driver and favorable post. PORTER HANOVER will cut out fantastic pace and might hang on for second. MISS LEE SCOTT will benefit by the pace and can win it in the stretch.

8. BUNKER was bet heavy the last time. Might make amends here. BACHE ROSECROFT the chief challenger can take it all. JAM SESSION was aided by an accident in the last race. Is in deeper this time.

9. SENATOR PETE can come right back to take second straight. MAHONE TIME has been a disappointment. HILL TEST is always close.

Giannotti Slated to Attend Hargrave Military Academy

Richie Giannotti, the "Player of the Year" in the DCSL football league for the past two seasons, has enrolled at Hargrave Military Academy for the 1964-65 school session. He will take a post graduate college preparatory course at the school, located in Chatham, Virginia.

Giannotti recently concluded an outstanding high school career in both football and track. The 5-7 speedster played three seasons of varsity football and was one of the reasons why the Sawyers are clinging to a 31-game winning streak.

He holds the school record for the 100 and 220 yard dashes in track and took part in the state meet over the weekend in Ithaca.

Coach Bob Brown of Hargrave commented, "we are very fortunate in obtaining Giannotti's services for the '64 season. We certainly feel he will be a great asset to our backfield."

Hargrave is a member of the Virginias' Military School league and the Tigers' '64 football schedule includes four VMSL contests—Fork Union Military Academy, the defending champion; Staunton Military Academy; Augusta Military Academy and Greenbrier (W. Va.) Military School.

Three North Carolina opponents are also on the 1964 slate—home contests with Carolina Military Academy and the annual Parents' Week-End game—this year with the Guilford College Freshmen; and the away contest at Davidson College Freshmen. A home game with Frederick Military Academy rounds out the schedule.

Hutch to Rejoin Red Team Today

SEATTLE (AP)—Fred Hutchinson, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, was given a checkup of a cancerous growth in his chest Monday and headed for Los Angeles today to join his team.

Just before the examination, he said the outcome of the examination would decide whether he could rejoin the Reds or had to stay in Seattle a while.

He said he felt about the same as he did after receiving massive radiation treatment for six weeks early this year in Swedish Hospital's Tumor Institute in Seattle.

Dr. Orliss Wildermuth, head of the Tumor Institute, said he considered Fred's examination a routine checkup.

"What you don't know about car insurance can cost you money," says Nationwide

AMERICANS spend $6 billion a year on car insurance. Yet most people hardly know a thing about what they're buying.

Nationwide agents make a point of giving their customers all the facts, and we believe in doing the same thing in our advertising. Here are answers to some of the most often-asked questions about car insurance.

1. Will I get the same rates from all companies? No. You may be surprised to learn that there is a considerable difference between companies.

Some companies such as the Nationwide companies are much fussier than others about whom they insure. They accept only people with good driving records. As a result, they can charge less because they have fewer accident claims to pay.

If you're looking for car insurance, be sure to talk to a Nationwide man. There's a good chance he can offer a better deal on car insurance than his competition.

2. Are there different ways of figuring my rates? Yes. Few people realize there are two kinds of rating plans. They are "non-variable" and "variable."

"Non-variable" is the most popular kind. Your policy is based on flat rates which do not depend on your driving record.

"Variable" is the "merit-demerit" plan. The more accidents you have, the higher your rates. The fewer accidents, the lower your rates.

Here in New York, Nationwide Mutual sells the "flat rate" type of policy.

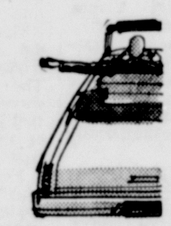

3. Why do men under 25 pay such high rates? Drivers in this age group have a much higher percentage of accidents than drivers in any other age group. And these young drivers have worse accidents, too.

NOTE: Nationwide knows that not all males under 25 are careless drivers. We were the first insurance company to offer lower rates to young men who complete a qualified driver training course.

4. What factors besides age affect rates? Several. The year of your car. Your occupation. The size of your town. How much you use your car. These things all count.

Keep your agent up-to-date on all points. For example, be sure to tell him if you move. Many people don't, and are paying a lot more than they should for car insurance.

5. Can a careful driver save money? Yes. A person with a good driving record can almost always qualify for insurance with a company like Nationwide. Nationwide can save a careful driver as much as $40 a year, or more.

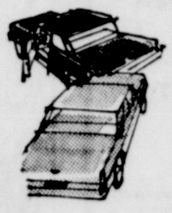

6. How do companies decide who's a careful driver? As yet no company has come up with a foolproof way of deciding. However, we are finding that careful drivers have certain things in common. For instance, they drive less than 20 miles to and from work. They've been in the same line of work for the past five years. And they're married.

Some of these things may not seem to have much to do with how well you drive, but we find they go together with an accident-free driving record.

7. Do women drivers pay less than men? Women over 25 pay the same as men. Women under 25 pay anywhere from 10 to 63 percent less than men in this age group. The reason? Young women have fewer accidents than young men. Our records prove it!

8. Why have my rates gone up even though I've never had an accident? Because insurance companies are paying out more money in claims than ever before. How come? There are more cars on the road than ever before (about 22 cars for every mile of road). There are more accidents per 100 cars. Cars cost more to repair. Juries are awarding bigger settlements.

As long as insurance companies have to pay out more, they have to take in more. Result: you pay higher rates.

9. What if I'm hit by a driver with no insurance? You can now buy insurance that will protect you if this happens. It's called Uninsured Motorists Coverage. You can add this protection to a Nationwide policy for just a few dollars.

10. Do some insurance companies offer faster claim service than others? Yes. But most companies today offer excellent claim service. They have to or they wouldn't stay in business.

Nationwide is the second largest mutual car insurer in the world. We think one reason we've gotten so big is that we pay over half of all our claims within 24 hours after proof of loss. Nearly two-thirds of all claims within 72 hours.

Amazing record for fast claim settlement

We believe our Nationwide drive-in claims station in Columbus holds the world record for fast payment.

11. Do all insurance companies have drive-in claims stations? No. Only a few. Nationwide introduced the country's first drive-in claims station in 1954. We now have them in 48 cities. They are saving people time and trouble.

12. Can I lower my rates? There's a good chance you can. Here are some things you can do:

▶ Take a larger deductible amount on your collision coverage. This will lower your premium. Example: collision coverage with $100 deductible may cost you 25 to 30 percent less than the same coverage with $50 deductible.

▶ If you have a boy in high school who drives your car, enroll him in his school's driver training course. This may lower your liability rates 5 to 15 percent.

▶ If you own two cars, be sure they are both insured with the same company. You may get a discount. Nationwide generally offers a 10 percent discount for both cars.

▶ If you think you're a careful driver, and you have a good driving record, be sure to give Nationwide a try. You may find that we can save you some of your hard-earned money.

If you have any questions that are not answered in this advertisement, check the Yellow Pages for the number of a Nationwide agent.

Jaycees Golf Clinic At Wiltwyck, June 16

The first in a series of events in this year's Kingston Jaycees Junior Golf tournament is an instructional clinic, co-chairman Ed Baldyga and Bob Gholson announced today.

The clinic will be held Tuesday, June 16, at 6 p. m. at Wiltwyck Country Club. A second clinic is scheduled on June 19 at Wiltwyck. The instructions will be given by Scotty Robertson and Alex Gerlak, pros at Wiltwyck and Twaalfskill, respectively.

A driving contest will be held on June 26 at 6 p. m. Tee off times will be posted for the first round of the 36-hole elimination tournament which is scheduled on Sunday and Monday, June 28-29, at Wiltwyck.

Age Limitation

The only requirements are that a boy be a resident of Ulster county and not 18 years of age as of August 16, 1964. Applications are available at all the sporting goods stores in Kingston, as well as high schools and golf courses in Ulster county.

Deadline for entries is June 26 at the driving contest. Applications will also be available at the clinic.

The two low scorers in the Kingston eliminations will go to Auburn to vie for the New York state championship. An entry list of at least 50 boys is expected for this year's tournament. Thirty-five participated in 1963, with Dan Gaffney the winner.

Jaycees urge that all eligible boys get their entry blank in as soon as possible.

Koufax Allows Only Four Hits in 2-1 Win

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodger left-hander who makes a habit of being stingy with base hits, took a swipe at a second straight no-hitter Monday night and for four innings of a 2-1 Dodger victory over Cincinnati, he had staticians crambling for their record books.

Koufax retired the first 12 Reds he faced but No. 13, Deron Johnson, broke the spell with a home run. With the pressure off, Koufax gave up three more hits en route to his 100th career victory.

Sandy, whose third no-hitter came against Philadelphia last week, scored the tying run in the fifth when he forced Dick Tracewski who had walked, moved up on Maury Wills' single and scored on Willie Davis' hit.

VanderMeer Did It

Elsewhere in Monday's abbreviated major league schedule, Milwaukee whipped Houston 5-3 as Hank Aaron tagged a two-run homer, Cleveland's Leon Wagner took the major league RBI lead with a two-run homer and a run-producing single as the Indians topped Los Angeles 6-3, Jim King smashed three home runs but Washington bowed to Kansas City 5-4 and Detroit outslugged Minnesota 10-5.

The St. Louis at San Francisco National League afternoon game was rained out.

Koufax, bringing his record to 7-4 with his third consecutive victory, also was touched for a ninth-inning single by Johnson and two hits by Steve Boros. Boros beat out a bunt in the fifth and singled in the eighth.

Besides trying for a second straight no-hitter, Koufax also was trying to set a record by striking out 10 or more batters in a single game for the 55th time in his career. The record of 54 is shared by Bob Feller and Rube Waddell. Koufax, however, struck out only five.

Felipe Alou opened the Braves' first with a double. One out later, Aaron connected off Hal Brown, 1-6, and Milwaukee never trailed. Alou collected two doubles and Lee Maye also had two hits while Dave Roberts slammed two doubles and a single for the Colts.

Tony Cloninger, 4-5, got the victory but needed ninth-inning relief help when Houston pushed across two runs.

Drabowsky Wins

The A's got a homer from Ed Charles in the first, then put it away with a four-run eighth-inning uprising. Rocky Colavito singled in two runs before George Alusik wrapped up the rally with a two-run homer. Moe Drabowsky got the victory, his first since April 25, and snapped a seven-game losing streak.

Wagner, who brought his RBI total to 46, and Bob Chance hit back-to-back homers in the eighth after singles by Joe Azcue and Dick Howser around a sacrifice had provided the tying run for the Indians. Chance's homer was his fourth in four games.

The Angels had taken a 3-2 lead in the seventh, chasing rookie Sonny Siebert, who had a four-hit shutout through six innings.

Don Demeter hit a homer for the Tigers in the first. Then, after the Twins tied it 2-2, Norm Cash hit a three-run shot in the third and put Detroit ahead to stay.

Ferraro Leads Fort Lauderdale With .330 Mark

Including games of June 3, the Yankees bonus player showed 55 hits in 166 trips to the dish for a .330 average, tops among the regulars.

His 55 hits led the club, as did his ten doubles, three triples and 28 runs-batted-in. The former KHS star also showed five sacrifices, which tied him for first in that phase of the game. He also had a pair of stolen bases.

Ferraro was one of three players on the team to participate in all the club's first 45 games. The Yankee farm club showed a 26-19 record during that period.

Smash Ring That Stole From PO

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal prosecutors say they have broken a burglary ring that stole $250,000 in money orders, stamps and cash from more than 30 post offices in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

They said the ringleader was Daniel Bozza, 42, of Jersey City, N.J., who was arraigned Monday in Brooklyn Federal Court on charges of forgery and passing stolen money orders. He was held in $50,000 bail.

Also arraigned was Peter Tonnesen, 27, of Brooklyn, who was seized at his home. He was charged with forgery and passing stolen money orders and was held in $2,500 bail.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Martin R. Pollner said a total of $206,000 in blank money orders, each with a potential face value of $100, was stolen from the post office.

He said two other men had been arrested earlier in New Jersey.

Scranton Does Polka

The group sat quietly Monday night listening to four strolling gypsy violinists playing for some costumed dancing girls. Without warning, Scranton jumped up and whisked his wife, Mary, onto the floor for what witnesses said turned into a vigorous Hungarian polka.

Wrong Capacity Given

The air conditioner advertised in the Standard Furniture Co. advertisement in Monday's issue of The Freeman has a capacity of 5300 BTU—not 53,000 as incorrectly stated.

PLAN DIRECTORY DISTRIBUTION — A committee meeting to discuss the distribution of the new Ulster County Directory, met recently at the offices of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. First of its kind in the county, the resort/travel directory is expected to be ready for distribution this weekend. Attending the meeting were (l-r) George Svirsky, vice president of Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce; Oscar V. Newkirk, postmaster; Michael C. Starkman, editor and publisher; Frank A. Byer, Central Hudson's executive director for county publicity, and Sam Levine of Kingston News Service. J. O'Connor, publicity chief at the New York State Pavilion at the World's Fair will accept copies of the booklet from Abram Molyneaux, chairman of Ulster County Board of Supervisors' publicity committee and Starkman. (Ideal photo)

County Directory Expected to Be Off Press Soon

Plans for the distribution of the new Ulster County Directory and Guide have been made, Michael C. Starkman, publisher, said today.

The run of 15,000 copies, boosted from a committed 10,000, will be complete in a matter of days. Quantities will be sent to all advertisers, participating Chambers of Commerce, the New York World's Fair, and Kingston New Service.

The latter firm will place copies throughout the county via newstands on the usual commercial basis. In addition, Kingston News has indicated that distribution will be made outside the county including major metropolitan areas and possibly on the New York State Thruway.

In this maner maximum exposure to the travelling vacation public will be accomplished, plus availability to out-of-towners temporarily within the tcounty and to local people.

As a surprise gesture, Starkman announced an additional printing over and above the 15,000 planned, of a second "Bulletin of listings," a printing of just listings which appear in the directory and guide. This booklet of listings, containing no editorial material or photos, will be used with first class correspondence mailings to answer distant inquiries about where to stay, certain services, etc. "While the latter will be for mail use primarily" Starkman said, "the probability is that both booklets will be used both ways.

"I am happy to be able to make this plus printing available in limited quantities, at no cost. The printing matter, already set up, can be used to good advantage to supply the Chambers and the Ulster County Publicity Committee with material to answer inquiries from county advertising in New York City newspapers. In certain mailings the postage on the directory and guide would be prohibitive. I expect this gesture on my part to pay off in the future."

Participating in the distribution program will be Oscar V. Newkirk, Kingston postmaster; Frank A. Byer, executive director of Ulster County Publicity Committee; George Svirsky, representing Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce; Sam Levine, Kingston News Service and various Chambers of Commerce and township supervisors.

Meet on Election Pool

NEW YORK (AP) — Officials of the three major television networks have conferred on a proposal for pooling coverage of the November election returns.

A morning session was held Monday in the offices of the Columbia Broadcasting System and an afternoon session at the National Broadcasting Co. The American Broadcasting Co. also participated.

Later, network representatives conferred with The Associated Press about the possibility of the AP being included in the pool.

No decisions were reached pending further discussions on how the pool would operate, how returns would be gathered and distributed and what the cost would be.

The networks said the discussions were continuing.

Tough Choice for Rocky

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was picking his way through autograph seekers in a hotel lobby when a woman thrust two books at him for his signature.

"That's a pretty tough choice" the governor said Monday as he stared a moment at the books —"Six Crises" by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and "Profiles in Courage" by the late President John F. Kennedy.

Instead of signing the books, the governor scrawled "Rocky" on a department store bag and gave it to the woman. Rockefeller is here for the 56th annual National Governors Conference.

Buckley Redraws Lines

No Specific Targets

MANILA (AP) — A U.S. Air Force spokesman said today that B57 jet bombers and crews are training at Clark Air Base north of Manila for all contingencies but have been given no specific targets.

The spokesman was commenting on a New York Herald Tribune report that a combat force of B57s is training in the Philippines to bomb targets in Communist North Viet Nam.

The newspaper report said about 50 B57s are assigned to the U.S. Air Force's 3rd Bomb Wing, stationed temporarily at Clark.

Chamber to Hear School Problems

Dr. W. Wendell Hoover, superintendent of schools of the Kingston Consolidated School District, on invitation of the Education Committee, will discuss school problems with the board of directors of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting tonight at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

This invitation was extended to Dr. Hoover in line with the Chamber's policy to get first hand information about problems and issues of major public concern. President John F. Schuehler started this new procedure as another aid in developing a still stronger and more effective program of action by Chamber of Commerce committees.

In releasing this information today by Schuehler, he was joined by Donald Briggs, chairman of the Education Committee, in urging a full attendance. The meeting starts promptly at 7:30 p. m. and Dr. Hoover is scheduled to meet with the board or directors at 7:45.

Call to Follow Christ Risky: Graham Aide

HOUGHTON, N. Y. (AP)—The call to follow Christ is a "risky and dangerous involvement," says a special assistant to Evangelist Billy Graham.

Those who follow Christ will find life a "most dangerous assignment" because it is against present trends, W. Stanley Monneyham of Wheaton, Ill., told 206 graduates of Houghton College Monday.

"This goes against the grain of our contemporary philosophy which is one of fear of involvement in any manner, including the work of the church," said Monneyham, who received an honorary doctor of letters degree at the College's 64th commencement.

Says Yemen Uses Yanks

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—American military veterans of the war in South Viet Nam are being employed by the royalist faction in Yemen's civil war to prepare artillery attacks on the republican capital of Sana, the newspaper Al Nahar said today.

The paper said the Americans, whose number was not given, were ex - servicemen recruited by a royalist leader through unofficial sources in the United States.

Capital News In Brief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

The office which promotes civilian marksmanship has centralized a listing of persons who purchase the rifles from the Army and who belong to recognized rifle clubs.

Authorities denied Monday the move came as a result of President John F. Kennedy's assassination by a sniper using a surplus Italian army rifle.

They said the actions stemmed from an increased volume of inquiries about persons and clubs authorized to draw weapons and ammunition from Army stocks for target practice and competition.

ROMANIA: The United States will talk over with its allies its tentative plans for selling two nuclear reactors to Communist Romania, a State Department spokesman said Monday.

State Department press officer Richard I. Phillips said there will be conversations in Paris with the committee of allies which coordinates trade with Communist countries with the general aim of blocking any goods of military importance.

DISTURBANCE: A group of Mississippi Negroes told a panel of educators, lawyers and writers Monday of suffering beatings, shootings and bombings in their state.

The meeting, sponsored by the Council of Federated Organizations which plans a massive Negro voter registration drive in Mississippi this summer, was interrupted briefly.

A white man who identified himself as George Patler, 26, a member of the American Nazi party, leaped on stage, shouting for the Negroes to "go home. You're a bunch of filthy swine." Police arrested him.

Bound for Committees

HARRISBURG (AP) — Two major administration programs, including the giant general appropriations bill, were bound for conference committees today after the House balked at Senate amendments.

The Senate added $2.7 million to the general fund bill, boosting the total to $1.072 billion, some $2 million more than Gov. William W. Scranton had originally requested in his budget for fiscal 1964-65.

The other stalemate came on administration efforts to reform Pennsylvania's land condemnation laws allowing the state to seize private property for public use.

Both measures were passed by the Senate on votes of 49-0.
